Language of material: English and some Latin

Contents

Manuscript, printed and photographic materials amassed by Hudleston during the course of a varied career. The collection relates chiefly to Northern families and clergy, as well as to the history of the North of England and of Bristol and Gloucestershire, and also includes some original records of Gretna Green marriages. Among the papers are: extensive (chiefly manuscript) notes on and transcripts of an immense range of historical documents from a great variety of record repositories, libraries and private sources, the originals of some of which are no longer extant; photocopies and photographs of many documents and printed sources; some original documents; examples of Hudleston's world-wide correspondence on genealogical and historical topics; biographical indexes; pedigrees; notes, drafts and texts for his writings and lectures; and many printed items, including pamphlets, offprints and press-cuttings.

Some sections of particular interest are: an alphabetical card-index of biographical information relating to the clergy of the Northern Province of the Church of England from the Reformation to the 20th century but especially strong for the 18th and 19th centuries; approximately 600 folders of notes, pedigrees etc. relating to the histories of individual, chiefly northern, families, together with a series of envelopes containing smaller amounts of material on other families and a number of box-files, cartons etc. of material on particularly well-documented families; preparatory material for and drafts of his articles and books, together with the unpublished typescript of a book on Durham families and heraldry (a companion to his published books), and a series of cards containing manuscript entries for a companion volume on Northumberland families, plus a smaller number of cards on the armigerous families of Sussex; a series of original registers and loose sheets recording the irregular marriages which were performed by Robert Elliot and his predecessor(s), including Joseph Paisley, at Springfield, Gretna Green from the late 18th century until about 1839, together with a card-index to the names in the entries which was prepared by Hudleston; a series of volumes containing many of the newspaper articles on the history of Bristol and the surrounding area which were written by Hudleston.

Biography

Roy Hudleston (1905-1992) was born in Stroud in Gloucestershire. He started work as a journalist on the Bristol Times and Mirror in 1923, and in 1932 transferred to the newly-formed Bristol Evening Post. His career in journalism was interrupted by war-time forestry work but in 1945 he was appointed editor of the Penrith Observer. In 1955 he moved to become Bursar of Hatfield College and part-time lecturer in Palaeography in the University of Durham. Although he retired from his college post in 1965 he remained in Durham until 1970 as a full-time lecturer in Palaeography, based in the Department of Palaeography and Diplomatic (now incorporated in Durham University Library Archives and Special Collections department). His retirement was spent first in Ambleside in Cumbria and then in Hove in Sussex. Hudleston was also a distinguished genealogist and historian.

In 1949 he was elected a Fellow of The Society of Antiquaries in recognition of his significant work in the fields of local history and genealogy, his life-long abiding interests. Spurred on by his fascination with the history of his own ancestors, particularly the Hudlestons of Millom Castle and Hutton John, Cumbria, he began writing local history articles at an early age, and some of these appeared in the Stroud News while he was still at school. He subsequently published many articles on Bristol's history in the local press, and was also a regular contributor to the Transactions of the Bristol and Gloucestershire Archaeological Society, of which he later became President.

In Durham he arranged and catalogued substantial groups of the Howard of Naworth Papers and of the Durham Diocesan Records which were deposited with the University, and from 1966 until 1979 he was editor of the publications of the Surtees Society, the chief records-publication society for the North-East of England. He was also a long-standing member of the Cumberland and Westmorland Antiquarian and Archaeological Society, serving as editor of its Transactions from 1956 to 1974 and as its President from 1960 to 1963. He did a great deal of work for that Society's parish-register section, as well as himself writing many articles for its Transactions over the years. Much of his research came to fruition with the publication in 1975 of a book entitled An armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale, prepared with Robert Boumphrey and J. (Fred) Hughes and followed in 1978 by the appearance of a companion volume on Cumberland families and heraldry. He was elected as the first President of the Cumbria Family History Society and only retired as editor of that society's newsletter shortly before his death.

Accession details

These materials were bequeathed to Durham University Library by (Christophe) Roy Hudleston, who died on 8 February 1992. A further donation of material was received on 15 September 1992 from Mrs. Anne Cooper, daughter of Mr. Hudleston. Four printed offprints etc. were donated on 16 October 1997 by Miss Nancy Hudleston, sister of Mr Hudleston, and a further small donation to be added to the collection was received on 11 March 1998 from Mr J.B. Nelson of Illinois, USA.

Arrangement

Many sections of the papers were considerably jumbled on their arrival in Durham and the collection is still being sorted and arranged.

Conditions of access

Open for consultation.

Copyright and copying

Permission to make any published use of material from the collection must be sought in advance from the Sub-Librarian, Special Collections (e-mail PG.Library@durham.ac.uk) and, where appropriate, from the copyright owner. The Library will assist where possible with identifying copyright owners, but responsibility for ensuring copyright clearance rests with the user of the material. Permission to reproduce or publish items or sections of items housed in this collection must also be sought from: Margaret McCollum of Durham University Library, Roger Norris, and Mr. J. Hughes of Kendal, Cumbria, Roy Hudleston's literary executors.

Accruals

None anticipated.

Finding aids

The catalogues to the collection originally comprised (apart from the indexes which form part of the collection): brief manuscript accession lists; manuscript lists of the contents of a few boxes and files; a draft word-processed list of the families covered by the folders of biographical notes mentioned above; and a word-processed summary list of the documents containing the Gretna marriage entries and the dates covered.

Form of citation

The form of citation should use the code GB-0033-HUD, or the collection name Hudleston Papers, followed by the reference number

To order items in the searchroom, use the collection reference code(s), derived by removing the repository code (GB-0033-), followed by the reference number. Citing the section of the finding aid is useful.

Processing

Catalogued in WORD by Margaret McCollum 2015-2019; uploaded to XML by Michael Stansfield 2017 and 2019.

Bibliography

Hudleston's index to the Gretna Green marriage records is currently being edited and expanded for publication by the Northumberland and Durham Family History Society. "Claverhouse", Irregular border marriages (1934) [Readdie, J.A]., "Robert Elliot's Gretna marriage records. Some Northumberland and Durham entries", Northumberland and Durham Family History Society journal, vol. 22 (1997), no. 1, pp.19-20; no. 2, pp. 56-57; no. 3, pp. 96-97; no. 4, pp.127-30. These give details of entries where one or both spouses had a County Durham or Northumberland connection, plus a brief introduction to the records.

HUD 2/1-3

A series of manuscript texts of talks given by CRH, [?probably chiefly for the CWAAS or CFHS]:

HUD 2/1 Undated [?written while or after living in Penrith ca 1944-1955]

Small black ring-binder containing the manuscript text of a talk by CRH on ecclesiastical records and their use for the genealogist. The talk is written on scrap paper and is interspersed with miscellaneous notes, chiefly concerning Chemistry and Botany projects, in unidentified hands.

1 ring-binder, ii + 52pp.

HUD 2/2 Undated and [ca 1970s, 1973 and 1980]

Khaki ring-binder containing the manuscript texts of talks by CRH on the following topics:

ff.1r-7v, The Neville family, including their connection with Penrith, undated [ca 1980];

ff.8r-23v, First steps in genealogy; undated [ca 1970s];

ff.24r-34v, The Barony of Gilsland and its owners before the Howards plus Lanercost Priory given prior to a visit to Lanercost Priory, undated [ca 1973]; ff.35r-50v, Incumbents of Grasmere from the Civil War period until 1684, undated.

1 ring-binder, 50ff.

HUD 2/3 1976 - [1981 or 1987] but mainly undated [probably chiefly 1970s and 1980s] Navy ring-binder chiefly containing the manuscript texts of talks or perhaps articles and related source notes by CRH on a range of genealogical and local history topics, many of them probably for lectures delivered at meetings organised by the CFHS such as those held at Higham Hall Adult Education Residential Centre, Bassenthwaite Lake, Cockermouth, which was then run by Cumbria County Council Education Committee. Most of the material is undated but it was probably mainly created in the 1970s and 1980s. The chief contents of the binder are:

- ff.1-2 (loose), printed leaflet relating to Higham Hall, undated [ca 1970s or 1980s];
 - ff.3-5, duplicated typescript programmes, the first with manuscript annotations, for a course and a conference on family history, both held at Higham Hall in conjunction with the CFHS, 28-30 August 1976 and 27-29 March [1981 or 1987];
 - ff.6-25 (loose), talk by CRH on the use of Chancery records for family history, undated;
 - ff.26-36 (loose), notes by CRH on various Chancery cases dating from 1651-1690 and 1713-1716, undated;
 - ff.37-61 (loose), an amalgamation of introductory talks by CRH on methods and sources for studying family history, undated [ca 1960s and 1970s];
 - ff.63-68 (loose), photocopies of a range of documentary sources, 16th-19th centuries, used to illustrate the above introductory talk on family history;
 - ff.68A-68E (loose), envelope containing five colour transparencies illustrating printed and manuscript pedigrees (Brough, Davison, Dickenson/Dickinson and Whelpdale of Stainmore families), the birth certificate of John Whelpdale of Stainmore, 18 January 1842 and a Stainmore census return, undated;
 - f.69 (loose), printed poster advertising a lecture entitled 'Two Hundred Years Ago' to be given in Kendal Council Chamber under the auspices of the Curwen Archives Trust by CRH on 28 September 1977;
 - ff.70-88 (loose), talk or amalgamation of talks by CRH on the use of the late 18th-newspaper, the Cumberland Pacquet, for researching the period 200 years earlier, undated [1977];
 - ff.89-92 (loose), photocopies of cuttings from the Cumberland Pacquet, 5 January 1775, 8 August 1776 and 1 November 1776, presumably used to illustrate the above talk;
 - ff.93-111 (loose), talk by CRH on heraldry and its relevance to genealogy, undated;
 - ff.112-136, talk by CRH on the use of newspapers, and in particular the Cumberland Pacquet, for historical research, undated [ca 1981];
 - ff.137-161, another version of a talk by CRH on the use of the late 18th-newspaper, the Cumberland Pacquet, for researching the period 200 years earlier, undated [ca 1976-1978];
 - ff.162-183, talk by CRH on 18th and 19th-century Church of England Cumbrian parsons and church life, undated;
 - ff.184-205, talk by CRH on the history of Cumbria, the development of the feudal system, baronies and patterns of landownership in the region, and the history of some of its notable families, including the Hudlestons of Millom, undated;

HUD 4/1-11

The contents of HUD/4 were found in a box-file labelled 'Braithwaite box file'. Some of the material was already in folders etc. labelled by CRH as relating to particular branches of the family but much of it was loose and unsorted. A certain amount of further sorting was carried out by MSM in October 2012. The material is now arranged in eleven folders etc. relating to different branches of the Braithwaite family as far as these can be ascertained. The contents of the folders, most of which are manuscript, have chiefly been arranged in the following groups: correspondence; historical notes and pedigrees; and transcripts and photocopies of and notes concerning documents etc. Occasionally they also include some original documents. Within each grouping the contents have been arranged in chronological order as far as is possible.

HUD 4/1 ca 16th century - 1985 (chiefly photocopies and transcripts)

Braithwaite of Loanthwaite in Hawkshead, Lancashire and Kendal, Westmorland

f.16 8 April 1701

Transcript of copy of letter from William Fleming to his 'Dear Kinsman' [Thomas Braithwaite] concerning the death of the writer's father and the possibility that the writer might be interested in buying Burneside, given time to raise the necessary funds, but noting that although Burneside is 'a pretty place ... it wants a great many conveniencys for living at that Rydall haith in plenty'.
Paper, 1f. (manuscript transcript)

ff.17-20 9 April 1701

Transcript of letter from Tho[mas] Braithwaite (Brathwait) at York to William Fleming Esq. at Rydall by 'Bradford & Westmoreland Bagg', to be left at Kendall Post House, referring to the delay [in the writer's earlier letter reaching Lady Lonsdale], stating that the meeting at Burneside was really to discuss sale particulars with agents such as 'Mr Carlton and Appleby' and that the writer did not really hope to conclude a sale then although he hoped one would go through soon, noting that he was now qualified to sell the estate 'without the concurrence of Captn Francis', stating that he was not under any necessity to sell Burneside except at its full value as 'I can paye all by selling my estate in Yorkshire', stating that Thomas Shepherd of Sizergh (Syzergh), [Kendal], would provide Fleming with full particulars of Burneside either for Fleming himself to consider or for him to pass the information to Lady Lonsdale, and asking Fleming to inform 'your Brother Captain' that Charles Crosland, brother of Lady Vavasour (Vavaseur), whose life was in a lease that concerned [the 'Captain'], had left Hazlewood (Hasslewood) [Castle, Yorkshire] but was very well. Original document has a seal: armorial, Braithwaite Original endorsed: 'Post p[ai]d 2d.' Original endorsed in the hand of [William Fleming]: 'Received April 16 1701 from Cosen Tho. Brathwait about Burnyside.'

ff.21-23 19 May 1701

Transcript of letter from Tho[mas] Braithwaite (Brathwait) in [R]endall Street, York to William Fleming Esqr. at Rydall by 'Bradford Bagg', to be left at Kendall Post House, offering the recipient first refusal of the Burneside estate and the opportunity to pay the purchase price in stipulated instalments over a number of years, mentioning various encumbrances left by the writer's deceased father on the Westmorland estate and a bond given by the writer to the recipient's father Sir Daniel [Fleming] to secure a £100 loan, and asking Fleming to inform 'your Brother Captain' George that 'Cos[en]' Charles Crosland, whose life was in a lease that concerned [the 'Captain'], had never been a 'very healthful man' and George Collingwood, nephew of [?Crosland's] aunt Collingwood, was long dead. Original document has a seal: armorial, Braithwaite Original endorsed in the hand of [William Fleming]: 'Received May 28 1701 from Cosen Thomas Brathwaite about the sale of Burnside etc'

Paper, 3ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.24-27 6 October 1701

Transcript of letter from Tho[mas] Braithwaite (Brathwait) in York to William Fleming Esq.. at the General Excise Office, London, stating that the recipient had not received a reply from Fleming to his letters of April and May 1701, repeating his offer to Fleming concerning the purchase of the whole of the Burneside estate, mentioning that he had recently received an offer for part of the estate and that other possible purchasers had hoped to acquire the estate cheaply, wrongly assuming that Braithwaite was under a necessity of selling to clear the encumbrances left by his father whereas he was currently engaged in selling his Yorkshire estate, which would more than clear the debts so that he could also be 'just and kind' to his son and make very good provision for his daughter, mentioning problems with the bondsmen for his bond to Sir Daniel [Fleming], especially with cos[en] Brougham (Browham), who had wronged and cheated the writer in many ways, seeking a six months' extension to the bond from whichever of Sir Daniel's children inherited it, stating that Thom[as] Shepherd would probably stand surety for him regarding the bond, and noting that on reaching maturity his son had joined with him to break the entail on the estate. Original document has a seal: armorial, Braithwaite Original endorsed in the hand of [William Fleming]: 'Received Dec. 8. 1701 from Cosen Brathwaite from Yorke about selling his estate in Westmorland etc' Original document has postmark: 'D E / 8'

Paper, 4ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.28-29 11 December 1701

Transcript of copy of letter from William Fleming to his 'Dear Kinsman' [Thomas Braithwaite] stating that the writer did not have sufficient funds to purchase the Burneside estate at that stage nor sufficient information to assess its value correctly, mentioning that he planned to visit [Westmorland] after Christmas to 'sesse my general fine' and settle his affairs, after which he would probably look for a wife and if successful 'may then hope to have som[e] money to dispose on', noting with regard to Mr B[rougham] that 'I am not much disapointed', and promising to make enquiries about the bond owing to his late father.

ff.30-31 12 April 1704

Transcript of letter from Lanc[elot] Forth at Kendal, Westmorland to William Fleming at Rydal Hall, Westmorland, referring to the recipient's crossbow, stating that Mr Braithwaite (Braithwaite) was in Kendal and that the writer presumes he has 'sined articles to Mr Dalston to joyne with hime & the trustees to sell all the estate or soe much as will discharge all debts and [legacies]', mentioning that the estates of both Mr Braithwaite and his wife are greatly encumbered although Mr Braithwaite should receive all fines due, describing the relationship between Mr Braithwaite and 'Jacke' Brougham (Broham), and mentioning the illness of the writer's wife. Original endorsed in the hand of [William Fleming]: 'Rec. April 12 1704 from cosen Lanc Forth about Mr Braithwaite his selling his estate etc'

Paper, 2ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.32-33 20 August [1]708

Transcript of letter [and postscript] from Tho[mas] Dalston at Kendal, Westmorland to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, commenting on the recipient's absence from the Appleby Assize, mentioning that Sir H[enry] Fletcher wishes Fleming to rule on a dispute between Fletcher and his tenants of Wythburn, Cumberland, noting that Mr Braithwaite and his family have left Kendal and gone to live at Dent, stating that the manors of Burneside and Staveley would have to be sold speedily and recommending them to Fleming, and noting that the title to Burneside estate is sound, that it would be better for 'some person of quality' to enjoy 'two such fine manors' rather than have them 'sunk in the hands of the tenents [sic]', and that it would be 'hard ever again to meet with such a purchase in this country'. Original document has a seal: armorial, [Dalston] Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec. Aug 21 1708 from Lawyer Dalston about Sir H. F. busyesse and Cosen Braithwaite's Estate with my answer'. [For answer see 30 August 1708 transcript.]

Paper, 2ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.34-36 26 and 27 August 1708

Transcripts of two documents, the second enclosed with the first:

26 August 1708 Letter from John Harrison to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, mentioning Harrison's pleasure on hearing from Fleming's brother, 'the Doctor', that Fleming was considering purchasing the Mr Braithwaite's estate and noting the need for speed in the matter, not only because of Mr Braithwaite's circumstances but also because Mr Shepherd had arranged a meeting 'on Tuesday next' [31 August 1708] at which several of 'the better sort of tenants' might arrange to purchase their freeholds, 'which I think will be your interest (if you purchase) to prevent'. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec. Aug 27. 1708 from Mr. Harrison Recorder of Kendall about the selling Mr. Braithwaite's estate with my answer'.

27 August 1708 Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to John Harrison, recorder of Kendal, regretting Mr Braithwaite's desire to sell the estate speedily, stating that the writer might be interested in purchasing it if ensured of a good title and a 'reasonable pennyworth' but that he needs much more information about its true value, and commenting on the disparity in the rents paid by different tenants so that 'the easy rented must keep up the hard rented or leave them farr behind in value to a purchaser'.

Paper, 3ff. (manuscript transcript)

f.37 27 and 29 August 1708

Transcripts of two documents:

27 August 1708 Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to Mr [Thomas] Benson, asking the latter to send Fleming an exact account as possible of the yearly value of Burneside and to 'get me these queries' [not here] answered as 'privetly' and as soon as he can.

29 August 1708 Letter from Thomas Benson at Kendal to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, stating that Richard Ion, the farmer of Burneside (Burnside) has given an exact answer to all the above queries. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec. Aug. 31 1708 from Mr. Benson with an answer [not here] to some queries about Burnside'.

