Introduction

Collection title: Durham Diocesan Records: diocesan administration

Reference code: GB-0033-DDR/DA

Dates of creation: 1886 to present

Extent: 41 metres

Repository: Durham University Library, Archives and Special Collections

Creator: Records from Diocesan Synod (formerly Diocesan Conference), from the boards that report to it, and from other diocesan organisations (plus from a few predecessor organisations, including the Durham Diocesan Fund).

Contents

Records generated by the Diocesan Conference and its successor, Diocesan Synod, together with those of its major boards and committees. These deal with the everyday administration of diocesan staff, property and initiatives, and are largely serviced by staff based at the Diocesan Office, headed by the Diocesan Secretary (who is secretary to both Diocesan Synod and the Board of Finance).

Excluded are the administrative records generated within the following offices:

the Bishops' Office records are listed in a separate section (DDR/BP);
Diocesan Registry records are in the episcopal administration section (DDR/EA). Note that many functions previously overseen by the Registrar are now dealt with by the Diocesan Secretary and Diocesan Office staff.

Also included within this section are the records of the Board of Education and some other semi-autonomous organisations and societies, which are closely connected with the work of the diocese (and included within its annual report).

Diocesan Administrative structures

Background essays on the administration of the diocese of Durham generally, and on the classes of records covered within this catalogue, are in the separate guide, Administrative Histories for the Durham Diocesan Records.

Accession details

These records have been deposited by or on behalf of various diocesan officials. Some have come from the Diocesan Registrar (probably in her/his capacity as registrar to Conference/Synod), but most from officers based at the Diocesan Office, notably the Diocesan Secretary (as secretary to Diocesan Synod, the Board of Finance and its various sub-committees), the Director of Education, and the secretary to the Diocesan Advisory Committee for the Care of Churches. Other records have been deposited by the relevant diocesan officers (such as the records of the Durham Lesotho LINK), or in some cases by members or chairpersons of committees concerned. Details are noted within the catalogue.

Previous custodial history

Many of these records (those deposited by the Board of Finance and Board of Education) were until 1995 listed as separate collections, called respectively the Durham Diocesan Board of Finance Records (DDBFR) and the Durham Diocesan Board of Education Records (DDBER). These records were subsumed within the Durham Diocesan Records collection in ca.1995, so that they could be listed and publicised alongside closely related records as part of a four-year cataloguing project.

Arrangement

Records from the separate boards, committees and societies have been arranged within separate series, using codes for the main boards and committees established by legislation (Church of England measures). Other committees are listed within DDR/DA/COM, and records from societies or other non-statutory organisations closely associated with the diocese are within DDR/DA/ORG. Publications have been brought together under DDR/DA/PUB, and there are a few records relating to the administration of the Diocesan Office itself in DDR/DA/OFF.

Conditions of access

Items under 30 years old may only be produced if a reader has obtained permission to see them from the depositor (most often the Durham Diocesan Secretary or her/his representative), except for items in the public domain which are made available with no closure period. Longer closure periods apply for certain classes of documents, e.g. personal files are closed for up to 100 years from the date of the latest item in the file. Details are given within this catalogue: unless otherwise stated, a 30 year closure applies.

Copyright and copying

Permission to make any published use of material from the collection must be sought in advance from the Sub-Librarian, Special Collections (e-mail PG.Library@durham.ac.uk) and, where appropriate, from the copyright owner. The Library will assist where possible with identifying copyright owners, but responsibility for ensuring copyright clearance rests with the user of the material

Accruals

Accruals of records from the Diocesan Office are generally only very occasional, with all the most recent material continuing in the custody of the relevant officers (based at Auckland Castle). Deposits are routinely made by the Care of Churches Secretary (of Diocesan Advisory Committee reports under the Inspection of Churches Measure 1955).