Paper, 1f. (manuscript transcript)

ff.38-41 30 August 1708

Transcript of a copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to an unnamed recipient [Thomas Dalston] [in answer to Dalston's letter of 20 August 1708, for transcript of which see elsewhere, commenting on the dispute between Sir H[enry] Fletcher and his tenants, stating that Fleming is tempted to try to purchase the Burneside estate if ensured of a good title and a 'reasonable pennyworth' but that he thinks it is very much 'over valued', stating that he had received an earlier valuation of it from Thomas Braithwaite (Brathwaite) but thinks it now a much worse state, the wood for fences and 'fireing' being more destroyed, the houses and fences more out of repair, and above all the tenants being admitted for 'soe very young a life, noting the 'illnesse of the times for raiseing money', noting the strange way of assessing fines on the estate so that their real value is hard to judge and stating his belief that the expectation of receiving good heriots from the tenants is a fallacy, admitting that some parts of the estate would be much more valuable to him than others, stating that he is still not clear as to the liabilities etc. attached to the estate, particularly regarding the widow and her daughter, stating that he should like to see a copy of his cousin's Thomas Braithwaite's will, noting that he will seek better information concerning the estate Thomas Braithwaite 'dyed possessed of', and enclosing [?here] copies of a letter from 'one of those said to be [?impored] to sell' and of Fleming's reply.

Paper, 4ff. (manuscript transcript)

f.42 2 September 2008

Transcript of letter from John Harrison to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, enclosing [not transcribed here] an abstract of Mr Braithwaite (Brathwait)'s title [to the Burneside estate] drawn from the deeds in the writer's possession and a valuation [for original of this abstract and valuation see elsewhere] and offering to send the deeds themselves if necessary, urging speed in making a decision otherwise they will be forced to sell the estate in parcels 'for under the Rose [sub rosa, meaning 'in secret'], tis far o' the day with us', noting that they had postponed the meeting planned for 'Tuesday in hopes you will take the whole att a Lump', and seeking an appointment for Mr. [Richard] Braithwaite 'to wait upon you'. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec. Sep. 2 1708 from Mr. Harryson Recorder of Kendal about Mr. Braithwaite's estate and with a statement of the title and value L.2.'

Paper, 1f. (manuscript transcript)

f.43 2 and 3 September 1708

Transcripts of two documents:

2 September 1708 Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to an unnamed recipient [John Harrison], acknowledging receipt of the latter's letter [of the same date] with its enclosure, stating that the information sent was almost entirely new to Fleming, that the matter required some thought and 'wary steps' and that he would write again 'next Saturday weeke'.

3 September 1708 Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to Mr [Thomas] Benson, acknowledging a letter from the latter including [answers by Richard Ion, the farmer of Burneside, to queries], stating the writer's belief that [Ion] is mistaken in some respects, and asking Benson to arrange for Fleming to meet Richard Ion.

Paper, 1f. (manuscript transcript)

ff.44-45 8 September 1708

Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming 'sent by Bro Fletcher' to 'Lawyer Dalstone', seeking the latter's opinion of an enclosed abstract of Mr Braithwaite (Brathwait)'s title, mentioning that he will defer a decision concerning the purchase of the estate until better informed, stating that it seems that Mr [Richard] Braithwaite (Brathwaite) had power to dispose of all his father's estate, 'paying his father's debts', except the demesnes of Burneside (Burnishead) and Staveley, charged with £100 per annum to Thomas Braithwaite's widow and £1,500 to his daughter, noting that if these are sold 'with or without the other', if a sum sufficient to 'answer' the £100 per annum remains with the purchaser there will not be much room to 'answer the remainder' as they have let them both for many years at £145 per annum and Fleming knows already of at least [£]2148¼ paid out of Burneside and maybe as much out of Staveley, stating that it would have been better if Cowan Head (Coanhead) had been joined with them, asking for details of the late Thomas Braithwaite (Brathway)'s debts and whether the 'old statutes to Gery and Hodges be cleared', and asking whether Dalston thinks Fleming should 'make them a proposal for all, seeing without the demesnes and all or most of the Free rents I shall not meddle with the tenants'. Paper, 2ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.46-49 10 and [?11] September 1708

Transcripts of two documents, the second enclosed with the first:

10 September 1708 Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to Mr [John] Harrison, stating that 'the more I enquire into the customary tenants [of the Burneside estate] the more I find cause to consider them well', stating that one tenant had denied he owed two heriots, noting the necessity to enquire how well the court rolls, rentals and admittances had been kept and administered, and enclosing a set of nine queries, noting those of particular importance to him.

†11 [recte 10] September 1708 Copy of nine queries sent by [Sir William Fleming] to Mr [John] Harrison, recorder of Kendal, concerning Burneside (Burnishead) etc.)

ff.50-61 10 September 1708, with enclosures of 1706 and undated Transcripts of four documents, the last three enclosed with the first:

10 September 1708 Letter from Thomas Dalston at Hornby [Hall, Brougham, Cumberland] to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, acknowledging receipt of two letters from Fleming, expressing pleasure that Fleming is thinking of purchasing all or part of the Braithwaite (Brathwait) estate, stating that he hopes Fleming will offer for the whole estate 'to try the pulse of some persons concerning the demesnes & free rents', stating that he knows of no authority given to 'Mr Recorder' [John Harrison] to sell the estate and that he is an 'interloper upon' Mr Chambers, 'who was formerly employed therein' by Mr Braithwaite (Brathwaite), enclosing a title to the estate (see below) that Dalston had from T[homas] B[raithwaite] in his lifetime that seems to match the one Fleming has, explaining the trust in favour of Thomas Braithwaite's widow and daughter set up by a conveyance of the demesnes to Mr Gill in December 1706, stating that he is unaware of the annual value of the estate but encloses a rental (see below), noting that Mr [Richard] Braithwaite's power to dispose of the estate is 'qualified and defeazanc'd' by a post- 25 and 26 December 1706 deed made by him to T. Shepperd and W[illia]m Jefferson, Dalston's clerk, for payment of Thomas Braithwaite's debts 'therein mentioned', amounting to about £930, 'but the purchaser for his security must have a fine levied from [Richard Braithwaite], his mother and sister and the trustees', stating that the assignment of the statute, costing £4, is in his possession, noting that he does not have a copy of Thomas Braithwaite's will, and enclosing (see below) an estimate of the value of Mr Braithwaite (Brathwaite)'s Westmorland estate 'as it is now rented', a rental of Staveley and an account of Mr Braithwaite (Brathwaite)'s title. Original endorsed in an unspecified hand: 'Received Sep 12 1708 from Lawyer Dalston about Burnishead etc and with some papers relateing to it etc that is no 1 no 2 no 3'

1706 Rental of Mr [Thomas] Braithwaite (Brathwaite)'s estate, relating to Staveley, Cowan Head (Cowenhead) and Burneside (Burnside) and noting that New Hall and Burnesdie (Burnside) Hall are both 'very much out of repaire' and when repaired 'cannot be kept with less than ten pound yearly'. Original annotated: 'no 1'

Undated Rental of Staveley, Burnesdie (Burnside) and Cowan Head (Cowen head). Original annotated: 'no 2'

Undated [ca 1706] Abstract of title to Burneside (Burneshead) and Staveley, covering the period 1602-1706, noting that 'Thomas Braithwaite dies and the Trustees enter 16 May 1706', whereupon two recognizances [dated 1664] to Thomas Gery and Nicholas Sprange and to W[illia]m Hodges were assigned to trustees 'to attend the inheritance of Thomas Braithwaite's estate and protect the same from Incumbrances'. Original annotated: 'no 3' Original endorsed in the hand of [Thomas Dalston]: 'This deed of assignment is in my custody cost £4 Tho[mas] Dalston'.

Paper, 12ff. (manuscript transcript)

ff.62-71 13 September 1708, with enclosures of [ca 13] September 1708

Transcripts of five documents, the last four enclosed with the first:

13 September 1708 Letter from John Harrison, recorder of Kendal, to Sir William Fleming at Rydal, containing answers to the nine queries included with Fleming's letter of 10 September 1708, requesting a meeting with Fleming, noting that the writer would be away for ten days or a fortnight from 'Monday next', stating that the persons organising the sale are Mrs Braithwaite (Brathwait), Mr Shepherd (Shepherd) and John Harrison, and enclosing the four items noted below. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'R[ecieve]d Sep 16. 1708 from Mr Harryson Recorder of Kendall with 4 papers marked 1. 2 2. 3. [sic] in answer of 9 querys sent him Sep. 10. 1708.'

Undated [ca 13] September 1708 'A particular of Mr Brathwaite estate now to be sold, first schedule'. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Received from Mr Harrison Sep 16 1708 no. 1'

†Undated [ca 13] September 1708 'A Rentall of Mr Richard Braithwait's tennants within the mannour of Staveley'. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Staveley Rentall Rec[eived] Sep 16 1708 from Mr Harrison no 2.' [and in the hand of John Harrison] '2d schedule.'

Undated [ca 13] September 1708 'A Rentall of the Mannor of Burneside'. Original endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Burnishead Rentall Rec[eived] Sep 16 1708 from Mr Harrison no 2. 2d schedule. [sic]'

Undated [ca 13] September 1708 Lists of debts owed by Mr [Richard] Braithwaite (Brathwait)'s father that are 'incumbrances on the estate' and of debts owed by the 'present Mr Brathwait', [Richard Braithwaite]. Original annotated in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'An account of the debts upon Mr Brathwait's estate received from Mr Harrison Sep 16 1708. no 3. 3d schedule.'

Paper, 10ff. (manuscript transcript)

Related material in other DUL collections: For transcript of Staveley rental see HUD 4/7, ff.62-71

ff.72-73 28 September 1708

Copy of letter from Sir William Fleming to an unnamed recipient, [probably Thomas Dalston], acknowledging receipt of a letter and enclosures from the recipient, stating that he would make an offer to buy all of the estate that belonged to his cousin Tom Braithwaite (Brathwait) but has reason to believe parts of it have already been sold, that although he still does not have all the information he requires on which to make an offer for the remaining estate he would consider entering one shortly but wishes to see [Dalston] first, noting that John Harrison had been to Cheshire to give or receive instructions from 'Cozen' Richard Braithwaite (Brathwait) but would be returning shortly and Fleming expects to be asked for a proposal before the end of the week, although the likelihood of concluding a bargain is low, 'his [Braithwaite's] debts in Kendall being soe great' that there would be little left for [Braithwaite] from the still unsold lands and rents, and asking [Dalston] to bring certain specified deeds to their meeting.

f.11 Undated [ca 10 September 1708]

List in the hand of [Sir William Fleming] of first a different set of eight queries relating to the purchase of the Burnside (Burniside) estate, concentrating on the farmer of Burnside and on out-payments, encumbrances, tithes etc. levied upon the estate, and secondly a set of six queries relating to Burnside mill or mills.

Paper, 1f.

ff.12-13 8 November 1708

Draft letter from and in the hand of [Sir William Fleming] to 'Lawyer Dalstone', one of his cousin [Richard] Braithwaite (Brathwaite)'s trustees, enclosing [not here] a copy of the proposal sent on 23 October [1708] by the writer to [John Harrison], recorder of Kendal, for purchasing the whole of that part of the estate in Westmorland that his cousin Thomas Braithwaite (Brathwaite) died possessed of and that had not been sold subsequently by Braithwaite's son [Richard], seeking Dalston's opinion as to the whether or not Fleming had offered the market price, outlining the process of negotiations so far and the steps Fleming had taken to ascertain the value of the estate, noting that he had considered the acquisition because of the proximity of the Burnside estate to his own lands, noting that he had thought [John] Harrison (Harryson), recorder of Kendal, favoured his purchase, referring to the [arrest] of Richard Braithwaite (Brathwaite) in Kendal by a London man ca August [1707], noting his disappointment that he was expected to negotiate the purchase with John Harrison, Thomas Shepherd and Thomas Braithwaite's widow rather than with Thomas Dalston and Richard Braithwaite's other trustees, noting that he wishes the trustees had retained more power 'for more reasons than one', noting his concerns as to the title of and encumbrances on the estate, its poor management and state of repair, and the condition of the tenantry, noting that he thinks Thomas Shepherd now opposes Fleming's purchase and wishes to buy the estate himself, perhaps selling part to finance the purchase of the remainder, noting that Fleming has been told that the vendors were annoyed that he had discovered the true condition of the estate and feared that this might damage their prospects, noting that the vendors have been underhand in selling off some of the best customary tenements, and noting that the free rents, the best part of the estate and the assets Fleming particularly wanted, were now likely to be sold to Thomas Shepherd.

Paper, 2ff.

f.14 Undated [1708]

Account in the hand of [Sir William Fleming] of Burnside (Burnishead) and New Hall out-payments, including land tax, 1707-1708.

f.15 Undated [ca 1708?]

Notes and calculations in the hand of [Sir William Fleming] relating to Burnside (Burniside), New Hall, Cowan Head (Counheads) and Staveley demesnes, rents, out-payments, value etc.

Paper, 1f.

ff.16-17 Undated, Saturday [15 December 1708]

Letter from Thomas Dalston to Sir William Fleming at Rydal 'with a Bundle of papers', acknowledging a letter and enclosures received from the latter, mentioning the 'unworthy dealing' that both the trustees and the creditors [of the Burneside estate] are likely to receive from T[homas] S[hepherd] and his pupil [presumably Richard Braithwaite], noting that the writer had wrongly thought [Shepherd's] designs were limited to 'Ladyfei[?ld]' and the remaining free[hold] rents, stating the writer's opinion that Lady Lonsdale would not buy any lands during Lord Lonsdale's minority and 'if Mr Musgrave had any such Though[t] I shou'd certainly have heard of it', recommending that Fleming should deal directly with 'Widow Braithwaite' over the possible purchase of the Burneside and Staveley demesnes, which would provide him with good title and should balk the others, noting that he will instruct Mr Burdett to do nothing further without instructions from Dalston, stating that he thinks no purchaser except T[homas] S[hepherd] would venture to buy part of the estate without first consulting all the trustees and 'having a security from them', noting that Sir H[enry] L[awson] and Dalston only complied with a conditional breach of trust by R[ichard] B[raithwaite] in order to allow him to pay debts, reiterating his wish that Fleming will succeed in purchasing the whole estate, enclosing some papers concerning tenants' services, [not here], left with him by Thomas Braithwaite the day before he died, and noting that the widow has 'a Long Paper-book (like a Shop-book)', in which all rents, fines, hens etc. are set down every year. Seal: red wax applied; armorial, [Dalston] Endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec[eive]d Dec. 19. 1708. from Lawyer Dalstone with some old papers of Cosen Tho. Brathwaites' Paper, 2ff.

f.18 6 April 1709

Letter from Thomas Dalston to Sir William Fleming, asking whether Fleming had received his previous letter with two enclosures, enclosing copies of four deeds as requested, offering every assistance with the unique opportunity for Fleming to purchase an estate so convenient for him, and commenting on the recent excellent weather. Paper, 1f.

ff.19-20 7 April 1709

Letter from Tho[mas] Dalston to 'Daniell Willson', M.P. , enclosing copies [not here] of 'Writings' as requested, asking the recipient to write to his trustees, Tho[mas] Jackson or Anthony Borwick 'to doe me right' and noting that the weather is 'very warme & seasonable'. Seal: red wax applied; armorial, [Dalston] Stamped on dorse with postmark: 'PENRITH AP/11' Endorsed in the hand of [?Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec. Aprill. 11. 1709' Endorsed in an unidentified hand: 'This packquett weiging above two ounces the postage is to be paid' Paper, 2ff. Paper, 2ff.

f.21 3 May 1709

Draft letter from Sir William Fleming to Sir William Robinson at York, expressing regret for missing Robinson in London and on his journey north, noting that, probably to further their own designs, some parties had made a great fuss about his offer for the [Burneside] estate, claiming it was based on an undervaluation, and enclosing a letter [the 3 May 1709 letter to 'Cosen' Braithwaite relating to this affair. Paper, 1f.

f.22 3 May 1709

Draft letter from Sir William Fleming in London to 'Cosen' [Ann] Braithwaite (Brathwaite) at York, expressing regret for missing the recipient on his visit north, explaining the reason behind his valuation of the [Burneside] estate, setting out the background to his offer to purchase the estate, enclosing a copy of his purchase proposal [not here] so that the recipient could judge whether criticisms that it undervalued the estate were justified, noting that some of the most valuable parts of the estate had been made over to Th[omas] Shepherd and that the encumbrances on the estate were great, and recording the writer's impression that there had never been any intention that he should be allowed to buy the estate and he was 'made use of' to draw on others. Perhaps an enclosure with the 3 May 1709 letter to Sir William Robinson.

Paper, 1f.

ff.23-24 11 May 1709

Letter from Ann Braithwaite (Brathwait) to Sir William Fleming at 'the Bell in Warwick' Lane (Lain), London, acknowledging receipt of Fleming's letter, noting that T[homas] S[hepherd], who was to help them sell the [Burneside] estate, recently wrote to say that someone was interested in buying the whole estate but assuring Fleming that he would have first refusal 'if in my power' if he offered the 'reall' value for it, asking what Fleming would bid just for the demesnes of Burneside (Burnesid) and New Hall (Newhall), which were hers and her daughter's, noting Mr [John] Brougham's reluctance to give up the letting of 'what payd his rent' and that Burneside had been let for £100 per annum since she was married, noting that her husband had not loved business but that with good management the estate could bring 'great advantage', and assuring Fleming of a unexceptional gentleman to deal with if he made a realistic offer. Seal: red wax applied; armorial, [Braithwaite] Endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec[eived] May - 13. 1709. from my cosen Brathwaite from Yorke about Burnishead etc.'

Paper, 2ff.

f.25 30 May [1709]

Letter from Ann Braithwaite (Brathwait) at 'Mr Horncassls in Blackstreet', York to Sir William Fleming at Rydal 'by Bradford bag post p[ai]d 2', stating that she favours him as purchaser of the estate, asking him to acquaint himself with its value and either offer for the whole or for the two demesnes of Burneside (Burnesid) and New Hall (Newhall), stating that he would find fair dealing with Sir Harry Lawson, Mr Dalston and 'a feind [friend] of Mine', urging speed in the matter, and noting that the purchaser would find great advantages in the estate which [she and her husband] never did because of ill management. Endorsed in the hand of [Sir William Fleming]: 'Rec[eive]d June 8. 1709. from my Cosen Brathwaite from Yorke about Burnside by the way of Kendall' Endorsed in an unidentified hand: 'p[ai]d 2d at Kendall p[er] [?R]S'

Paper, 1f.

f.26 31 May 1709

Drafts of two letters:

Draft letter from Sir William Fleming to Cosen [Ann] Braithwaite (Brathwaite) at York, repeating his regret at not being able to visit his cousin in York, stating that last November he had been inclined to buy the whole of the Westmorland estate left by the recipient's late husband, in the hope that with good management its encumbrances could be met with money to spare, and that he would also thus have acquired a good title, stating that he no longer knew what to do, given the recent lack of fair dealing and the fact that parts of the estate had been sold and the encumbrances on it were increasing, noting that Mr Shepherd was in London but they had not met, and sending greetings to his 'pretty Cosen Catherine', [daughter of Ann Braithwaite].