National and Provincial bodies

DDR/DA/NAT mid/late 18th century to 1980s

Convocations of York and Canterbury, the National Assembly (1919-1970) and General Synod (from 1970) of the Church of England

Related material in other DUL collections: For correspondence and papers from bishops of Durham in relation to Convocations, the National Assembly, General Synod or House of Bishops, see DDR/BP/EXT/1 within the separate catalogue of Bishop's Office records.

York Convocation, elections of proctors

DDR/DA/NAT/1 1760s-1980s (listed to 1970 only)

Biographical information: Clergy are represented in the Lower House of York Convocation by proctors. From 1970, the Lower Houses of York and Canterbury Convocations combine to form the House of Clergy within General Synod, but elections remain formally as proctors to Convocation.

Up to 1970, election is formally by show of hands at a nomination meeting, with a poll being held only if demanded at that meeting. From 1919, any poll is conducted using the Single Transferable Vote (STV) method of counting.

Related material in other DUL collections: For other records of Dean and Chapter appointments from 1640 to 1900, see the Durham Cathedral Archives under DCD/B/LP19.

Lay Electoral Commission (Castletown St Margaret)

DDR/DA/CON/3 April 1959-January 1961

Correspondence and papers relating to a disputed Annual Meeting and Parochial Church Council (PCC) elections at Castletown in April 1959, which was referred to the Lay Electoral Commission established by Diocesan Conference. Following the Lay Electoral Commission hearing on 12 December 1959, the electoral roll is revised by independent persons from outside the parish (including the rural dean of Houghton-le-Spring, O.N.Gwilliam). An Annual Meeting is held on 28 March 1960, presided over by the archdeacon of Durham (J.O.Cobham). Following this, a poll is held on 6 April 1960 for election of representatives to Diocesan Conference and Ruri-decanal Conference, and of members of the PCC. These elections appear to be won overwhelmingly by 'opponents' of the vicar (P.F.D.Spargo). The disputed elections reflected divisions within the parish in relation to the alleged "Romanist" practices of the vicar, of which the bishop of Durham (Maurice Harland) seems also to have disapproved.

Church quinquennial inspection reports

DDR/DA/DAC/2 1955 to present

Architects' reports arising from inspections of churches under the Inspection of Churches Measure 1955 (commonly known as 'quinquennial inspections'), together with some related correspondence and similar documents, and a few strays from other Diocesan Advisory Committee records such as reports on faculty applications

13 metres

This series is listed in alphabetical order by name of church below, and the documents are given 'Dch' references based on parish numbers allotted by the Diocesan Office. For reasons explained within the background guide, these 'Dch' numbers do not always match the parish numbers which are written on the cover of many of the reports.

Access restrictions: Quinquennial inspection reports are open for public access, and not subject to any closure period (on the advice of the diocesan Care of Churches Secretary). The most recent reports can be found on the diocesan website.

ca.2 metres

DDR/DA/DAC/5/Dch ca.1890-1970s [compiled early/mid 1970s]

Albums of photographs of churches arranged by deanery, most ca.1930s-1960s with some earlier and later items, and including some historical notes, newspaper cuttings, postcards and other prints alongside photographs

Compiled before 1978 (creation of Gateshead West and Sedgefield deaneries).

Originally mounted on [acidic] sheets using photo corners, the sheets being numbered with parish numbers (which form the basis of the "Dch" reference numbers used below). Original sheet mounts have been discarded (except where items were pasted to the sheets), with any information contained on them recorded within the detailed catalogue. Within a particular church building, photographs are usually grouped in the order, exterior views (general), exterior details, interior views (general) and interior details, and are followed by non-photographic items such as parish magazine extracts or typescript notes.