Draft letter from Sir William Fleming to Sir William Robinson at Yorke, acknowledging receipt of a letter from the recipient, stating that he wishes to discuss further with him the question of the [Burneside] estate, recording his fear of a lack of fair dealing in those involved with the estate, and referring to a [?marriage].

HUD 6/1-12

Chiefly personal papers of CRH together with some material concerning other branches of the Hudleston, Huddleston and related families, a little material concerning general local and family history enquiries and a few photographs etc. These papers were originally unsorted. They were arranged by subject in twelve folders and, within subject, as far as possible in chronological order by MSM in 2013:

HUD 6/1 ca 1922 - 3 July 1941 and undated

Personal papers of CRH, ca 1922 - 12 November 1942 and undated, arranged in chronological order as far as possible. They include correspondence from and/or references to:

CRH's family, including letters from his parents Guy Hudleston and Edna Hudleston (née Hunt) of Stroud, Gloucestershire and references to his sister Nancy and brothers Maurice and John;

his paternal grandmother, Mrs Nellie Hudleston of Clifton, Bristol, widow of Colonel John Hudleston;

a schoolfriend Mark Edwin Northam Witchell, known as Northam Witchell (died ca 10 March 1928), with whom CRH co-wrote An Account ... of the Family of Clutterbuck (1924);

CRH's early career as a journalist on The Bristol Times and Mirror and later The Bristol Evening Post, including letters from Charles Wells, chief reporter on the paper;

CRH's first marriage (married 8 June 1927), to Winifred Hawkins, who was killed in a road accident on 25 November 1940, their daughter Anne and their home, The Grove, Winterbourne;

the grave of and headstone for Winifred Hudleston (and subsequently also to the second and third wives of CRH) in Kelston churchyard near Bath, Somerset;

his parents-in-law Herbert Walter (Bertie) Hawkins, died 2 July 1941, and Ellen Burchell (Nellie) Hawkins of Downs Edge, Stoke Bishop, Bristol and their other children, Walter Anstey (Boy) Hawkins of Westbury Road, Westbury, later chairman and managing director of The Bristol Evening Post and the Bristol United Press, and Vivien Hawkins, who married Bernard Waldby Duggleby, a friend of CRH;

two letters dated 25 February [19]34 and 9 January [19]35 from Joyce [Hodson], later the third wife of CRH, at The Ratcliff Settlement, [London] E14; and a letter of 29 December [19]29 from Ernest W[alter] Poynton, rector of Kelston near Bath from 1904, enclosing a set of manuscript doggerel verses entitled 'Some Characters and Sidelights in the Kelston Case' concerning 'the Squire' and Celia Drew.

HUD 6/2 20 June [1941] - 17 December 1942 and undated

Personal papers of CRH, 20 June [1941] - 17 December 1942 and undated, arranged in chronological order as far as possible. They include correspondence from and/or references to:

the last illness and death on 2 July 1942 of CRH's father-in-law Herbert Hawkins:

selling the Hawkins family home, Downs Edge, Stoke Bishop, Bristol, and future living arrangements for Herbert Hawkins' widow, Nellie Hawkins;

CRH's sister-in-law Vivien Duggleby and her family;

CRH's second marriage (married 12 July 1941), to Patricia Sealey, who died of meningitis on 1 January 1942, including their war-time work in forestry in Cumberland;

arrangements for the erection of a memorial tablet to [Patricia Hudleston] in Kelston church near Bath, January - June 1942 and for the erection of a memorial headstone to [Winifred Hudleston and Patricia Hudleston] in Kelston churchyard, June - October 1942;

arrangements for the care and education of CRH's daughter Anne;

war-time conditions;

and an offer from Aline Matthews, owner of Down Farm, Winterbourne, to buy The Grove, Winterbourne from CRH or else to rent half the house from him.

1 folder, contents not yet numbered

HUD 6/3 1 December 1942 - 1982 and undated

Personal papers of CRH, 1 December 1942 - 1982 and undated, arranged in chronological order as far as possible. They include correspondence from and/or references to:

CRH's third marriage (married on 9 March 1943 at St Martin-in-the-Fields, London) to Joyce Hodson , including letters from Joyce Hodson's mother, Edith Hodson, and [flat-mate] 'Jo' at 10 Hayes Court, London SE5 and from the Revd Eric S. Loveday , vicar of St Martin-in-the-Fields and a friend of CRH;

a serious stroke suffered by Joyce Hodson's father ca 1 December 1942;

letters from CRH's mother-in-law Nellie Hawkins;

a prize at Torquay Grammar School for Girls established by CRH [in memory of his late wife Patricia Hudleston];

a wireless broadcast made by CRH, no date [but probably ca 1945-1955];

a claim from the Tithe Redemption Commission for tithe payment for 1944-1947 on The Grove, Winterbourne, including a sketch plan showing the location of The Grove, April 1947;

a draft codicil to CRH's will, 1982, later also used for a manuscript Joblin pedigree; and a letter of 12 March 1986 referring to 'the new inscription' [relating to Joyce Hudleston, died 1984] on the memorial in Kelston churchyard.

Related material in other DUL collections: See also HUD 6/12/2

HUD 6/4 26 November [19]28 - 17 May [19]48 and undated [ca 1954]

Series of letters to CRH from his friend and subsequently brother-in-law Bernard Duggleby, 26 November [19]28 - 17 May [19]48 and undated [ca 1953-1954], arranged in chronological order. As well as family matters they deal chiefly with their shared interest in genealogical research, particularly concerning the Duggleby, Hudleston and Huddleston families, and their contributions to Colonel George Huddleston of Northwood, Middlesex's two-volume publication, The Huddlestons. By a Huddleston for the Huddlestons (1928 and 1930) as well as a projected Who's Who of Hudlestons and Huddlestons.

1 folder, 28ff.

Related material in other DUL collections: See also HUD 6/8 and HUD 6/9

HUD 6/5 5 October 1913 - Christmas 1939 and undated

Series of letters from various descendants of the Hudleston of Kelston and Hudleston of Hutton John families or their relatives, arranged as far as possible in chronological order. They chiefly concern Hudleston family news and history. All are addressed to CRH except for one letter of 5 October 1913 sent to John [Hudleston, paternal grandfather of CRH], by his cousin L. Hudleston of Guildford concerning the death of the latter's son Dick [Hudleston].

1 folder, 16 ff.

HUD 6/6 26 May 1933 - 30 July 1940, [ca 1963-1966], 12 December [19]84 and undated

Series of letters to CRH from his cousin Dionys (Di) Hudleston of Hutton John, Penrith, Cumberland, arranged as far as possible in chronological order and chiefly concerning family news but also including reference to the impact of the Second World War.

1 folder, 15 ff.

HUD 6/7 ca 17 February [19]23 - 20 April [1944] and undated
 Series of letters to CRH chiefly from his cousin Nora Eiloart (NE) of Little Zeal, South Bent, Devon, arranged as far as possible in chronological order although many of the letters are undated. One letter, dated 22 May 1930 (at f.26), is from Ronald [Eiloart], the second husband of Nora Eiloart. The letters chiefly concern family history and family matters. Some refer to the writer's daughter by her first husband, the author Sylvia Townsend Warner, including one of 20 April [1944] (at ff.34-37) that mentions how Sylvia was taught at home by her mother with help from her father and how the writer read aloud to Sylvia for years when the latter was young.
 1 folder, 37ff.

HUD 6/7A 26 February [1941] - 28 August [1941]
 Six letters to CRH from Nora Eiloart of Little Zeal, South Bent, Devon, arranged in chronological order and concerning family matters, especially the death of CRH's first wife Winifred Hudleston (née Hawkins) on [25 November 1940] and his marriage to his second wife, [Patricia Sealey], on [12 July 1941]. The letter of 26 February [1941] mentions that the writer's daughter Sylvia [Townsend Warner] and her partner [Valentine] Ackland were driving a mobile canteen round Dorset, which the writer thinks is 'better than messing about with politics'. The letter dated Easter Day [13 April 1941] refers to war damage in Ply[mou]th as well as barbed wire along the coast and 'tank teasers' on the roads.
 Found as strays in HUD 15 and transferred to HUD 6 in October 2014
 1 folder, 12ff.

HUD 6/8 ca 3 July [1927] - 30 October [19]39 and undated
 Series of letters from Colonel George Huddleston of Northwood, Middlesex to CRH, arranged as far as possible in chronological order although many of the letters are undated. The letters chiefly concern the mutual interest of writer and recipient in the history of the Hudleston and Huddleston families and in the collection of materials for Colonel Hudleston's two-volume publication, The Huddlestons. By a Huddleston for the Huddlestons (1928 and 1930) as well as a projected Who's Who of Hudlestons and Huddlestons. Also in the file is a postcard dated 30 October [19]39 from 'H.B.H.' to Colonel G[eorge] Huddleston at 21 Princes Court, Brompton Road, London SW3 concerning Colonel Thomas Huddleston Keyes, Madras Army, and his family.

 See also HUD 6/4 and HUD 6/9

HUD 6/9 10 September [19]22 - 4 January 1948 and undated
 Series of letters to CRH from various members or connections of the Hudleston, Huddleston and Harington families, arranged by correspondent and then as far as possible in chronological order although many of the letters are undated. One letter, dated 22 November 1930 (at ff.32-33), is from Thomas Huddleston of Canada Farm, Moresby near Whitehaven, Cumberland and addressed to a Miss Christian but refers to a recent meeting between [CRH] and the writer's sister. The letters chiefly concern CRH's attempts to construct a pedigree of the Hudleston and related families. They probably also relate to the collection of materials for Colonel Hudleston's two-volume publication, The Huddlestons. By a Huddleston for the Huddlestons (1928 and 1930) as well as a projected Who's Who of Hudlestons and Huddlestons.
 1 folder, 58ff.

HUD 6/10 11 July 1928 - 13 February 1987 and undated

Series of letters to CRH from a range of correspondents on a variety of local and family history topics excluding enquiries relating to the Hudleston and Huddleston families, arranged as far as possible in chronological order although some of the letters are undated. Much of the earlier material apparently arose either from CRH's work as a journalist in Bristol or from his contributions to the Transactions of the BGAS. A letter of 9 November 1939 (at f.16) refers to his having joined the committee of [?this Society] and a letter of 9 April [19]43 (at f.22) regrets his resignation as 'secretary for Bristol' of the Society. A letter of 19 November 1928 from H.M. Wood of Rokers, Shackleford near Godalming, Surrey (at f.2) refers to the writer's work on a forthcoming volume of the Northumberland County History and on a volume of Durham and Northumberland wills for the Surtees Society. A letter of 23 February 1973 (at f.27) is from Bryan [William Cave-Browne-Cave] of Birket Houses, Winster. Windermere, concerning various topics, including: Newby Wilson of Newby Bridge; the 'petticoat men' or remnants of Charles Edward Stuart's army who supposedly rested in the outhouses at Birket Houses when they dispersed after their defeat; and Barber clocks, [which topic the writer was researching for a book].

1 folder, 29ff.

HUD 6/11 24 November 1931 - 26 February 1985 and undated

Series of letters etc. sent to CRH by a range of friends and acquaintances on a variety of personal matters, arranged as far as possible in chronological order although many of the items are undated and some are incomplete. At f.16 is an undated typescript copy of a poem entitled 'Requiem' and at f.17 is an undated manuscript copy of a meditation on death by Canon Scott Holland 'from a book by Katie Boyle'.

HUD 7/1-16 [ca 1263] - 1991 and undated (copies and originals)

The contents of HUD/7 relate primarily to various branches of the Thornburgh (Thornborough, Thornborrow, Thornbrough, Thornburg, Thornburrow, Thornbury) family. For a preliminary overview of the main branches of Thornburghs represented in the collection see for example HUD 7/1, ff.15-16, HUD 7/10, ff.26-37 and HUD 7/11. The material, much of it loose and unsorted, was found in a box-file. It was sorted by MSM in April 2013 and is now organised in sixteen folders etc., arranged in the following order: pedigrees; original documents; transcripts and copies of documents etc.; notes on and copies of other historical sources for the history of the family; a series of letters from Dr Terence Geoffrey Fahy (Terence Fahy or TGF, [died 24 May 1990]) to CRH concerning the writer's projected paper on various branches of the Thornburgh family; several draft versions of papers on various branches of the Thornburgh family by TGF; miscellaneous correspondence, chiefly with American Thornburgh descendants; and photographs of family portraits and of armorials originally enclosed with correspondence. Within each folder the contents have been arranged in subject and/or chronological order as far as is possible:

HUD 7/1 1833 (photocopies), 1951, 1983-1984 and undated [probably chiefly 1980s], covering the 11th - early 20th centuries

Series of original and photocopied manuscript and typescript pedigrees of various branches of the Thornburgh family from the 11th to the early 20th century and relating in particular to the Thornburghs of Selside (Selshead, Selsed), Westmorland and Hampfield (Hampfield) in Cartmel, Lancashire and their American descendants. The compilers of some of the pedigrees are unknown but others are in the hand of CRH. One is by Robert Barnes, July 1983, continued by 'JBS' 18 May [19]84. Also included are photocopies of the printed Thornburgh pedigree from William Berry, County Genealogies. Pedigrees of the Families in the County of Hants; ... (London, 1833) and a letter of 1[?6 or 4] 1951 from Phil[inda] K. Noegle of Phoenix, Arizona, U.S.A. to CRH referring to an enclosed [Thornburgh] pedigree by a Mr Miller [not here?].

1 folder, 21ff. (chiefly manuscript with the odd printed item)

HUD 7/2 [1421] (photocopies), [1439-1440] (photocopies), 1687, 1711-1712, 1738/9-1741

Series of two photocopied documents, one of them printed and the other manuscript, and eighteen original and chiefly manuscript documents as noted below. Most of these relate to various branches of the Thornburgh family. Many of the documents concern the case of Ewen v. Thornburgh and White relating to the disputed will of Elizabeth Poole who died 23 January 1738/9, ca 1739-1741 and undated. This case primarily involved Francis Thornburgh of Selside and Whitwell, Westmorland and Leyburn, Yorkshire ([ca 1693] - 1774) and his wife Katherine (Kitty, Catherine) Thornburgh, née Sudale (Sudell), daughter of Thomas Sudale (Sudell), of Wanlap (Wanless) Park and West Witton, Yorkshire.

HUD 7/5 1326, 1416-1839 and undated (transcripts etc.)

Series of manuscript transcripts, summaries etc. in the hand of CRH, one in Latin, the remainder in English. Most of the items transcribed etc. consist of deeds, marriage settlements etc. and related papers involving members of various branches of the Thornburgh family or their predecessors, including Thornburgh (Thorneburgh, Thorneburghe) of Whitwell, Westmorland and Thornburgh of Selside (Selsit, Selsitt) Hall, Westmorland. The areas covered by the documents include: Leyburn (Layburn), [?Thornaby] (Th[o]rnby) and Walburn in Yorkshire; the manor of Blakiston (Blaxton), [Norton], County Durham; and Whitwell, Skelsmergh, Dodding Green, Whinfell, Grayrigg, and the manor of Fawcett Forest (Forrest) in Westmorland.

f.17 is headed in the hand of CRH 'Thornburgh Documents lent to me by Mr W.P. Hedley [WPH] 1948.' but it is not clear how many of the transcripts are covered by this statement. Also included in the folder (at f.1) is an undated manuscript Thornburgh (Thornborough) pedigree for ca 1326-1465 in the hand of CRH.

At ff.3-4 there are photocopies of a manuscript summary by CRH of TNA STAC 5/K9/39, being answers given to interrogatories, 13 July [1576], by the defendants in a case in Star Chamber: Roger Kirby (Kyrbye) v. John Pickering of Threlkeld and Nicholas Thornburgh (Thornborough), gent., of Clifford Inn, relating to the manor of Santon etc. in Cumberland.

At f.5 there is a photocopy of a manuscript summary by CRH of TNA Req. 2/278/26, being pleadings in the Court of Requests concerning William Thornburgh (Thornboroughe), esq., of Hampsfield (Hampsfell), Lancashire and John Martindale (Martindall), yeoman, of [?Wreay] (Ovaye), Westmorland, 10 February [1598].

HUD 7/9 25 October 1983 - 27 October [1989], 2 March 1991 and undated Series of manuscript and typescript letters, many written on air mail paper, all addressed to CRH and all but one from Dr Terence Geoffrey Fahy (TGF). As far as possible these have been arranged in chronological order but some are undated or incomplete. The letters primarily concern TGF's researches into and planned publications on various branches of the Thornburgh family. Many of them enclosed transcripts of related documents etc. or drafts of articles, some of which are found elsewhere in HUD 7. Some letters also refer to TGF's teaching career at a college near Martin, South Dakota, U.S.A. The final letter, dated 2 March 1991, after the death of TGF [on 24 May 1990], from Cynthia [Ellidge] Snider of 13003 Bellevue Street, Beltsville, Maryland, U/S.A. to CRH, concerns the writer's joint researches with TGF into her Thornburgh ancestors and her queries as to whether CRH has a complete set of TGF's findings on the Thornburghs and whether the CFHS would be publishing any of this material.

HUD 7/10 Undated [ca 1985-1989]

Drafts of texts, chiefly typescript but a few manuscript and mostly written on air mail paper, by Dr Terence Geoffrey Fahy (TGF) for planned publications on various branches of the Thornburgh family, with, at f.5, one sheet of manuscript notes and a pedigree by CRH. Many of the texts bear an original pagination by TGF and some of the sheets were found clipped together. At ff.26-35 is a typescript paper entitled 'Preliminary account of Thornburrow of Whitwell, by T.G. Fahy' (mentioned in HUD 7/9, f.19, 8 June 1987) and at ff.36-37 is a typescript and manuscript draft account of 'Thornburgh of Wilson House, Lancashire and Pow House in Meathop, Westmorland' (also mentioned in HUD 7/9, f.19, 8 June 1987). Most or all of the drafts were probably originally enclosed with one of the series of letters from TGF now in HUD 7/9.

Related material in other DUL collections: See also HUD 7/9

HUD 7/11 28 December 1990

Typescript letter from Bruce Jones (Bruce C. Jones), joint editor of the Transactions of the CWAAS, to CRH, referring to a draft paper on 'The Thornburgh Family. Part 1. The Early Thornburghs 1215-1582' by Dr Terence Geoffrey Fahy (TGF) that was being considered for publication in the Transactions, after authorial revisions and re-typing had been completed, shortly before the author's death [on 24 May 1990]. The writer states that he does not know the current whereabouts of TGF's papers and asks whether CRH would be willing to carry out the alterations etc. as originally proposed. Enclosed with the letter, at ff.1A-27, is a typescript draft of the paper, with manuscript alterations in the hand of CRH, that had been sent to Bruce Jones by CRH.

1 folder, 28ff.

HUD 7/12 28 November 1972 and undated [post 1975]

Two manuscript letters addressed to CRH:

Letter of 28 November 1972 from Annie [M.] Forster of Burradon, Thropton, Morpeth, Northumberland concerning two [Catholic] priests named Robert Johnson, the first who died at Dodding Green in 1799 and was the son of Frances Thornborough and the second whose dates were 1745 - 20 November 1823.

Undated note [post 1975] probably in the hand of [R.S. Boumphrey] concerning a possible error in the Thornburgh entry in R.S. Boumphrey, C. Roy Hudleston and J. Hughes, An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale (1975)

HUD 7/15/7 Undated [probably 1971]

Photocopy of a photograph of the tomb of John Thornburgh, bishop of Worcester, in Worcester Cathedral, including beneath the photograph a typescript explanatory note [by (Robert Grant) Bob Thornburgh], which also refers to the arms on a tomb in Leckford, Hampshire of another John Thornborough 'whose pedigree is lost'.

Paper, 1f.

HUD 7/15/8-9 Undated copies [probably 1971] of 1954 original
 Two photocopies of a [drawing] entitled 'Monument to Bishop Thornborough [in Worcester Cathedral] as it looked when new. It has suffered severely from wilful damage and mutilation ...Elsie Matley Moore . 1954.' A typescript endorsement to f.8 [by (Robert Grant) Bob Thornburgh] states that this 'shows the restoration as the artist felt the tomb should look like before it was mutilated ...' and discusses the heraldry on the tomb.
 Paper, 2ff.

HUD 7/15/10 June [19]77

Colour print of a brass plaque topped with an heraldic shield and inscribed 'Ex dono D. Thornbur[y]. MDCCCLIV [1854]'. An endorsement in the hand of (Robert Grant) Bob Thornburgh reads 'Brass in choir Boston, Lincolnshire I think St Botolph's Church'. Enclosure with HUD 7/13, f.9, 9 July [19]77, which states that the brass, there described as a monument, was on the back of a seat in the choir, and discusses the heraldry on it. Stamped on the back: 'PRINT MADE BY KODAK JUN 77'

Size: 88 x 126mm

HUD 7/15/11 Undated [ca 1971-1980] of original of ca 1971

Colour print of painted 'Armorial Bearings of Thornburgh', including the motto 'Through Thankfulness Taken'. An endorsement in the hand of (Robert Grant) Bob Thornburgh states that the original was painted ca 1971 by Anthony Wood, notes the writer's conviction that the motto referred to the sacrifice of the Mass etc., given that the family became defunct as a landowning family in north-west England because they were unswervingly recusant, asks for suggestions considering the significance of the ermine base of the arms, and ends with the writer's full name and address.

Size: 238 x 160mm

HUD 13 1832-1988 and undated, covering 11th - 20th centuries and undated
The material in this box, chiefly relating to the Brougham family, was sorted by MSM in summer 2014 and is now organised in fifteen folders as described below. Many of the items in HUD 13/1, 13/4, 13/7, 13/10, 13/12 and 13/14 were probably originally enclosed with the correspondence in HUD 13/6 or possibly HUD 13/5 but had become separated from it before coming to Durham University Library.

HUD 13/1 [Post 1978] - [post 1983] and undated, covering 11th-20th centuries
Printed, typescript and manuscript pedigrees of various branches of the Brougham family and of related families, the majority of them created by CRH and PBW but also including three by [PS]. Some items were possibly originally enclosures with the PBW correspondence in HUD 13/6.

1 folder, 31ff. (manuscript, typescript and printed)

HUD 13/2 Undated and [ca 1960]

Manuscript notes on members of the Brougham family in the hand of CRH:

ff.1-7, notes on Henry Brougham of Scales, Cumberland [ca 1638 - 1698] and his marriage and descendants, including Henry Brougham, 1st Baron Brougham and Vaux (1778-1868), undated ff.8-21, text of what appears to be a talk on the Brougham family given by CRH, claiming primarily that the above Henry Brougham of Scales had only one wife, Mary Slee, and that there was no evidence to support the claim that he married Elizabeth Lamplugh as his second wife, undated but possibly [ca 1960]; parts of the text resemble that of CRH's paper, 'The Brougham Family', in Transactions of the CWAAS, new series, vol. lxi, 1961, pp.131-168

HUD 13/5 1 October [19]51 - 14 May [19]86

Folder of manuscript and typescript letters addressed to CRH from a number of different correspondents relating to the recipient's research into the history of various branches of the Brougham family, probably carried out in connection with preparations for the talk and paper mentioned in HUD 13/2. The contents have been arranged in chronological order. Some of the items in HUD 13/1, 13/4, 13/7, 13/12 and 13/14 were probably originally enclosed with the correspondence in HUD 13/6 or possibly HUD 13/5 but had become separated from it before coming to Durham University Library.

1 folder, 40ff. (manuscript and typescript)

Related material in other DUL collections: See also HUD 13/2

HUD 13/6 28 January 1983 - 16 October [19]88 and undated

Folder of letters addressed to CRH, chiefly from PBW but also including two letters, dated 7 May 1985 and 9 May [19]58, from PS, arranged in chronological order and predominantly relating to the research carried out by the two writers into the history of various branches of the Brougham family which culminated in the production of 'A gathering of Broughams' by Peter Wyly and Marjorie [Peggy] Stacey in two volumes (Culcheth, Peter Wyly, privately distributed [1998], revised edn ca 2005). Some of the items in HUD 13/1, 13/4, 13/7, 13/10, 13/12 and 13/14 were probably originally enclosed with the correspondence in HUD 13/6 or possibly HUD 13/5 but had become separated from it before coming to Durham University Library. Enclosures remaining in this folder include (at f.71) notes on James Henri Brougham Spearing alias James Henry Brown Spearing.

1 folder, 83ff. (typescript and manuscript)

HUD 13/7 1954-1986 and undated, covering 13th century - 1986 and undated Folder of Brougham-related references, indexes, notes, pedigrees and transcripts, in a variety of formats but chiefly compiled by CRH and referring to a range of sources, including probate records, family papers, correspondence, deeds, court records (among them Chancery records in TNA), parish registers and transcripts, marriage licence applications, memorial inscriptions, University and clergy records, and printed material, including some newspaper cuttings, although most such cuttings are filed separately in HUD 13/9; location of originals is not always stated. Items with a general coverage are at the beginning of the folder, followed by undated material. The remaining contents of the folder have been arranged in chronological order by event covered as far as can be ascertained. Some of the items were apparently originally enclosures with the PBW correspondence in HUD 13/6 or possibly HUD 13/5. The contents include:

f.125v, printed flyer containing a table of charges for inserting small prepaid advertisements in The Penrith Observer, undated

f.161, photocopy of a printed review by David Holloway of Robert Stewart, Henry Brougham, 1778-1868: his Public Career [published 1985] from an unidentified newspaper or journal, undated

HUD 13/10 Undated and 1953-1982, covering 16th-20th centuries

Folder containing an envelope labelled in manuscript in the hand of CRH 'Brougham - Ireland' followed by the former contents of the envelope. Items with a general coverage are at the beginning of the folder. The remaining contents of the folder have been arranged in chronological order by event covered as far as can be ascertained. They consist of an annotated printed pedigree and a manuscript pedigree in an unidentified hand, together with notes in the hand of CRH from a range of sources plus printed cuttings, some mounted on paper, all presumably relating to the above branch of the Brougham family [from which PBW was descended]. Some of the items were possibly originally enclosures with the PBW correspondence in HUD 13/6.

1 folder, 15ff. (paper and card; manuscript, printed and photocopied printed)

HUD 13/11 1854-1951

Folder containing four Brougham-related original manuscript letters:

1 folder, 7ff. plus two envelopes

ff.1-2 Friday 15 September 1854

Letter from H[enry] B[rougham, 1st Baron Brougham and Vaux (1778-1868)] to Dr R[obert] Elliott at Carlisle, Cumberland enclosing a corrected report [not here] of the writer's speeches on Education 'which were very imperfectly given in the debates', asking the recipient to tell Mr Mounsey that a copy of the report has also been sent to him, and asking whether there is any cholera at Carlisle. Address: Brougham, Westmorland Annotated in ink in the hand of [Robert Elliott]: 'Received on 15th of Sept[embe]r 1854. R: E.' Endorsed in ink in an unidentified hand: 'Received open at the PO Carlisle'

Paper, 2ff. (with Victoria 1d red stamp)

f.3 28 May 1951

Letter from T.D. Shepherd, notary public, of Bleaymire & Shepherd, solicitors, to [CRH], enclosing ff.4-7 below but stating that the writer's grandfather, W[illiam] Shepherd, vicar of Bolton, Westmorland 1834-1880, was not the W[illiam] Shepherd referred to in the enclosures as he did not have the title 'Dr' and, being a Tory, was unlikely to have associated with Brougham. Address: 21 King Street, Penrith, Cumberland

Paper, 1f.

ff.4-5 19 July 1893

Letter from [Henry Charles Brougham, 3rd Baron] Brougham and Vaux to W[illiam] Hudleston (Huddleston) at Hutton John, Penrith, Cumberland concerning an oil painting of 1844 by Cornelius Henderson of Liverpool depicting the late Revd [William] Shepherd and in a 'good gilt frame - 51" x 41" '; the writer would be happy to sell the painting to the recipients's friend Mr Nicholson, although he would find it hard to put a value on it. Address: 36 Chesham Place, [London] SW Enclosure with HUD 13/11, f.3

Paper, 2ff. plus envelope (with Victoria 1d stamp)

ff.6-7 19 August [18]93

Letter from Francis Nicholson to W[illiam] Hudleston at Hutton John, Penrith, Cumberland, stating that, although he is anxious to have the above painting, it has no market value as it is of 'an unknown man by an unknown artist' and that Lord Brougham cannot value it as he has relegated it to a lumber room, suggesting that when the writer is next in the north he might perhaps 'effect some exchange ' with Lord Brougham for the painting, and commiserating on the recipient's recent ill health. Address: 111 Portland Street, Man[cheste]r Enclosure with HUD 13/11, f.3

Paper, 2ff. plus envelope (with Victoria 1d stamp)

HUD 13/12 1985 and undated, covering [1563] - 1918 and undated
 Folder containing mainly photocopies of Brougham-related original material but also including the odd photostat, typescript covering letter etc. The original material copied was chiefly manuscript but a few items were typescript or printed. Most items copied were original documents but some were later transcripts. Most of the copies seem to have been assembled by CRH but some were probably originally enclosures with the PBW correspondence in HUD 13/6. The copies have been arranged as far as possible in chronological order according to the dates of the original material. The items copied include: deeds; bonds; probate documents, chiefly wills, inventories and probate bonds, including Lincolnshire items; parish registers; marriage licence application; census returns; and correspondence, including correspondence from the papers of the Reverend Bernard Brougham of Southampton [ca 1669-1750], son of Henry Brougham of Scales, Cumberland, the Reverend Thomas Brougham, vicar of Kingsey, Buckinghamshire 1739-1783 and of Haddenham, Buckinghamshire, 1749-1783, and Henry Brougham, 1st Baron Brougham and Vaux (1778-1868). The chief areas covered are Westmorland, Cumberland and Northumberland but there are also items from Buckinghamshire, Cornwall, Hampshire, Lincolnshire and Newcastle upon Tyne. The location of the originals is not usually stated but includes: the Borthwick Institute, University of York, Carlisle Cathedral Library, Cumbria Record Office, Newcastle upon Tyne Central Library and University College, London Brougham Papers; and probably also Durham County Record Office, Lincolnshire Archives and TNA. HUD 14 [ca 1875 or later] - 1982 and undated, covering 13th-20th centuries and undated
Box containing two volumes and three folders of miscellaneous printed and manuscript material as noted below. A considerable amount of this consists of notes, sources etc. for Hudleston family history. Other items concern wide-ranging local and family history, much but not all of it with Cumbrian and Westmorland connections.

HUD 14/1 Undated [ca 1875 or later]

One volume, paper-backed and chiefly disbound; binding defective and fragile, with back cover missing. The volume contains many loose pages and some loose inserts. It consists of two sections:

1) Grangerised version, possibly for a future edition, of Henry Manders, Moresby Hall and its Owners (Callander & Dixon, Whitehaven, Cumberland, 1875, 123pp. plus final page [124] containing a notice concerning future publications) or, perhaps less likely, the proof copy. This version contains numerous manuscript ink corrections, additions etc. to the original printed pages, chiefly in the same unidentified hand, and including some illustrations. Some loose inserts, including several facing p.119 of first section of the volume. The volume includes references to the Hudleston (Hodelston, Hoddleston) and Le Fleming families.

2) Almost complete second copy of section 1) of the volume, duplicating many of both the printed and the manuscript entries but missing the title page and pp.1-4, 7-12 and [124] of the printed text and most of the associated manuscript entries.

HUD 14/2 ca 1923-[19]68 and undated, covering ca 13th-20th centuries and undated
One thick hard-backed volume, the contents of which probably originally consisted of a number of a series of separate notebooks and loose sheets which were subsequently bound together. One section contains its own internal, incomplete pagination. Some sheets have been cut out and the volume includes many inserts, most of them loose.

The contents of the volume consist of extensive manuscript notes on and transcripts of a range of sources from a variety of locations for the history of the Hudleston family plus some pedigrees. The notes etc. are in a variety of hands, chiefly unidentified, although the final section and some of the inserts are in the hand of CRH. A document of 1712 is said to have been transcribed by R.J. Hudleston of [Portishead, Somerset], 20 July 1924. Two of the loose inserted letters, 21 July [19]68 and 26 July [19]68, are correspondence of Nigel Ferdinand Hudleston of Hutton John, Penrith, Cumberland (1901-1969). Sampling suggests that most of the notes were made in the 20th or late 19th centuries.

HUD 14/5 1932-1982, with many items dating from the 1970s, and undated

Folder of miscellaneous newspaper cuttings, chiefly originals but one a photocopy, many of them annotated in manuscript, usually with the date. Many of the source newspapers are not identified but named titles include the: Cumberland & Westmorland Herald; Westmorland Gazette; The Herald, [?Penrith]; Penrith Observer [edited by CRH], including a 'Round and About' article of 22 June 1954, the content and style of which suggest it was written by CRH; Stockton Evening Gazette; Bristol Evening Post; Brighton and Hove Gazette; Daily Telegraph; Daily Mail; and Sunday Times. The cuttings chiefly contain family notices or obituaries. Others deal with topics such as local and ecclesiastical history, historical personages, local dignitaries, local artists etc. Many but not all of the subjects have Cumbrian and Westmorland connections. A cutting from the Bristol Evening Post of 24 June 1932 concerns the AGM of the recently founded Bristol Evening Post, with B&W photographs, including three of Herbert W[alter] Hawkins, managing director of the company and father of CRH's first wife Winifred, with reference also to Walter Hawkins, secretary of the company [and son of Herbert Walter Hawkins]. A cutting of 29 June 1970 from an unidentified paper relates to the forthcoming private sale of a modernised 18th-century house in Durham City, [28A Church Street, Durham, home of CRH], asking price £10,000

HUD 15 Undated and ca 1928-1989, covering 14th-20th centuries

Six binders and folders and one loose photostat containing notes etc. relating mainly to the histories of different branches of the Hudleston (various spellings) family and mainly but not entirely to the North of England.

HUD 15/1 Undated, covering ca 1470 - 19th century

Beige cloth-bound binder containing a typescript account by an unidentified compiler of the descendants of William Hudleston of Sawston, Cambridgeshire (died before 1509). The volume includes a number of manuscript annotations, chiefly in the hand of CRH, and an extract concerning Henry Hudleston, M.D. (died Durham, St Oswald 1740) from a printed list of English-speaking students at the University of Leiden (Leyden), page 122. This binder is apparently a stray from a series of similar binders in a later box or boxes.

1 binder (typescript, with manuscript annotations and one printed item)

HUD 15/2 Undated, covering 17th-20th centuries

Black ring-binder containing notes on and transcripts of Hudleston-related material with some pedigrees, all chiefly in the hand of CRH. The main areas covered are Cumberland, Westmorland and Lancashire but there are also references to other areas of England, e.g. Liverpool, London, Shropshire and Yorkshire. The types of material mentioned include census returns, printed directories, newspapers, parish records and probate records, plus the odd memorial inscription. The binder also contains a few loose inserts, some in a different unidentified hand.

1 binder (manuscript, with one typescript item)

HUD 15/3 1928- 1951 and undated, covering 17th-20th centuries

Black ring-binder, identical to that in HUD 15/2, containing notes on and transcripts of Hudleston-related material with some pedigrees, all chiefly in the hand of CRH. Near the end are summaries of the lives of Sir John Walter Huddleston (1815-1890), barrister, judge and MP, and of the Revd William Henry Huddleston (1797-1862), Methodist minister. The main areas covered are Cumberland, Lancashire, Liverpool, the Isle of Man and Ireland but there are also references to Cheshire, London and the USA. The types of material mentioned include printed directories and histories etc., newspapers, probate records, parish records, marriage licence applications, ordination records, deeds, lists of freemen, letters, diaries, court records, Admiralty records and militia lists, plus the odd memorial inscription. The binder also contains a number of loose inserted notes and letters in various hands, including that of CRH

1 binder (manuscript, with a few typescript and printed items)

HUD 15/4 ca 1930-1986 and undated, covering 16th-19th centuries

Red cloth-bound folder with broken spine, the front board labelled in manuscript '1/7' and the back board labelled in manuscript '1/10'. The inside of the front cover is inscribed in manuscript, 'C. Roy Hudleston Laurel Bank Penrith'. The folder contains a miscellaneous collection of loose unbound notes relating chiefly to different branches of the Hudleston (various spellings) family. The notes are predominantly manuscript, mainly in the hand of CRH, but the folder also contains a few typescript and printed items. Roughly the first third of the contents of the folder consists of notes of Hudleston references, chiefly taken from parish registers and register transcripts but also some based on burgess and apprentice records, probate records, death certificates, memorial inscriptions, census returns and miscellaneous historical sources. Also in the folder are a few newspaper cuttings, including one of 27 March 1965 concerning the Cumberland links of T. Dan Smith, 'Mr Newcastle [upon Tyne]'. The notes mainly draw on sources relating to the north of England but also include a few references to Edinburgh, Berkshire, Gloucestershire and Clifton, Bristol. The notes are arranged in approximate alphabetical order by place. The remaining contents of the folder consist of miscellaneous, chiefly Hudleston-related, transcripts from and notes on various sources, chiefly manuscript and in the hand of CRH but also including a few newspaper cuttings. The notes are chiefly based on memorial inscriptions, newspapers (arranged chronologically for each paper) and other printed sources, and probate records. There are also references to court records, correspondence (including mention of the new furnace works at Workington (Werkinton), Cumberland, 1763), marriage licence applications, Chancery, Exchequer and other court proceedings, and deeds, plus some notes of information received from various personal contacts. The transcripts and notes refer mainly to the North of England, including the Isle of Man. Interspersed throughout the folder are a few pedigrees, chiefly in the hand of CRH, and some loose related letters addressed to CRH, including near the end a typescript letter of 14 July [19]45 from M[adeleine] Hope Dodds concerning fisheries in the Tweed.