Items 3-12 originally mounted on card with the following inscription (heavily cropped, but most had been copied onto the 1970s mounting sheet), "T. Romans. St Mark's Vicarage. Chester-le-Street became in 882, after the destruction of Lindisfarne the seat of the See of St Cuthbert, and 'till 995 the remains of the famous hermit bishop remained there. The Church, made collegiate in 1286, now consists of chancel, nave with aisles, N chapel, W tower with spire engaged, and occupying the W bay on the N side a two storied anchorage. The N and S walls of the chancel are said to belong to the first stone church built c 1050 to replace an earlier wooden structure - the windows on the S side are clearly insertions; the nave arcades are 13th century; the three E bays earlier than the two W., as shown by the double respond between them. The octagon and spire are said to be of the late 13th century. The church has been much mutilated at various periods and restorations. There is a large collection of pre-Conquest fragments, and a remarkable series of effigies, 14 in all, erected about 1594 by John, Lord Lumley and all carved at that period except two - which were removed from Durham Cathedral under the impression that they represented members of the Lumley family; they are, however members of the family of Fitz Marmaduke, 13th century Lords of Horden. The Tudor series are interesting from the curious armour - it seems to resemble closely the curious armour worn by the English or Scottish Bruces who surround the great cenotaph at Guisborough, Yorks."

- /2-3. external views from south east (drawing and photograph), from Canon F.C. Tymms [Hon Canon from 1946]
- /4-12. external and (mainly) internal views, one dated 1928. Original mounting sheet noted, "An early centre of Northern Christianity for a headstone of the Hartlepool type and other early fragments have been found here; the original nave was long, narrow, lofty of the Escomb type to which a W. tower of the late 10th or early 11th century was added. The piercing of the nave walls and addition of aisles is generally dated 1200, though N. Arcade differs from S. very considerably. Professor A.H. Thompson dates S. Arcade 1200, N. Arcade mid 13th century."

DDR/DA/DAC/5/Dch256b 1939-[?1950s]

Photographs of Grindon St Thomas à Becket (ruins):

/1-20. photographs (some dated 1944, two dated 1939, including view of chancel arch still standing). Original mounting card noted, "The Church which stands among fields about a mile from the nearest village, has been disused for about a century; it is, however of considerable interest from the fact that in a Charter of Bishop Hugh de Puiset of 1182 he says he has 'newly and recently constructed it in honour of Blessed Thomas the Martyr'. Puiset's work was a reconstruction; the earlier Chancel seems to have been retained almost intact, though 18th century reconstruction has obscured the evidence, but the nave is of Puiset's work and is built of good ashlar masonry with details which seem rather advanced for the period in the North - particularly contemporary with the Galilee Chapel at Durham. The building (in private ownership) is fast falling into decay, a small print from a negative in 1939 shows the chancel arch still standing; this has now fallen and the 14th century chapel S. of the Chancel which in 1939 still preserved traceried windows is now ruined down to the level of the window sills." Photographs identified as follows:

DDR/DA/DAC/5/Dch258 1929-[1970s]
Photographs of Norton St Mary the Virgin:

1-23.

Original mounting card noted, "The core of the Church is of pre-Conquest age. N transept, lower part of tower and part of S transept of the early Church survive. When William of St Carileph in 1081 removed the secular clergy from Durham to make room for Benedictines, part of them received prebends in Norton Church, which is said to have been made collegiate at this date. The Chancel (much restored) is mid 13th century, but nave arcades are of Transitional date. It contains a fine monument (c 1325-1330) 'a masterpiece of the Cheyne workshop at York' (l'Anson). The attribution is based on the mark "I ∞" (interpreted John Cheyne) seen just below the point on the shield in No. 6 [Dch258/23]. The arms on the shield are those of Blackiston and must have been carved after 1587. In the absence of colour the original heraldry on the canopy cannot be identified with certainty."