1 folder (manuscript, with a few typescript and printed items)

HUD 15/5 [19]37-1985 and undated, covering 14th-20th centuries

Red cloth-bound folder with broken spine. The front board is labelled in manuscript '1/7'. The contents of the folder consist predominantly of loose unbound manuscript notes in the hand of CRH relating chiefly to different branches of the Hudleston (various spellings) family and arranged roughly alphabetically according to the first name of the subject. These chiefly record baptisms/births, marriages and deaths but also include some information from other sources. They cover most of the North of England, including the Isle of Man, but also include information relating to other areas of the country, e.g. Berkshire, Essex, Hampshire, Lincolnshire, London, Middlesex, Nottingham and Surrey, and to other countries, e.g. Argentina, Ireland, Jamaica and Scotland. Interspersed throughout the folder are a few pedigrees and heraldic notes, chiefly in the hand of CRH, some pasted-in newspaper cuttings, and some loose manuscript letters addressed to CRH, mainly concerning Hudleston family history. The folder also contains a certified copy of the entry for the marriage at St George the Martyr, Southwark on 27 November 1860 of Robert Bruce Huddleston and Jean Robina Cumming.

1 folder (chiefly manuscript with the odd printed item)

HUD 15/6 ca 1930-1989 and undated, covering 17th-20th centuries

Red cloth-bound spring-binder, containing chiefly loose unbound manuscript pedigrees predominantly in the hand of CRH relating mainly to different branches of the Hudleston (various spellings) and mainly to the North of England. Other contents include: a few transcripts of Hudleston documents, e.g. wills, in the hand of CRH; some pasted-in newspaper cuttings; miscellaneous genealogical Hudleston notes, chiefly manuscript and in various hands, including transcripts by CRH of TNA C6 Collins 83/86A, C10 501/158, C7 Hamilton 169/14 and E112/787/12; and a photocopy of a) a letter of 19 March 1821 from J. Huddleston of Liverpool to an unnamed recipient with b) a copy of a genealogical list from a family bible in the hand of J. Huddleston's late father.

Interspersed throughout the binder are some loose letters, chiefly manuscript, addressed to CRH, mainly concerning Hudleston family history. The binder also includes a B&W photograph of a gravestone in Chingford Mount Cemetery, London with an inscription commemorating George Huddleston, died 31 August 1887, and his son-in-law William Powley, late superintendant of the General Post Office and founder of the Post Office Orphans Home, who died 7 May 1896. HUD 16 Undated and 1931-1991, covering 13th-20th centuries

Thirteen folders, one pamphlet and one exercise book containing chiefly genealogical but also some topographical material, much of it apparently amassed by CRH in his rôle as editor of the CFHS Newsletter. Much but not all of the material relates to the North of England.

HUD 16/1-6 Undated and 1931-1991, covering 13th-20th centuries

Six folders, each containing material relating mainly to the history of one or more branches of a named family. The families concerned are chiefly from the North of England, especially the North-West, but the folders also include material relating to other areas. Much of the material in the folders is manuscript, often but not exclusively in the hand of CRH, but they also contain typescript, printed and photocopied items, the latter from a range of repositories etc., not all of which are named. The sorts of material covered are very miscellaneous but include: correspondence, frequently involving CRH; photocopies and other forms of copies of historical documents, printed sources etc.; notes on and transcripts of historical source material; photographs; newspaper cuttings, sometimes mounted; loose index cards; heraldry; and pedigrees. Much of the material was apparently collected during research for CRH's various publications, e.g. ARMC and its Supplements and ARMW. The families concerned are noted below. See also HUD 106-181, series of similar folders of notes chiefly relating to the histories of particular families.

HUD 17/2 ca 1932-1938 and undated, covering ca 1779-1784

Hardbacked exercise book containing at pp.1-151 manuscript transcripts in the hands of CRH and [Mr Sanigar] of an 'Inrolment' of the proceedings of the commissioners appointed under the 1779 Act for dividing that part of the common or waste ground called Kingswood which was in the parish of Stapleton, Gloucestershire (source: Bristol Central Reference Library B 13381). This transcript was perhaps intended for publication. As well as describing proceedings of the commissioners it includes details of claims to allotments made under the Act, arranged roughly alphabetically by claimant, of objections to claims, of claims allowed and disallowed, and of the creation of the final Inclosure Award and accompanying plan, 29 May [1779] - 16 July 1784.

Following p.152 are various loose, chiefly typescript, items, including:

pp.52A-52C, undated sheet headed 'A brief summary of how the [Inclosure] Act affected Stapleton and the manner in which it was administered. Followed by a typed copy of the Commissioners' M.S. book, index of names and places, their sealed award and other details.'

p.152E, typed sheet including the date ca 1932, headed 'Stapleton Inclosure Act', and containing notes re the location etc. of properties [mentioned in the Award etc.]

pp.152G-152S, undated typescript transcript of the first part of the above-described inrolled proceedings, claims etc., up to and including part of the claim of Nehemiah Bartley, covering 29 May 1779 - 28 September [1779] pp.152U-152CC, undated typescript description of the sealed Stapleton Inclosure Award of 20 April 1781 and accompanying plan, both then housed in Shire Hall, Gloucester, with a typescript 'Index and Rate of the Division and Allotment of the common called Kingswood in ... Stapleton ... settled by the Commissioners in this Award'

p.152EE, postcard postmarked 2[7] June 1938 with a manuscript note from 'ABR' to CRH concerning an omission to be added to the typescript at pp.152U-152CC above

p.152GG, undated typescript note relating to omissions from the photograph of the Stapleton Inclosure plan

1 volume, 302pp. plus loose inserts pp.152A-152HH; pp.153-302 blank (manuscript with a few typescript items)

HUD 17/3 1930-1933, 1939-1946 and undated

Volume in a brown embossed decorated leather cover entitled 'Visitors'. Much of the volume is blank but its contents include:

a) at the front, a few scattered lists of visitors in the hand of CRH, 1930-1933 and undated, including a list of 1930 headed 'Little Mead', [Chapel Green Lane, Redland, Bristol, the home of CRH and his first wife, Winifred Hudleston (née Hawkins), who married on 8 June 1927];

b) at the back, rev., chiefly a series of pasted-in newspapers cuttings, mainly from unidentified sources, 1939-1946 and undated, with some annotations in the hand of CRH. Most of the cuttings relate to the progress and effects of the war with Germany, 1939-1940, and include some political cartoons, but others are of a more miscellaneous nature concerning topics such as genealogy and local history, the discovery of Roman relics near the Portway, [?Roman Way, Stoke Bishop], Bristol, undated, finds at Carlisle Cathedral, 2 June 1945, and the discovery of medieval documents in the York Diocesan Registry, 1946;

c) at the back, rev., interspersed among the newspapers cuttings, undated manuscript copies in the hand of CRH of two poems entitled 'Twilight' and 'Night' written by his second wife, Patricia Hudleston (née Sealey, 1922-1942) when aged thirteen and fourteen [and living in Torquay, Devon], a poem entitled 'The Fair Boy' by Hathor Craven, [a friend of Patricia Sealey], February 1940, and a poem entitled 'Pictures in the Fire' by M. Brown, aged twelve;

d) loose at the front of the volume, typescript copies of several unattributed and chiefly untitled poems, apparently war-related, ca 1939 and undated, and an offprint from an unidentified journal containing a paper by Lord Ponsonby entitled, 'War without end', undated [ca 1939-1940].

1 volume, (manuscript, typescript and printed)

HUD 17/4 1936-1987 and undated, covering 1748-1987 and undated

Camel-coloured bound volume entitled 'INDEX' on the front cover and containing: a) a manuscript index in the hand of CRH to northern, chiefly Cumbrian, names among the 'Archdeaconry of Richmond Wills', 1748-1751; b) a series of newspaper cuttings relating to members of the aristocracy, most of them arranged alphabetically by title. Most of the dated cuttings are from the period 1936-1987 but there is also a related manuscript entry concerning an 1869 event. Many of the cuttings have been pasted in but some are loose. Some are dated in manuscript in the hand of CRH.

1 volume, (manuscript and printed)

HUD 18 [18]56-1997 and undated, covering 12th-20th centuries

Five miscellaneous volumes etc., chiefly concerning the history, pedigrees etc. of the various branches of the Hudleston family of Millom and Hutton John, Cumberland and their descendants but also including material relating to other north-western families and places.

HUD 18/1 Undated and ca 1947-1973, covering 12th-18th centuries and ca 1947-1972 Green cloth-covered binder labelled 'M' [for Millom] and containing detailed pedigrees and histories of the various branches of the families of Hudleston of Huddleston (Hudleston), [Sherburn in Elmet, Yorkshire, descended from Nigel, a 12th-century provost of York], and Hudleston of Millom, Cumberland. Although the bulk of the material is typescript and was possibly started by an unknown author, perhaps Ferdinand Hudleston of Hutton John, Cumberland (1857-1951) or his son Nigel Hudleston of Hutton John (1901-1969), distant cousins of CRH, there are also numerous manuscript annotations, additions, expansions and loose insertions, predominantly in the hand of CRH. A brief summary manuscript partial guide to the different stages of the pedigrees, headed 'Chart Pedigree', is loose at the front of the volume.

Also inserted in the folder are various miscellaneous items, chiefly loose, including: photocopies of the section relating to 'Huddleston' from a paper by Sir Charles Clay on 'Early Yorkshire families' published in the Yorkshire Archaeological Society Record Series, vol. 135 (1973), pp.45-46;

five B&W prints (each 145 x 179mm) showing the south front, west frontage, assembly hall, dining hall and library of Oriel School, Southam Delabere, Cheltenham, Gloucestershire, undated [The Oriel Private School for Girls functioned 1947-1972 in Southam House, Cheltenham, now known as Ellenborough Park];

a B&W print (210 x 155mm) of an undated framed portrait, artist and provenance unknown but with the frame topped by the Hudleston coat of arms, of Bridget Hudleston (1643-1715), daughter of Andrew Hudleston of Hutton John and wife from before 1670/1 of Joseph Hudleston of Millom and of Hunderthwaite, Yorkshire (ca 1636/7- 1700).

1 binder, (paper with the odd card; typescript, manuscript, printed and photocopied with six B&W prints)

HUD 18/2 Undated, 1961 and 1997, covering 16th-20th centuries

Green cloth-covered binder labelled 'H J' [for Hutton John], being a continuation of HUD 18/1 and containing detailed pedigrees and histories of the various branches of the families of Hudleston of Kelston, Somerset and Hudleston of Hutton John, Cumberland. Although the bulk of the material is typescript as in HUD 18/1 there are also numerous manuscript annotations, additions, expansions and loose insertions, predominantly in the hand of CRH. A brief summary manuscript guide to the different stages of the pedigrees, headed 'Chart Pedigree', is loose at the front of the volume. Also loose in the folder before the relevant entry are copies of typescript correspondence of March-April 1997 between Durham University Library and Michael McCartney, a Ph.D. student at The Queen's University of Belfast, who was researching Josiah Andrew Hudleston (1799-1865), a civil servant in the East India Company and keen musician and also brother to Robert Burland Hudleston (1801-1877), great-grandfather of CRH. Also loose in the folder before the relevant entry is a printed card sent to CRH and his wife inviting them to the wedding of Deryck Michael [George] Hudleston, [eldest son of CRH's brother Maurice], and Pauline Rosina Bird, to be held at St Mary's Church, Charlton Kings, Cheltenham on 1 April 1961.

HUD 18/4 Undated [ca 1980s] and 1983, covering 16th-18th centuries

Hard-backed exercise book, labelled in manuscript 'Cal. Compounding' and with a printed label giving CRH's Hove address, and containing manuscript notes and transcripts in the hand of CRH, chiefly relating to items concerning north-western, especially Lancashire, families in The National Archives. The collections covered include: 'Cal[endar] for Compounding'; and (rev.) SP 19, Committee for the Advance of Money; DL 1, Duchy of Lancaster, Court of Duchy Chamber, pleadings; and DL 1, Duchy of Lancaster, court rolls. A few notes (rev.) refer to: the Dalton-in-Furness court rolls among the papers relating to the Lancashire estates of the Duke of Buccleuch in Northamptonshire Record Office; and to West Cumberland entrants to Carlisle Grammar School 1750-1771. Much of the book is blank but there are many loose inserts. Most of these are related manuscript notes in the hand of CRH but they also include the odd typescript item and a photocopy of the Dalton-in-Furness court roll for 1583.

1 volume, (paper with the odd card; manuscript with a few typescript and photocopied items)

HUD 18/5 [18]56-[18]57 and undated

Volume missing its front and back covers and containing two sets of pasted-in cuttings 'Presented to the Kendal Mercury' as noted below:

a) an article by an anonymous author [?Henry Manders] on 'Moresby Hall and its owners in the olden time' in eight instalments, the first dated 22 August [18]5[7], the remainder undated. There are a few manuscript annotations. Also in this section are a printed pedigree of the Fletchers of Moresby Hall and Distington, Cumberland and a printed coat of arms of Fletcher of Moresby.

b) an article by an anonymous author [?Henry Manders] on 'Yanwath Hall, Westmorland, a relic of the "Old Border Day" ' in four instalments, the first dated 5 July [18]56, the remainder undated. There is one manuscript annotation. Pasted in at the start of this section is a B&W ink over pencil sketch of Yanwath Hall by 'S.C.'.

HUD 20/4 1957-1969 and undated

Folder containing correspondence, papers etc. arranged in chronological order relating to 28A Church Street, Durham, which was purchased by CRH from W.J. Jackson in September 1957 for the sum of £1,600.00. The contents include:

- material relating to the purchase itself;
- material relating a loan in the form of a mortgage granted to CRH by Durham City Council in 1957 under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts 1899-1923 for the financing of necessary refurbishment of the property and paid off in 1969; details of work commissioned on the property by CRH and his wife, including correspondence with the architect Donald McIntyre of Cordingley and McIntyre, chartered architects and surveyors of Owengate, Durham;
- references in 1957 to proposed improvements to 'Road A1050' [Church Street, Durham] and to Hallgarth Street, Durham prepared some years earlier under the Durham County Council Development Plan, whereby the properties affected, including 288A Church Street, might eventually, although probably not for a considerable time, be acquired by a public authority and the building line of 28A Church Street might have to be set back;
- a proposed agreement between CRH and William H. Charlton, dentist, of 29 Church Street, Durham regarding the latter's tenancy of rooms at 28A Church Street, 1958-1959;
- reference to informal discussions by the Durham City Council's Planning Committee concerning the suggested extension of the riverside path near St Oswald's church, Durham, that might possibly be incorporated in a future Town Map, 1963;
- schedule of accommodation, layout, area and gross value of 28A, 28B, 30 and 31 Church Street, Durham with a floor plan of 28A Church Street, Durham, issued by the Durham Local Valuation Court, 13 March 1964;
- architect's floor plan of 28A Church Street, Durham, scale 1/8 inch to 1 foot, undated;
- manuscript notes on a meeting relating to [?Hatfield] College finances, undated [ca 1957-1958] (on dorso of rough notes concerning work still to be done [at 28A Church Street], undated).
- 1 folder, (typescript, manuscript, duplicated typescript, printed and photostat)

HUD 20/5 1948 or 1949 - 1986

Folder containing photocopies of an illustrated typescript entitled 'An Informal Autobiography' by [Monica Dionis Hudleston Vincent (née Pease, 1909-1987), daughter of (Joseph) Gerald Pease (1863-1928) and his wife Winifred Amy Pease (née Hudleston, 1873-1943), niece of Eleanor Mary (Nora) Eiloart (née Hudleston, formerly Warner), first cousin of Nora's daughter, the author Sylvia Townsend Warner, and a distant cousin of CRH through their common ancestor, John Hudleston (born 1749)]. The autobiography is divided into fourteen chapters and was written in stages between 1948 or 1949 and 1983, with a postscript dated January 1986 when the author was seventy-six. The autobiography includes references to:

pp.1-2, 36 Downshire Hill, Hampstead, London, where the author lived when young, and B&W photographs of the house; pp.8-12A, Cote Bank House, Westbury-on-Trym, Bristol [subsequently a Roman Catholic convent and now demolished], the home of the author's grandparents, Thomas Pease (1816-1884) and his third wife Susanna Ann Pease (née Fry, 1829-1917), with details of life there ca 1913-1917 and B&W photographs of the house;

pp.12B-19A, Harts House, [Gloucester Road, Almondsbury, Gloucestershire], the home of the writer's paternal aunts Marian Fry (May) Pease (1859 - ca 1954), Rosa Elizabeth Pease (1860-1951) and Anna Dorothea (Dora) Sanger (née Pease, 1865-1955), with details of life there ca 1918-1928 and B&W photographs of the house;

1 folder, 42ff. (manuscript and typescript with one colour print)

HUD 21/10 Undated, covering 16th-18th centuries

Folder labelled 'P.R.O. abstracts' in the hand of CRH and containing manuscript notes, also in the hand of CRH, summarising a miscellaneous range of documents, chiefly but not entirely relating to the North of England and, apart from one item from Manchester Central Library Archives Department, all from collections held by TNA.

1 folder, (paper and card)

HUD 21/11 Undated, covering 16th-early 17th centuries

Folder containing manuscript indexes in the hand of CRH, recording names of individuals, chiefly from northern, especially north-western, families, occurring in the records of the Court of Wards [held in TNA] during the reigns of Henry VIII, Edward VI, Philip and Mary, and Elizabeth I.

1 folder, 13ff.

HUD 21/12 ca 1965-1991 and undated, covering 12th-20th centuries and undated Folder of miscellaneous genealogical and heraldic items chiefly relating to the North of England assembled by CRH, some of them apparently in connection with his own researches, others relating to articles and notes included in the CFHS Newsletter, which CRH edited until 1989, and possibly in other works with which he was editorially involved. The items include: correspondence addressed to CRH on genealogical, heraldic and local history matters; draft articles or sections thereof; fragments of proofs; photocopies of manuscript and printed sources from a range of repositories; a mounted newspaper cutting; lists, transcripts and abstracts of and notes on original sources, including many items in TNA, by CRH and others; miscellaneous genealogical notes; pedigrees; and notes on and sketches relating to heraldry, including that of the Mounsey family, many of them by JPG. Some of the manuscript notes are written on the backs of duplicated typescript papers, generally incomplete sets, relating to the meetings of various committees, e.g. Cumbria County Library and Archives Service, undated and 1976-1978, and Carlisle Diocesan Advisory Committee for the Care of Churches, of which CRH was a member, 18 January 1977 (first page of minutes) and 15 February 1977 (agenda). The contents include references to various branches of the Hudleston (Huddleston) family. Other families mentioned include: Askew (Ascue) of Millom, Cumberland; Brookbank; Lewthwaite; Muncaster; Musgrave; Postlethwaite; Senhouse (Sevenhouse); Slee; and Thornburgh.

Among the contents are:

part of a draft typescript anonymous article re Odard, sheriff of Northumberland, occ ca 1121-1124 and his successors plus two Swinton charters; notes on South Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne clergy 1564-1817; photocopy of a B&W engraving by I.C. Stadler of an undated [painting] by Rob[ert] [?Rufsell or Russell] entitled 'A South East view of the Schoose Farm', presumably the Schoose Farm model farmstead built ca 1800 for John Christian Curwen (1756-1828), agriculturist and politician of Workington Hall, Cumberland (Pastscape website); photocopy of a cutting from The Lawyer of May 1989 relating to the merger of Cumbrian firms Cartmell Mawson & Main and Little & Shepherd to form a seventeen-partner practice specialising in commercial and agricultural work; photocopies, made [ca 1980s-1991] of two old Boutflower clergy index cards in DUL ASC, the dorses of which had been used by CRH when he prepared an index to the DDR consistory court records in ASC (then known as the Department of Palaeography and Diplomatic, University of Durham).

1 folder, (paper and card; manuscript, typescript, photocopied, printed and photocopied printed)

HUD 21/13 1954-1991 and undated, covering 16th-20th centuries and undated Folder containing an envelope of 'Cuttings', chiefly newspaper cuttings relating to family notices, especially deaths, but also including a few miscellaneous manuscript, typescript and printed notes, mainly on genealogical topics.

HUD 22

NUMBER NO LONGER USED

This number was originally assigned to the 'Canon Winder Hall' offprint that is now HUD 39/23.

HUD 23 1970-1987 and undated

Seven folders etc. of material chiefly relating to the production, funding etc. of An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale written by RSB, CRH and FH (1975), together with a little material relating to the volume on Cumberland Families and Heraldry ... by CRH and RSB (1978) and some apparently unpublished supplementary material relating to both volumes.

HUD 23/1-2 1970-1977 and undated

Two folders of material chiefly relating to the production, printing, storage, funding, sales of and royalties arising from the publication of An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale (1975) written by RSB, CRH and FH but also touching on a few personal matters, 1970-1975 and 1976-1977. The material has been arranged in chronological order as far as this can be ascertained. The contents include:

Correspondence and draft and copy correspondence (chiefly addressed to or written by CRH or RSB); agreements; orders; invoices; receipts; accounts; and reviews.

Much of the correspondence relates to assistance with the funding of the publication through loans from: first the Curwen Archives Trust (not taken up), including in HUD 23/1 a copy of the minutes of a meeting of [Cumbria County Council] Arts and Amenities Committee on 22 May 1974 recording the agreement to this loan; and secondly the Lake District Museum Trust (LDMT).

In a copy statement of 3 August [19]74 in HUD 23/1 B.L. Thompson, [a vice-president of the CWAAS], states his opinion that the volume should be published under the sole auspices of the CWAAS, rather than jointly with the LDMT, and also criticises the non-standard format in which volumes 19, An Antiquary on Horseback, and 20, The Building of Hadrian's Wall, in the CWAAS Extra Series were produced. Letter of 18 February 1976 (HUD 23/2) from C.A. Ellwood, treasurer of CWAAS, to CRH, enclosing a cheque for £36.75 from the CWAAS Records Publication Fund for payments from named subscribers [to the Armorial] shown 'in Mr Plint's records' as being in the above fund and adding 'Please let me know if you are likely to want a loan grant or whatever for the Armorial, from us'. MS 4ff. paper of 24 Feb 1976 by CRH (HUD 23/2) setting out the background to the production of the Armorial, giving details of the problems and misunderstandings that had arisen over the funding of the volume, and discussing the question of the distribution of royalties generated from future sales once the loan to the LDMT had been repaid.

Copy of an agreement made between the LDMT, RSB, CRH and FH concerning the distribution of future royalties arising from sales of the Armorial, ca [November] 1976 (HUD 23/2). Article from the Westmorland Gazette of 31 August 1973 in HUD 23/1 containing B&W photographs of RSB and CRH.

A note of 14 October 1975 in HUD 23/1 is written on the dorse of a printed postcard containing a reproduction of a town plan of Oakham, Rutland taken from John Speed's map of Rutland, 1611. The contents of HUD 23/2 are in a printed folder illustrated with sepia photographs of Bristol on the front and back covers that originally contained the 43rd Report and Accounts of The Bristol Evening Post Limited, 1974-1975.

2 folders, (manuscript, typescript, printed and photocopied)

Related material in other DUL collections: See also related material among the working papers of Richard Hall as general secretary of CWAAS (1984 - 2002) held by the Cumbria Archive Service (authority: Adrian Allan, 26 November 2015)

HUD 23/3-4 1975-1976

Two receipt books recording payments received by CRH for copies of An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale (1975) sold between October 1975 - January 1976 and January 1976 - May 1976

2 books, (printed and manuscript)

HUD 23/5 1975

Folder containing a copy typescript of 'An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale * Index of Place-Names' compiled by RSB, Kirby Lonsdale, Westmorland, 1975.
1 folder, i + 52ff. (typescript)

HUD 23/6 Undated, [ca 1983-1987]

Folder containing a draft copy typescript, with manuscript annotations etc. and a few loose manuscript additional notes, entitled 'A Second Supplement to an Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale. Additions and Corrections' by CRH and RSB, undated [ca 1983-1987]. The first supplement to the Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale was published as Cumberland families and Heraldry, and Supplement to An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale by CRH and RSB (1978). This 'Second Supplement' was probably never published. RSB, the author who was the expert in heraldry, died in 1987, and his fellow-author CRH, the genealogy specialist, in 1992.

1 folder, (manuscript and typescript)

HUD 23/7 Undated and 1987

Folder containing a manuscript letter and a few manuscript notes, undated and 1987, relating to Cumberland material assembled by CRH and RSB for their volume on Cumberland Families and Heraldry ... (1978), plus a little supplementary information not included in 'A Supplement to Cumberland Families and Heraldry', Parts I, II, III and IV, which were published in Transactions of the CWAAS, vol. 81 (1981), vol. 82 (1982), vol. 83 (1983) and vol. 84 (1984).

1 folder, 6ff.

HUD 24

NUMBER NO LONGER USED Numbers HUD 24/1-3 were originally assigned to the offprints of 'A Supplement to Cumberland Families and Heraldry' by CRH and RSB, Parts II, III and IV, published in Transactions of the CWAAS, vol.82 (1982), vol.83 (1983) and vol. 84 (1984), that are now in HUD 39 as HUD 39/18-20.

HUD 25 Undated [ca 1982] with loose inserts 1927 (photocopy) – 1990 and undated Eight plastic folders containing an unfoliated draft copy typescript by [RSB and CRH], with manuscript annotations [by the authors], entitled 'Durham Families and Heraldry'. Inserted within the typescript at the relevant entry are a few loose related manuscript and typescript letters and notes on sources etc., chiefly in the hands of RSB and CRH, and a few manuscript and typescript pedigrees, photocopied and printed obituaries and pasted-in printed newspaper cuttings. This material on Durham Families was never formally published but a paginated manuscript illustrated version dated 1982 is in Durham Cathedral Library at ChapterLibREF 929.72 BOU. The loose inserts are from [ca 1979] – 1990 or undated. A manuscript note in the hand of CRH on a Wetherill loose insert in HUD 25/7 suggests that the authors were also preparing a similar volume on Northumberland Families and Heraldry. The typescript is arranged alphabetically by surname and is divided between the folders as noted below:

HUD 25/1-8

1. Abbott - Byron
 2. Cade – Eastcott
 3. Eden – Headlam
 4. Heath – Le Mesurier
 5. Leslie – Morgan
 6. Morland - Say
 7. Sayer – Whitfield. Loose at the front of this folder is a draft copy typescript with manuscript annotations by RSB entitled 'Heraldry in St Mary's Church, Gateshead', undated, [ca 1979], 9ff. This paper records the heraldry displayed in the church prior to a serious fire that occurred there on 18 October 1979. The information is arranged alphabetically by surname and supplements material previously recorded by Robert Surtees and C.H. Hunter Blair.
 8. Whitmore – Zinovieff plus list of abbreviations and sources
- 8 folders, (typescript with the odd manuscript, photocopied and printed entry)

HUD 26 ca 1969-1982 and undated

Black ring-binder housing printed cuttings from the West Sussex Gazette and South of England Advertiser, ca 31 July 1969 – 21 December 1972 and undated. These cuttings consist of a series of illustrated articles on coats of arms of Sussex families by J.F. Huxford, with each cutting relating to a single family. The cuttings are arranged, but were probably not originally published [see, for example, the Catt family entry], in alphabetical order by surname. Many of the cuttings are loose while others, chiefly those at the front of the binder, have been pasted on to sheets of paper. The ring-binder also contains manuscript annotations and additions to some of the entries, plus the odd extra entry, chiefly in the hand of CRH. Some of these annotations etc. have been written on the above-mentioned cuttings or sheets of paper, while others are separate notes. Some of the coats of arms have been coloured [in crayon].

Loose at the back of the binder are: various notes, sketches etc., chiefly manuscript, relating to heraldry, [probably that of Sussex families and institutions]. These include a number of drawings of coats of arms, some of which are coloured and one at least of which is by Daniel Walton. There are also notes, drawings etc. in the hands of CRH and RSB; a cutting of 16 May 1980 from an unidentified newspaper, [perhaps the West Sussex Gazette], containing an article on Findon Place from a series entitled 'Around Historic Sussex'; the printed programme for The University of Sussex Congregation for the Conferment of Degrees ..., 20 July 1982 (32pp), with a coloured depiction of the coat of arms of the University on the front cover and including, at pp.30-32, a list of all the honorary degrees conferred by the University from June 1963, when its first chancellor was installed, until December 1981; printed coloured depictions on card of the coats of arms of Marks & Spencer PLC., 1982, and Tesco Stores (Holdings) PLC, 1982.

1 binder, (paper and card; printed and manuscript)

HUD 27 1982-1983 and undated [ca 1980-1987]

Grey cardboard shoe-box containing:

a) An alphabetical index of mainly Sussex families and heraldry with entries relating to unidentified families filed at the end. A few entries relate to the heraldry of institutions such as churches and schools. Most of the entries are in manuscript, chiefly in the hand of CRH with some entries in the hand of RSB, but they also include the odd typescript entry and a few pasted-in newspaper cuttings and other related printed cuttings. The majority of the entries are on cards but some are on loose sheets of paper.

b) Manuscript notes written on folded sheets of paper in the hand of RSB listing Sussex entries (personal names) in various printed reference works, for example Burke's Landed Gentry. Some of the entries are written on the dorse of a circular duplicated typescript letter of 10 June 1982 from J.B. Morris, assistant establishment officer, University of Lancaster to members of the assistant staff of the University relating to personal sickness certificates or on the dorse of other undated circular duplicated typescript pro-formas etc. from either RSB, establishment officer, or J.B. Morris, assistant establishment officer, relating to the appointment, treatment and documentation of probationary assistant staff of the University of Lancaster.

c) Manuscript notes written on folded sheets of paper in the hand of RSB relating to memorial inscriptions and heraldry in some Sussex churches etc., together with a few photocopied extracts from printed works on a similar theme, e.g. [Fane Lambarde], 'Coats of Arms in Sussex Churches', undated, [published in instalments in Sussex Archaeology, ca 1930s]. 1 box, (card and paper; manuscript with a few duplicated typescript and photocopied printed entries)

HUD 28/3 undated

Copies of 1725-1727 and undated originals

Copies, several items per sheet, chiefly of letters from Henry Curwen of Sella Park (Sellapark), Cumberland written to his steward and gamekeeper, Mr John Frears [in Cumberland] from London, 1725-1727 and undated. A few letters are written from other places, for example Sella Park, Stone, Staffordshire and York. Most of them concern estate business at Sella Park, dealings with tenants in Workington and Harrington, Cumberland, and the coal trade based on Workington, including (on HUD 28/3/2) an undated list of ships 'belonging to' Workington laden with coal for Dublin which details the names of their masters, the number of 'tuns' and the number of men and boys on each vessel and asks that the ships 'may have protections'. One item (on HUD 28/3/9) is a copy of a message from Henry Curwen to his tenants in Workington and Harrington instructing them to pay their rents to his steward. The copies have been numbered in pencil 1-37 and number illegible. Many items have been copied more than once. The source of the originals is not stated but is probably the Cumbria Archive Service.

HUD 28/4 undated

Copies of undated [ca 1754-1761] originals

Copies of a list of names of men from all parts of England from Yorkshire to Cornwall and the south coast, including in most cases their location, details of family and other connections and their occupation, e.g. merchant, barrister, judge, surgeon, where known. The list is undated but refers to Charles Gore, nephew of John Gore, MP for Grimsby [served 1747-1761] and of Thomas Gore, MP for Cricklade [served 1722-1727 and 1754-1768], so presumable dates from ca 1754-1761. The reason for the compilation of the list and the location of the original list are not known.

HUD 29B [1891], 1973 - January 1992 and undated, covering 16th-20th centuries and undated

Fifteen files, volumes etc. chiefly relating to genealogy, heraldry, local history etc., including publications, together with a little personal material. Most of these items were apparently assembled by CRH towards the end of his life.

HUD 29B/1 1983-1988 and undated

Miscellaneous papers originally found in CRH's own copy of An Armorial for Westmorland and Lonsdale (1975) by R.S. Boumphrey, C. Roy Hudleston, & J. Hughes and chiefly referring to armorial families from the North-West of England. They include: obituaries; newspaper cuttings; and notes, sketches and bookplates etc. concerning families and heraldry. Some of the information contained in these items was presumably intended for inclusion in a future supplement to the above volume.

HUD 42/7 1905-1928 and undated [probably chiefly 1920s], covering 8th-19th centuries and undated

Miscellaneous correspondence, notes, transcripts and pedigrees etc. found in a brown-paper parcel labelled in the hand of CRH 'Southam, [Gloucestershire] & De La Bere family':

a) Correspondence etc. of April-July 1906 chiefly addressed to the Revd E.R. Dowdeswell of Pull Court, Tewkesbury, Gloucestershire on historical topics, especially the deeds of Southam, Gloucestershire, apparently then in his possession, together with miscellaneous notes in his hand and manuscript proof copies, also in his hand, of his paper entitled 'Some Ancient Deeds Relating to the Manor of Southam, Near Cheltenham' that appeared in Transactions of the BGAS, vol.28 (1905) and that contained reference to the involvement of the Hudleston (Huddlestone) family of Millom, Cumberland with Southam (Sowtham), Hailes (Hayles), Woodmancote, Sudeley and Winchcombe, Gloucestershire from the late 15th to the 17th century, including a pedigree of the Hudleston (Huddlestone) family of Millom etc., 12th-19th centuries [with gaps], as well as references to and a manuscript pedigree of the De La Bere family of Southam.

b) Undated pencil account in an unknown hand concerning the history of Winchcombe and Sudeley Castle, the lords of Sudeley, and the paintings and furnishings of Sudeley Castle, with sketch plans of some rooms showing the location of the paintings and furnishings etc.

c) Unsorted abstracts and transcripts of the [Southam deeds] in the hand of CRH. Many of these are written on the dorse of copies of a printed pro-forma of 192-, designed to be completed by those running hotels and boarding houses in order to send to the editor of the Clifton Illustrated Chronicle details of visitors to their establishments and to note if any have 'local connections likely to be of social interest'.

d) Three manuscript letters:

letter of 6 July 1927 from [Welbore] St Clair Baddeley , [apparently sent to CRH and referring to the latter's paper on 'Sir John Hudleston, Constable of Sudeley' that appeared in the Transactions of the BGAS, vol.48 (1926)];

letter of 26 January 1928 from William Harcourt-Bath of Plymouth [to CRH] relating to the history of the Harcourt family; letter of 11 February 1928 from J. Baghot De la Bere [to CRH] relating to the links between the writer's family and Southam and the current location of the Southam deeds in Gloucester.

HUD 44 [ca 1727/8], 1850-1851, 1949-2014 and undated, covering 12th-20th centuries and undated

Miscellaneous material relating to the history of various branches of the Salkeld family, predominantly of the North of England. A label on the original box containing these folders notes that in 1981 CRH, then living at Flat 1, no.3 Palmeira Square, Hove, Sussex, lent them to 'J.G. Moore' for copying in connection with the latter's Salkeld studies. Letters of 11 December 1981 and 7 February 1982 in HUD 44/1 indicate that the borrower was J. Grange Moore, then of Abinger Common, Surrey, [author of Salkelds through Seven Centuries (1988)]. HUD 44/3A and B contain two original documents of ca 1727/8 and 1850-1851 but the contents of most of the folders typically include: correspondence, much of it addressed to CRH; lists, copies and transcripts of and notes on related historical sources; and manuscript and typescript pedigrees. Much of the manuscript material is in the hand of CRH. In general the material has not yet been sorted into a coherent order within the folders.

Fifteen folders

HUD 44/1A 1993 with later annotations

Envelope containing a draft preliminary typescript list of the material in HUD 44 made by J.K. Willis, genealogist, [of 4 Grinstead Way, Carrville, Durham DH1 1LZ] in April 1993. HUD 46/2 [1829] copy of 1769 document Manuscript copy, watermarked 1829, of the will of the Revd Curwen Hudleston of Whitehaven, Cumberland, made 20 May 1769, including reference to lands etc. in Yorkshire and Cumberland and to a legacy arising from an estate or plantation in Jamaica left to the testator by his late uncle William Huddleston, with a codicil made 25 July 1769. 1 document, 4ff.