DDR/DA/DAC/5/Dch140 [1950s-1970s]

Photographs of Bishopwearmouth St Michael:

/1-8. exterior views, various sources

/9-12. headstone found and photographed 1933. Original mounting card noted, "(1933) Headstone of possible pre-conquest date. The stone has come to light during the pulling down of the N. wall of the nave of Bishopwearmouth Church (built c.1804). Bishopwearmouth, as opposed to Monkwearmouth on the N. side of the Wear, is the ancient centre on the south side of the river, both have been swallowed up by the growth of the hamlet of Sunderland by the Sea at the mouth of the river. The real interest of the stone lies in the fact that it is the first piece of work to come to light on the Bishopwearmouth side for which one can even suggest a pre-conquest date, the earliest surviving fragment of the old church of Bishopwearmouth appears to belong to the end of the 12th century. This may be attributed to the earlier part of the 11th century. Dimensions: total height at present 28", greatest breadth 14" tapering to 10½" at base, 6¾" thick, but has had almost all the carving hacked from the sides; the lowermost 12" or so has never been carved (set in the ground); the beginning of the curve of a flat rounded top can be detected. Its maximum height may have been 3" or 4" more than its present height."

As well as the plans listed here, some others are in accession Misc.2014/15:14, but are not catalogued and not yet available for use.

The Society of Christ and the Blessed Mary the Virgin (Lightfoot House)
DDR/DA/ORG/2 1891-1962

½ metre

Biographical information: The Society traces its origins to 1887, when a group of women volunteers were licensed in the Durham Castle chapel by Bishop Lightfoot. The women had previously looked after victims of the 1884 smallpox epidemic in Durham City, after Canon George Body provided a band of nursing Sisters to support a smallpox hospital on Gilesgate Moor.

The Society was formally established in 1901 as The Society of Christ and Blessed Mary the Virgin, known also as Durham Diocesan Church Workers. Minor variations in the long title within formal documents are numerous (such as the minutes of its first Chapter meeting on 30 May 1901, printed constitutions and rules, annual reports and the pension fund trust deed), but the name was based on the then dedication of Durham Cathedral (DDR/DA/ORG/2/15 p.11).

The first Head Deaconess was Elizabeth Clarkson, ordained by Bishop Lightfoot in 1894. She was in charge of the Diocesan Mission House in the College, which was the group's first home. After George Body's death in 1911, the house at 19 North Bailey was secured and bought by the trustees of the Canon Body Memorial Fund, and known as Lightfoot House. See lease at UND/F3/C3/A2/74.

Work was initially paid for from the Durham Mission work fund (raised originally by George Body), later by George Body himself, and after his death by the Canon Body Memorial Fund.

The society was dissolved in 1963, and its funds transferred to the Board of Finance to support ongoing women's church work.

Related material in other DUL collections: See also bishop's correspondence file on women's ministry, 1932-1979, at DDR/BP/DIO/10.

St Cuthbert's Retreat House, Gateshead

DDR/DA/ORG/4 1922-1975

The first five minute books listed below are numbered 'vol 2' to 'vol 6'. The first volume of minutes, covering presumably 1921-1928, does not survive.

7 boxes

Biographical information: St Cuthbert's retreat house was founded by Thomas Leech Lomax on Anglo-Catholic principles to provide retreat and quiet space for Church of England clergy (primarily), and for retreats for laypersons. The constitution and statement of founder's wishes is included in the front of each of the main series of minute books listed below, and makes specific reference to the sacrament of Holy Communion and "sacramental confession", and to Romans 7:7-24 (on "conscious sin" and "holiness of heart"). Lomax continues to be closely involved with the running of the retreat house, and effectively owned it outright until his death in October 1948, when it was bequeathed to the Diocesan Board of Finance. For a period, it seems to have been staffed by a deaconess from the Society of the Christ and Blessed Mary the Virgin (Lightfoot House), as at DDR/DA/ORG/2. From 1950 [to 1963] it was partly occupied and run by (women) members of the Company of St Francis (connected with friars of the Society of St Francis). From 1964 it was run by the Community of St Peter, Horbury in Yorkshire. It was located on Sidmouth Road, Chowdene Bank in Low Fell, opened in 1921, and closed 30 June 1975. After closure, Durham shares the Newcastle diocesan retreat house at Shepherds Dene.

Barrington Society and Funds

11 volumes and 3 boxes

Biographical information: The Barrington Society for promoting Religious Education and Christian Piety in the Diocese of Durham was established by the first codicil to Bishop Shute Barrington's will dated 10 December 1825. It provided for the religious education of sons (aged 14 or over) of Durham clergy, and for the building or enlargement of churches and chapels. His will also established charities for the purchase of prayer books and their distribution to the district societies (later to the beneficed clergy) of the diocese, and for the augmentation of poor livings in the diocese.

A Charity Commission scheme of 1 April 1892 varied the terms of the will, and established several named Barrington Funds in Durham and Newcastle dioceses.

Website snapshots

DDR/DA/PUB/1 March 2010 to present

Snapshot mirrors are taken of the diocesan and related websites quarterly. Snapshots are taken periodically (typically quarterly): no regard is had to major diocesan events or church festivals, so they may immediately follow or precede major updates of the websites. However, they are taken sufficiently frequently that all but the most transient data should be captured.

The snapshots are burnt to CD/DVD in such a way that the website should be viewable entirely offline, with any dynamic (script or database driven) pages replaced by static snapshots. A readme.txt file at the root of each CD details the technicalities involved and software options used to generate the snapshots. Some snapshots cross multiple CDs, as outlined within the list and the websites.html file.

As well as the main diocesan website, a number of more or less related or linked sites are also included on the CD. From March 2012, snapshots of core social networking sites (facebook and twitter) are collected as well as the main websites. The details of which websites are mirrored (with dates of all previous downloads) are included in a websites.html file at the root of each CD. Currently, websites of the following organisations are retrieved:

- Diocese of Durham
- Joint Education Team (dioceses of Durham and Newcastle)
- Durham Diocesan Liturgical Committee
- Durham Cathedral
- Durham Cathedral Chorister School, Choir Association and Friends
- North East Religious Resources Centre
- Auckland Castle Trust
- Inspired North East
- Durham-Lesotho LINK
- Northumbria Deaf Mission
- Lindisfarne Regional Training Partnership

Users of the CD are recommended to start with the websites.html file (up to May 2013), or with the index.html file (from August 2013).

Two CDs/DVDs are burnt for each reference listed, one being a secure copy for backup or copying purposes only, and the other being the working copy for use by readers.

DDR/DA/OFF/3/1 October 2009 to December 2012

CD containing emails or abstracts of posts sent to the Diocesan electronic network/forum, for the four years 2009-2012.

The diocese had for some years operated an email list ('forum'), which has not been included within this CD. In October 2009, this was renamed the 'network', and it survived as an email list until ca. April 2011. From November 2009, it ran in parallel with (and was gradually superseded by) a web-based 'forum'. The bulk of the CD therefore consists of notifications of postings to the web forum, including a date, author and subject line, and usually a few lines from the start of the posting itself. The full postings are only available via the diocesan website, and have not been captured (nor are they available on the snapshot mirrors of the diocesan website within DDR/DA/PUB/1).

Parish files

DDR/DA/OFF/5

Correspondence with parishes (chiefly incumbents or churchwardens) in relation to a variety of financial affairs, legal and other queries.

The financial affairs relate particularly to sequestrations and sequestration accounts (during vacancies), but may also include information on payment of the Parish Share, assignment of parochial fees (by an incumbent to the Board of Finance), and sometimes to grants available for clergy or parishes. Some of these files therefore contain correspondence that at other periods is in the separate series of files from the Church Buildings Committee (DDR/DA/COM).

As well as financial issues, some of the correspondence concerns legal enquiries relating to property or other matters.

Access restrictions: These files were kept within the series of parish files outlined under DDR/DA/OFF within the Administrative Histories guide. A draft list of the parish files for search room use (in parish number order) is available with prior notice. Most or all are under 30 years old, and are not available for consultation without permission from the Diocesan Secretary at the Diocesan Office.