HUD 46/3 [19]67 and undated copies of 17[8]6-1789 and undated originals Folder containing chiefly photocopies of Hudleston letters but also a transcript of one letter: photocopies made 1967 of an undated letter from Dorothy Huddelstone [Dorothy Hudleston (née Fleming, born ca 1607), married Andrew Hudleston of Hutton John, Cumberland (1603-1672) in 1632] to her brother John Fleming concerning bed clothes and fabrics for clothes, with reference to the writer's son Andrew Hudleston [1637-1706] and to her daughters, including 'Jaine' (originals in Kendal Record Office); undated transcript in the hand of CRH of a letter of 31 March 1787 from Andrew Hudleston at Gray's Inn, London [Andrew Hudleston, lawyer, of Hutton John (1734-1821) who married Elizabeth Fleming in 1794] to an unnamed recipient [named Senhouse] concerning a commission from the latter on behalf of Mr Stanley who was seeking information about the Derby peerage, mentioning the writer's ill-health and sending greetings to Mrs Senhouse and Miss Fleming (original among the 'Senhouse MSS', [the papers of the Senhouse family of Netherhall, Maryport in the Cumbria Archives Centre]; photocopy made at an unknown date of a letter of 17 July 17[8]6 from [George Macartney, Earl Macartney (1737-1896), diplomatist and colonial governor] in London to 'Mr Huddelstone' [John Hudleston (1749-1835), great-great grandfather of CRH, who served Macartney as military secretary in India from 1781 to 1785 and later became a director of the East India Company and an M.P.], concerning: a meeting in Macartney's room on 17 September 1783 (which Macartney thought included Hudleston and Sir George Staunton [Sir George Leonard Staunton, 1st Baronet (1737-1801), an employee of the East India Company and a botanist]), when Sir John Burgoyne [Sir John Burgoyne, 7th Baronet (1739-1785), English general, married Charlotte, daughter of General James Johnstone of Overstone, Northamptonshire] declined the command of the army and allegedly told Macartney that General Stuart had advised him to feign compliance with the government's wishes, a claim subsequently denied by Stuart and Burgoyne; the alleged poor character of 'Mr Johnston', brother-in-law of 'the Baronet' [Sir John Burgoyne]; [Macartney's] statement that his 'wound is in a fair way of healing' [Stuart and Macartney fought a duel on 8 June 1786: Sir John Barrow, Some account of the Public Life ... of the Earl of Macartney (2 vols., 1807), p.604]; concern over Davidson's 'figure' on his examination at 'the court martial' [Alexander Davidson (ca 1742-1791), East India Company servant, Madras 1760-1791, member of Madras Council 1782-1787, acting governor of Madras 1785-86]; 'the likelihood of a revolution in the opinion of leading People here' [regarding 'India politics'] 'which may be productive of much good'; and advice to Hudleston to remain in India, if his health permits, until he has 'acquired a competence at least adequate to your moderate desires' (original in the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland); photocopies made at an unknown date of seven letters dated between 17 July 1787 and 10 October 1789 from [J]. Hudleston at a number of different addresses in London and the south of England [John Hudleston (1749-1835), great-great grandfather of CRH] to Lord Macartney concerning: the writer's health and recent return to England from India in July 1787; the state of affairs in India and death in 1787 of the Rajah of Tanjore [Thanjavur] and negotiations with Tippoo [Tipu (Tippoo) Sahib or Sultan (1750-1799), ruler of Mysore, India]; correspondence between Lord Macartney and General Stuart concerning the meeting in Macartney's room on 17 September 1783 when Sir John Burgoyne declined the command of the army and Hudleston's statement that he did not remember ever hearing Burgoyne telling Macartney that General Stuart had advised him to feign compliance with the government's wishes, although Hudleston acknowledges that he was not present at all meetings; the delay until 1785 of Hudleston's reappointment as Resident of Tanjore and the cut in the emoluments of the post; a request in November 178[7] for Macartney to support Hudleston's 'memorial' to the Court of Directors of the East India Company seeking financial compensation for his service in India; a memorial of ca October 1788 to the Court of Directors from [Eyles] Irwin [(1751-1817), Irish poet and writer and supervisor of the East India Company's affairs in China]; Hudleston's marriage on 23 November 1788 to Miss [Honorina] Marshall, daughter of the rector of Fahan near Londonderry and their move to their first marital home at Newhouse near Downton, Wiltshire, which was leased; Hudleston's willingness to return to India in Macartney's service should the latter go back there; Hudleston's stipulations concerning the only post that would tempt him back to India, that of '2d in Council with an exclusive commission to settle the affairs of the 'Tanjoar [Tanjore, Thanjavur] Country', & authority to execute my own measures for their retrieval'; Macartney's promise in 1789, at Hudleston's request, to give Hudleston a portrait of Macartney for Hudleston's house; Hudleston's temporary residence in a 'cottage' in Datchet, Berkshire in October 1789 and the previous couple of months while he sought a new residence, possibly to purchase, perhaps in the area of Windsor, having failed to agree acceptable terms of rent for the Wiltshire house; Hudleston's reference in October 1789 to having hunted twice with 'the King's hounds' and hope to be presented [to King George III] in the course of the winter; Hudleston's request on 10 October 1789 that Macartney would be one of the 'sponsors' for his [first] son, [John Burland Hudleston (8 October 1789 – 1823)]; and Hudleston's commendation in October 1789 of 'Mr [Robert] Maunsell's' service as a member of the Madras Board during the last year of Sir A[rchibald] Campbell's administration [Major-General Sir Archibald Campbell (1739-1791, appointed governor of Jamaica 1782, governor of Madras, India 1786-1790)] (originals in the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland).

Print from the Gentleman's Magazine, November 1824, pl[ate] I, p.393 showing Southam House, Gloucestershire [now the Ellenborough Park Hotel, Cheltenham]. [Thomas Goodman, the Crown's lessee of Southam manor, also had a freehold estate in Southam in the late 15th century. He is thought to have begun building Southam House ca 1500 but the house was completed by Sir John Hudleston (1488 or 1489 - 12 January 1547/8), who is usually said to have been its builder. Either Hudleston or his father, Sir John Hudleston of Millom, Cumberland (ca 1440 – ca 1512 or 1513), sheriff of Gloucestershire 1482 and 1499 and constable of Sudeley Castle, Gloucestershire 1505/6, bought Goodman's estate, which descended through a Hudleston daughter to Richard Delabere (de la Bere, ca 1559-25 February 1636/7), barrister and M.P., grandson of the second Sir John Hudleston above, who in 1609 bought Southam manor. Southam House afterwards descended with the manor, and was the residence of the Delaberes (de la Beres) and of Lord Ellenborough. British History Online.]

Envelope containing four letters of 27 November 1936 – 22 August 1938 from Father R.W. Willson, O.S.B., at The Priory, Workington, Cumberland to F[erdinand] Hudleston at Hutton John, Penrith, Cumberland and two draft letters of 14 July [19]37 from [Ferdinand Hudleston] to Father Willson and to the latter's sister, Miss Willson. The letters concern: an obituary in the Downside Review [not here] of [Gilbert Roger Hudleston (1874-1936), brother of Ferdinand Hudleston, who had become a Benedictine monk at Downside Abbey, where he was known as Father Roger]; the writer's memories of Father Roger; a proposed visit to Hutton John by, among others, Father Hilary, who had been Father Roger's novice master at Belmont, Herefordshire and was in 1938 stationed at Warwick Bridge, Cumberland and was chaplain to Mrs Howard of Corby; Hudleston references in Dom [Henry Norbert] Birt's Obit Book of the English Benedictines from 1600 to 1912; the current abbot of Downside's pending operation; and letters at Ampleforth Abbey, Yorkshire relating to the abbey's purchase (through Father Prest) of the portrait held there of Father John Hudleston (Huddlestone) [(1608-1608) who helped King Charles II during his escape from England following his defeat at the Battle of Worcester in 1651]. Also in the envelope, enclosed with the letter of 27 November 1936, is HUD 46/12, a 36pp. printed pamphlet by C.A. Copy typescript account by James Forbes, O.S.B. of a series of copies of letters in the strong-room at Ampleforth relating to the purchase by Ampleforth through Father Prest in 1889 of 'The Hudleston Portrait' [of Father John Hudleston] from 'Mr Vincent Hudleston Chaloner', who claimed without proof that it was an original portrait by Sir Peter Lely. The portrait was also claimed to have descended through the seller's grandmother, Mrs Peter Chaloner, who was said to be a granddaughter of Dorothy Hudleston (Hudleston), the only child and heiress of Andrew Hudleston (Hudleston) of Hutton John and his wife Elizabeth (née 'Godson' [sic]). The writer says that the Ampleforth portrait appears similar to the portraits of Father John held at Hutton John, reproduced in Country Life 'a few years ago', and Sawston Hall. According to the Dictionary of National Biography a third portrait of Father John was 'formerly in the possession of Mrs Cust at Carlisle' according to Pennant, Tour into Scotland ... (1774), p.60, and this could perhaps be the portrait now at Ampleforth. James Forbes assumes that the portrait at Hutton John was the original by 'Housman' [Jacob Huysmans (ca 1633 – ca 1696)], the court painter to Catherine of Braganza (Braganze), wife of King Charles II, but says the Ampleforth painting is of high quality and might be a contemporary copy by the same artist. Letter from Nora Eiloart (NE) at Little Zeal, South Brent, Devon to CRH concerning: her own failed attempts to obtain a photograph of the Stopford Sackville portrait of Father John Hudleston; the possibility of tracing information on Mrs Cust of Carlisle [see HUD 46/4/18], the writer's memory of seeing a reproduction of a portrait [perhaps the Stopford Sackville version?] of Father John with his right hand raised in an awkward position and signs that a crucifix had been painted over; the difference between a replica of a picture created by the original artist and a copy by someone else which always tends to exaggerate weaknesses; a portrait of Cyril Martindale [Cyril Charlie Martindale (1879–1963), Jesuit and scholar, DNB, son of Sir Arthur Martindale and stepson of Clara Martindale (née Hudleston), a daughter of William Hudleston (1826-1894) who inherited Hutton John in 1861] by Simon Elwes [Simon Vincent Edmund Paul Elwes (1902–1975), portrait painter, DNB] and the writer's opinion of Martindale's character; the writer's gratitude at being asked to be godmother to CRH's daughter [born 5 August 1928], although she is neither religious nor rich and 'a godmother should be one or the other, preferably both'; other family matters; and the writer's confession that she had subdued her own volatility when she discovered how highly strung her [first husband] George [Townsend Warner] was as they 'couldn't both of us feel everything so desperately'.

Letter from Nigel [Hudleston (1901-1969)] at Hutton John, Dacre, Penrith, Cumberland to CRH concerning: the Gertrude Smith Trust; the destruction of the papers of Evans Barraclough [& Co. of Orme Court, Bayswater, London, solicitors] during [World War 2]; permission for Edward Hughes [of Durham University] to quote from the letter book of Wilfrid Hudleston [of Hutton John (1673-1728)], with appropriate acknowledgment, [presumably in his North Country Life in the Eighteenth Century Volume II Cumberland & Westmorland 1700-1830 (1965)]; an account-book in the possession of Nigel Hudleston at Hutton John starting in 1673 and used by Wilfrid Hudleston 1697-1715; the purchase 'a few years ago' by a Mrs Maghrabi, 'landlady to the Cowgills in Devonshire', and her sisters from Sylvia Townsend Warner of Little Zeal (Zeals), Devonshire, formerly the home of NE (died 1950), mother of Sylvia Townsend Warner, where they found much 'Junk' left behind by Sylvia Townsend Warner who 'seems to have had no interest whatsoever in the place'; items from Little Zeal which the new owners, 'encouraged by Mrs Cowgill', had sent to Nigel Hudleston, including NE's notebook on family matters, 1935, a copy of a proclamation concerning papists 'except John Hudleston' temp. King Charles II, and a photograph of an 'excellent' portrait of Father John Hudleston, including the Hudleston coat of arms, crest and motto, said by NE to have been made about 1650 and to be in the possession [ca 1935?] of the Whitgreave family [of Moseley Old Hall, Staffordshire, one of the resting places of Charles II during his escape to France following defeat at the Battle of Worcester in 1651]; and family matters.

Letter from T.F. T[eversham] at 18 Hillside, Sawston, Cambridgeshire to CRH relating to the writer's discovery of two letters, dated respectively 1 November 1796 and 1799, written by Andrew Hudleston (Huddleston) of Hutton John, Cumberland (1734-1821) to Ferdinand H[udleston] at Sawston and including a transcript of the first, which concerned Andrew Hudleston's gift to Ferdinand Hudleston of 'a Picture of a Benedictine Monk of our House', a 'very good Man and loyal' [Father John Hudleston], asking Ferdinand to 'aford him [the portrait] House Room in your venerable Mansion', and expressing thanks to Ferdinand and his family for recent hospitality shown to the writer and his [wife] Elizabeth. The 1966 letter also poses questions about: the above portrait and its relationship to the portrait of Father John Hudleston at Hutton John; the above Andrew Hudleston, a lawyer known as 'the Bencher'; and this Andrew Hudleston's relationship to the Ferdinand [Hudleston, possibly Ferdinand Hudleston of Hutton John (1857-1951) who sold a silver mug and porringer to Lord Fairhaven [?Rogers Broughton Huttleston, 1st Lord Fairhaven (1896-1966)].

HUD 46/4/25 29 April 1966

Letter from Nigel [Hudleston] at Hutton John, Dacre, Penrith, Cumberland to CRH concerning: the provenance of the Sawston portrait of Father John Hudleston; an entry under 1 November 1796 in the diary of Andrew Hudleston (1734-1821) which states only that he wrote a letter to F. Hudleston at Sawston; the writer's failure to find any reference in the above diary for the previous year to the commissioning of a copy of the Hutton John portrait; the writer's conviction that nonetheless the version of the portrait at Hutton John is the original because the signature 'Housman' [Huysmans] is clearly visible on it; and the tradition of adorning the portrait with an oak leaf every 29 May and with 'Cyprus' every 6 February, the anniversaries respectively of King Charles II's return to England and his death.

miscellaneous manuscript notes and copy extracts chiefly relating to the diary made 1950, July 1962 and undated, some in the hand of CRH, others in an unidentified hand or hands, some of them perhaps by Nigel Hudleston or his wife [Marjorie Hudleston (née Ballingall, 1910-2001)].

1 folder, (manuscript and typescript)

HUD 47/5 1850-1979 and undated, covering 18th-20th centuries

Folder labelled in the hand of CRH 'Hudleston original letters' and containing a mixture of letters and notes, including:

letter of 30 January [19]33 from A.S. White at the War Office, Whitehall, London, listing the various stations of the 15th [Regiment of] Foot during the period 'J. H[udleston]' served with them, 1783-1794; letter of 23 February 1936 from R. Hudleston [Rear-Admiral Ralph Hudleston (1864-1944)] at Hutton John to CRH relating to John Hudleston 'the 1797 Delegate' of either Lincolnshire or Cumberland, a survivor of a fire [and explosion] that destroyed HMS Queen Charlotte in 1800, with reference also to a current shortage of money at Hutton John and the recent ill health of the writer's [brother] F[erdinand] H[udleston]; letter of 31 July 1954 from Major F.H.T. Jervoise of Herriard Park, Basingstoke, Hampshire to CRH referring to an article by Arthur Oswald in Country Life, [24 June 1954] concerning the Huddlestons of Sawston, to a Jervoise-Huddleston marriage in 1734, and to portraits of members of the Huddleston and [Bloodsworth] families; letter of 1 September 1850 from C. Eulenstein at Heilbronn, Württemberg, Germany [Charles Eulenstein (1802-1890, jew's harp, guitar and concertina performer, teacher and publisher, Grove Music Online] to R[obert Burland] Hudleston (1801-1877) at Aban (Abon) Court, Cheltenham, concerning the writer's personal circumstances, a parcel of music received by the writer from R.B. Hudleston's brother [Josiah Andrew Hudleston (1799-1865)] in Madras, [Josiah Andrew Hudleston]'s keen desire to have some of his guitar works published despite the writer's efforts to dissuade him, the writer's offer to arrange publication in Germany if funds can be provided, which should cost less than publication in London, and 'musical glasses' [a glass harp] sent to [Josiah Andrew Hudleston]; letter of 25 March 1958 from T.F. Teversham of 18 Hillside, Sawston, Cambridgeshire to CRH concerning Hildersham manor, Cambridgeshire, purchased by Edward Huddleston (died 1852) in 1848 and subsequent links between the latter's descendants and the manor; undated letter [1867] from A.C. Hudleston [probably Annette Clare Hudleston (née Wallace, 1802-1888), widow of William Hudleston of Kelston (1793-1855)] to 'Robert', [probably her brother-in-law, Robert Burland Hudleston (1801-1877)], explaining the background to and including a copy of a letter of 14 March [no year, probably 1867] from a Mrs Wright, 'a Cumberland lady' connected with the Shammons, to [A.C. Hudleston] in which the writer: refers to the recent death of Miss Dora [Dorothy] Hudleston, [which took place in January 1867]; gives details of the deceased and her siblings, including the Revd Andrew Hudleston (1779-1851), who were the children of the Revd Wilfrid Hudleston of Whitehaven, Cumberland, rector of Handsworth, Yorkshire (1745-1829); and explains the relationship between the Revd Wilfrid Hudleston and his half-sister, Mrs Joyce Shammon of Whitehaven, Cumberland on the one hand and the Hudlestons of Hutton John on the other; letter of 14 April [18]67 from W[ilfrid] H[udleston] Simpson [subsequently known as Wilfrid Hudleston Hudleston, barrister and geologist (1828-1909)], at 21 Gloucester (Gloster) Place, Portman Square, [London] to R[obert] B[urland] Hudleston, concerning the winding up of the trust relating to [the late] Elizabeth Hudleston [(née Aery), wife of the Revd Wilfrid Hudleston of Whitehaven, Cumberland (1745-1829), rector of Handsworth, Yorkshire, and great-grandmother of the writer], and legacies etc. due relating to the estate of Dorothy Hudleston, [a daughter of the Revd Wilfrid and Elizabeth Hudleston], and stating that: Mary Hudleston, the last surviving daughter of the Revd Wilfrid and Elizabeth Hudleston died 6 April [1867]; as the writer's family were now the sole representatives of the Whitehaven branch of the Hudlestons and 'enjoy the bulk of their prosperity' they might assume the surname Hudleston [which was done in 1867]; the writer's mother [Elizabeth Simpson (née Ward), granddaughter of the Revd Wilfrid Hudleston], was now 'heiress in line of the house of Hutton John'; and if the Hutton John estate had been entailed Andrew Fleming Hudleston would not have been able to pass over the writer's branch of the family and leave it to the recipient's branch [in 1861]; letter of 1 August [19]45 from Ernest H. Channon of Claremont, Charminster, [Dorset] to CRH, returning a group of [1878-1879] letters [see below] from the writer's maternal grandmother, E[mma Dyer] H[udleston (née Adams, formerly White, 1801-1889), widow of Robert Burland Hudleston], and concerning family matters, including the [first] marriage of the writer's uncle Fred [Hudleston], the writer's mother [Honoriamarianne Hudleston (born 1848), ?known as Nora], who was to marry 'out of her station' [to Edward Channon in 1880], the death of Willy [?Hudleston, perhaps an uncle of the writer] in an accident [while serving on HMS Orpheus], and the family's problems with lawyers and a Chancery suit over the marriage settlement [of Robert Burland Hudleston and his wife],[ca 1878-1879]; group of nine letters [enclosed with letter of 1 August [19]45 above] of 6 March [1878] – 8 January [1879] from E[mma Dyer] H[udleston (née Adams, formerly White, 1801-1889), widow of Robert Burland Hudleston (1801-1877) and great-grandmother of CRH], at 1 Pittville Crescent, [Cheltenham, Gloucestershire] to Hudleston [Stokes (1806-1888), ?who married Sarah Ellen (1813-1895)], a co-trustee [of the marriage settlement between Robert Burland Hudleston and the writer, 1835], and concerning: the sale of Aban Court, [North], [Lansdowne Road, Cheltenham following the death of the writer's husband]; the serious illness of Arthur, [?a son of the writer]; the writer's [daughter] Charley (Charlotte); the writer's son Robert [Horace Hudleston (1836-1881)] who had recently returned home [to Liverpool from India?]; the recipient's sister, Mrs Archer; 'Aunt M'; problems with the writer's lawyer Mr Beaton, [executor of Robert Burland Hudleston's will?]; the marriage of the writer's son Fred which 'came upon us like a thunderbolt' as she and her family knew nothing of it until Fred, who could not 'make a living' and sent frequent requests for assistance, did not tell them of it until writing that his wife was dying of consumption; the departure of Annie, [a relative?], and her husband for India, leaving behind their little girl; financial worries concerning the settlement of the writer's late husband's estate, future income and a trust fund; the writer's desire to appoint a third trustee [of her marriage settlement?]; and [the writer's daughter?], Nora [?Honoriamarianne Hudleston]; envelope addressed in an unidentified hand to W.A. Edye, [lawyer], endorsed in pencil [in the same hand?] '22 Ap[ril] 1890', and containing an undated manuscript note relating to the trustees of Mrs Channon, [Honoriamarianne Hudleston who married Edward Channon in the final quarter of 1880], one of whom was Miss [Charlotte] Hudleston; letter of 25 April 1890 from C[harlotte] Hudleston at 11 Pittville Villas, [Cheltenham, Gloucestershire] to her brother John [Hudleston] concerning problems over a returned cheque issued by her lawyer, Mr Edye, the possibility of transferring business to another lawyer, and a visit from Henry [Close] designed to assist her in these dealings; letter of [26 April 1890] from H[enry] P. Close of 22 Cleveland Gardens, Hyde Park, [London] to John [Hudleston] relating to the suspicious financial situation of Mr Edey and the need to be extremely firm with him over money due to John Hudleston's sisters under [their father's will] otherwise they would be ruined; letter of 26 April 1890 from William A. Edey of Chesshyre & Edey, solicitors, 56 Regent Street, Cheltenham to Miss [Charlotte] Hudleston apologising for the rejected cheque and promising to put matters right as soon as possible; letter of 26 April 1890 from C[h]arlotte Hudleston at 11 Pittville Villas, [Cheltenham] to her brother John [Hudleston] asking the latter to visit Cheltenham to assist with further financial problems with Edey; [copy] letter of 26 April 1890 from C[h]arlotte Hudleston at 11 Pittville Villas, [Cheltenham] to W.A. Edey rescinding an order to sell Madras Railway Stock; letter of 2 June 1979 from 'Barbara' of 212 Crofton Lane, Orpington, Kent BR6 0BN to CRH encouraging his researches into the writer's branch of the [Hudleston] family and referring to the death of Sybil.

HUD 48/2 Undated, chiefly covering early 18th – first quarter 19th centuries Thick bundle of transcripts in torn manilla folder labelled in the hand of CRH '7/1' and 'Letters Thos. Huddleston'. The source of the transcripts is not stated but is probably the Huddleston of Sawston Family Papers now held by Cambridgeshire Archives Service. The contents of the folder are in two sections, with the label apparently referring to the second section: Section 1: chiefly copies in the hand of CRH of Hudleston of Sawston family letters covering the early 18th – first quarter 19th centuries but arranged in random chronological order. There are also a few transcripts of other documents such as deeds, wills and pedigrees. Many of the letters transcribed were exchanged between family members but some had been sent to family members by outsiders. A considerable number relate to the time of Major Richard Huddleston of the Cambridge Militia (1768-1847), who succeeded his father as owner of Sawston Hall in 1808. A list of letters in an unidentified hand at the front of the folder appears to relate to some but probably not all the letters in the folder and may also refer to some letters not transcribed here. The contents of this section have not been checked in detail but they include transcripts of the following items:

letters of 19 January 1804 and 21 October 1805 from [Lieutenant-Colonel T[anfield] Vachell [of the Cambridge Militia] from Chelmsford, Essex in 1804 and Lyme Camp, Kent in 1805 to Major [Richard] Huddleston [of the Cambridge Militia] (1768-1847) at Sawston, describing conditions in the militia, the current state of the war with France and fear of an invasion by the French; letter of 1 August 1805 from the above Richard Huddleston at Camp Lyme to his father Ferdinand Huddleston at Sawston mentioning how Dublin 'fell off most terribly in consequence of the union [1800 Acts of Union under which Ireland became an integral part of a new United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland]'; letters of 1809-1810 from Denys Scully in Dublin (1773-1830, D.N.B.), [author and prominent Irish supporter of Catholic Emancipation], who in 1801 married Mary Huddleston (died 1806), to his former brother-in-law, the above Richard Huddleston; letter of 21 March 1817 from Edward Huddleston at his home in Bruges to his brother, the above Richard Huddleston, mentioning a 'Dutch cooking machine in which I can roast bake & boil all at once ... they are capital inventions'; letter of 8 November 1839 from Edward Huddleston, [son of the above Edward Huddleston and nephew of the above Richard Huddleston], at St Austin's, Stafford to his sister Mary [Huddleston] in Paris including references to Chartist disturbances especially in Wales and Birmingham and to a dispute between the architect [Augustus] Pugin (1812-1852) and the priest at the new Catholic church of St Mary, Derby over the latter's desire to have an orchestral band in the church as well as an organ.

Section 2: copies in the hand of CRH of letters chiefly relating to financial and business matters from Thomas Huddleston in Italy ca 1710 -1711 [transcribed from Letter book of Thomas Huddleston, Livorno, Italy 1710-1712, among Huddleston of Sawston Family Papers now held by Cambridgeshire Archives Service?]. There is a partial list of contents in an unidentified hand at the beginning of this section.

1 folder, (English with copies of two letters dated 5 and 6 May 1837 in Italian)

HUD 48/3 1945-1967 and undated, covering 15th-20th centuries and undated Folder containing letters arranged as far as possible in chronological order from T[raviss] F[rederick] Teversham (1882-1971) of 18 Hillside, Sawston, Cambridgeshire, author of A History of the Village of Sawston, Part I (1942) and Part II (1947), to CRH, chiefly concerning the history of the Hudleston family of Sawston. Among the contents of the folder are:

a duplicated typescript 'Prospectus' and order form for an edition of Sawston Estate Accounts of the Fourteenth Century extracted, expanded and translated from the original parchment rolls at Sawston Hall, Cambridgeshire by T.F. Teversham (1959); letters of 7 September 1963, 15 December 1965, 16 March 1966 and 30 June 1966 relating to T.F. Teversham's work on annotating and listing about 250 bundles of letters among the [Hudleston family papers at Sawston Hall and mentioning (1966) that 'the family collection is of priceless value as a contribution to Catholic history and ... to family history';

letters of 4 November 1963 and 18 December 1963 stating that certain Lancashire deeds formerly held at Sawston Hall had been deposited on loan in the Lancashire County Record Office, that all the deeds, papers and books relating to Edward Galloway, S.J. [occ. 1770s] found at Sawston Hall had been sent to Stoneyhurst circa 1953-1954, and that after the war [World War 2] there was much disturbance and clearance of documentary and printed material at the Hall; letter of 16 March 1966 mentioning the recent formation of a Cambridgeshire County Records Committee which T.F. Teversham had been asked to join; letter of 30 June 1966 asking advice about what should be done with a large bundle of papers relating to a 17th-century Hudleston [sic] estate in Leeds etc. and enclosing [for CRH?] 'papers which should have been sent to Ferdinand [Hudleston of Hutton John (1857-1951)] (now deceased) 20 years ago or more'; letters of 1963-1967 concerning the health of 'Captain Reggie' [Captain Reginald Francis Eyre-Hudleston, R.N. (1882-1970), owner of Sawston Hall, Cambridgeshire] and his wife [Clare Margaret Eyre-Hudleston (née Stewart, 1897-1992)], the Captain's poor eyesight, and worries about the future ownership etc. of Sawston Hall and arrangements for the family papers after the death of the Captain.

HUD 48/6 1948-1949 and undated, covering 17th-18th centuries and 1945 Folder of material relating to William Hud(d)leston of Sawston (1684-1743), together with some information concerning his immediate family. This William Hud(d)leston became first a Benedictine monk at Lambspring Abbey, Germany, where he took the monastic name Denys or Denis (Dionisius). He was secretary of the English Benedictine order and from 1717 to 1721 or 1722 priest-in-charge of the Mission at Brindle, Lancashire. By ca 1728, when he married, he had converted to the Church of England. In 1729 he became a clergyman in the Church of England and preached a recantation sermon. He served as vicar of Tirley, Gloucestershire 1732-1738 and rector of Newenden, Kent 1738-1743. In 1739 he was appointed chaplain in ordinary to King George II. In 1731 he published Irresistible evidence against popery : in a letter to a friend and in [1733] Divine truths vindicated, in the Church of England. The folder contains:
 f.1, manuscript pedigree compiled by T[raviss] F[rederick] T[eversham] relating to Henry Huddleston of Sawston (ca 1658-1713) and his wife Mary Huddleston (née Bostock, died 1729) and their fifteen children, among them Henry Huddleston, M.D. (see HUD 48/5), the above William Huddleston (1684-1743), and four daughters who became nuns. The pedigree is written on the dorse of the printed statement of accounts of Sawston parish church for 1948 compiled by T.F. Teversham, treasurer; ff.2-3, duplicated typescript account (with manuscript annotations) by T.F. Teversham headed "'Irresistible Evidence against Popery" by the Reverend William Huddleston (1685 [recte 1684] – 1743) of Sawston Hall' [but also concerning William Huddleston's Divine truths vindicated ...], mainly concerning William Huddleston's response to family criticism of his conversion, with a covering note from the author to CRH, 10 February 1949;
 f.4, B&W photograph of an advertisement placed in the Gloucester Journal of 18 February 1734/5 by the Revd Mr Hudleston [sic], vicar of Tirley, Gloucestershire, offering to admit up to eight 'Gentlemen's Sons' under the age of twelve into his house to be tutored in Latin grammar, Classics, the principles of Christianity, Biblical history, British and world history, Arithmetic, Prosody, Logic, Ethics, Metaphysics, Divinity, Antiquity, Geography, rudiments of Greek and Hebrew, High-German, French and Italian 1 B&W print, 121 x 91mm.

HUD 49/2 ca 1939-1951, covering ca 1849-1851 and 1939-1944

Red-backed ledger labelled, perhaps in the hand of CRH, '100 YEARS AGO March 8th [19]49 – ' and containing:

a) manuscript ledger entries, ca 1939-1944, showing details of various accounts (creditors, agents, printing and advertising), perhaps relating to the Penrith Observer which CRH edited ca 1945-1955;

b) stuck into and covering the entries on the first fourteen pages of this ledger are mounted cuttings from the [Penrith Observer] '100 YEARS AGO' series, 8 March 1949 – 12 June 1951, which was perhaps compiled by CRH.

1 volume, (manuscript and printed)

HUD 49/3 Undated, covering prehistoric times until the 18th century with the odd 19th-century entry

Volume with navy boards and a red cloth spine containing manuscript genealogical and historical notes in the hand of CRH. The facing pages chiefly contain transcripts of Bristol Cathedral registers of baptisms, marriages and deaths, predominantly for the 17th-18th centuries but with the odd 19th-century entry. The dorses and other loose and stuck-in inserts chiefly contain miscellaneous historical and genealogical notes, including the text of a series of talks given by CRH on the history of Cumberland from prehistoric times until the 18th century. A few sheets have been cut out of the volume and are no longer here.

1 volume

HUD 49/4 [19]89 and undated, covering 14th-17th centuries

HUD 49/6 1840, 1867, 186[9] and undated

Marbled-covered notebook containing mounted and loose autograph signatures of relatives and friends, perhaps compiled by Francis Herbert Bradley (1846-1924), philosopher, who attended Cheltenham College 1856-1861, Marlborough College 1861-1863 and University College, Oxford until 1869 then, after a spell as a school teacher, was appointed a Fellow of Merton College in Oxford in 1870 (D.N.B.). Another possible compiler is F.H. Bradley's brother Andrew Cecil Bradley (1851-1935), literary scholar (D.N.B.). They were two of the twenty-one children of the Revd Charles Bradley (1789-1871), Evangelical preacher and author (D.N.B.). Some of the signatures are arranged under headings, namely Brothers, Sisters, Cousins, Nephews & Nieces, Cheltenham College Classical Masters and Modern Masters, Marlborough [College] Sixth Form Mids[ummer] 1867 and Lower Sixth, Cheltenham College Class IA Mids[umme]r 1867, Cheltenham College boys Past & Present. The signatures etc. include those of Benjamin Jowett (1817-1893) and fragments of undated letters sent to the [Revd Charles Bradley] by C[onnop Thirlwall], Bishop of St David's and J[ames Bowstead] or J[ames Lonsdale], Bishop of Lichfield. The signatures also include that of Ellen Bradley, probably F.H. Bradley's sister Ellen (Nellie) (1849-1947). She and her husband John Hudleston (1842-1922) were the grandparents of CRH. Also included are signatures of R.B. Hudleston, perhaps Robert Burland Hudleston (1801-1877), great-grandfather of CRH, and Nora M. Hudleston, perhaps Honoria (Nora) Marianna Channon (née Hudleston, born 1848), daughter of Robert Burland Hudleston.

HUD 49/7 [ca 1912-1931] and undated, covering ca 12th-20th centuries Lennards Limited Boot Manufacturers 'Commercial Diary and Rules. 1928', labelled in manuscript on the front cover 'E.H. Luton' but apparently used as a genealogical scrap-book and notebook by CRH. The contents include:

- numerous cuttings from generally unidentified newspapers on mainly genealogical but also local history topics, relating primarily to Bristol and the South-West of England but also to other parts of the country, including Cumberland, some of them stuck into the volume but many loose, some dated 1927-1930 but many undated;
- an undated cutting containing a letter from CRH at Little Mead, Chapel Green-lane, Redland, Bristol, stressing the value of producing printed editions of parish registers;
- genealogical notes and pedigrees, chiefly in the hand of CRH, including a pedigree recording the marriage of William Hudleston [?died 1502] and Isabel Dacre (née Neville, daughter of the Marquess of Montagu);
- printed sheet listing the mayors and lord mayors of London 1189-1929 issued in connection with an appeal launched by St Bartholomew's Hospital (Bart's), London, which stressed the close connection between the hospital and the mayors, aldermen, councillors, livery companies and citizens of London;
- cutting of 192[9] from an unidentified newspaper recording the death in Godalming, Surrey, of Herbert Wood, formerly of Sunderland and Newcastle, accountant and well-known northern genealogist and founder of the Durham and Northumberland Parish Register Society;
- cutting of February 19[29] from the EN containing an article entitled 'Duels at an election Candidate fought two in one morning Bishop Auckland's history'.

Loose at the back of the volume is an envelope labelled in an unidentified hand, [probably that of Mark Edwin Northam Witchell (known as Northam, died 1928), co-editor with CRH of An Account of the Principal Branches of the Family of Clutterbuck ... (1924)], 'Rodborough [in Stroud, Gloucestershire] cuttings ...' and in the hand of CRH 'also Payne family' and containing miscellaneous cuttings etc. relating primarily to the history of Gloucestershire and in particular to Rodborough and Stroud, chiefly undated and from unidentified newspapers, many of the items consisting of letters from or articles or short contributions chiefly by CRH writing in his first job as a journalist on the Bristol Times and Mirror, and including:

- cutting from the [Bristol Times and Mirror] of [ca 1912] containing an account of the Hudleston family and of Hutton John, Cumberland, which had been occupied for the previous fifteen years by [James] Lowther (1855-1949), speaker of the House of Commons 1905-1921, created 1st Viscount Ullswater 1921;
- cutting from the [Bristol Times and Mirror] of 4 March 1922 containing an article by CRH entitled 'A North-Country family and its local connections', concerning links between the Hudleston family and the South-West of England, especially Gloucestershire; cutting from the Stroud News of 23 November 1923 containing a poem by M.E.N.W. [Northam Witchell] entitled 'Rodborough Hill';
- cutting from the Stroud News of 16 December 1927 containing an article by N[ortham] Witchell entitled 'The Story of Rodborough. Glimpses of the Parish History';
- cuttings from the Stroud News of 27 January 1928 and undated containing sections of a series of articles by N[ortham] Witchell entitled 'The Story of Rodborough': part V, 'The singers' pew', part VI, 'The Stringer family', part VII, 'The pit dwellings', part VIII, 'The Payne family', and part IX, 'Churchyard epitaphs';
- two cuttings from unidentified newspapers reporting the death and funeral of Rowland James Witchell of Hallen, Gloucestershire, [died 13 March 1931 aged 25 or 26];

a pedigree [in the hand of CRH] of the Payne family of Rodborough, including reference to a Clutterbuck marriage.

HUD 49/8 1934, covering 1920s-1930s

Binder, labelled inside front cover in an unidentified hand 'To C.R.H. (A mighty, most regal writer) from P.D.T.', and containing correspondence dated 13 February 1934 to 13 March 1934 chiefly between Arnold Gyde, publicity manager of William Heinemann Ltd., publishers, and CRH of the Bristol Evening Post, seeking comments from CRH and others on the paragraphs in enclosed proofs of J.B. Priestley's book, English Journey (which Heinemann, in association with Gollancz, were about to publish) relating to the Bristol newspaper war that took place between Lord Rothermere and existing Bristol publications from the late 1920s until 1932. These passages were eventually omitted from the book for legal reasons. The final letter to CRH from Arnold Gyde, dated 13 March 1934, refers to a review copy of the book to be sent to CRH [not here] and states that it contains flattering references to Bristol.

1 binder, (manuscript, typescript and printed)

HUD 49/9 Undated [perhaps ca 1937-1939]

Envelope labelled in the hand of [CRH] 'Surrey heraldry' and containing a copy of a set of typescript preliminary notes, with some manuscript alterations and additions, for an armorial for Surrey. These were probably compiled by Frederick James Field, author of An Armorial for Cumberland (1937), after he moved to Surrey. When he joined the army during World War 2 he left these notes in the custody of his friend the Revd (later Canon) R.C. Tait. Field subsequently died at the battle of El Alamein in 1942. In September 1977 Canon Tait sent the typescript of the notes to CRH. In the same year the latter passed the notes to Robert Stavely Boumphrey (RSB) who subsequently greatly expanded them then, in 1983, deposited his manuscript in the Surrey Record Office. RSB's edition of the armorial, including his original preface, in which he pays tribute to Field and to CRH, is now available on the Surrey County Council website at
