Introduction

Collection title: Bishop Cosin's Library, post-medieval manuscripts
Reference code: GB-0033-COM
Dates of creation: 16th - 19th century
Extent: 47 volumes and 1 box
Repository: Durham University Library, Archives and Special Collections
Creator: Bishop Cosin's Library
Language of material: Latin, English, French. A little Greek.

Contents
This catalogue records only the post-medieval manuscript volumes in Bishop Cosin's Library; another catalogue is in preparation for the medieval manuscripts. These manuscripts fall into 3 categories: those collected by John Cosin; catalogues of the Library or subsequent additions made to it, and miscellaneous material given to the Library later on. The manuscripts which appear to have been collected by Cosin himself or his contemporaries consist of copies of complete works, notes and summaries from books or lectures and some records from Cosin's work within the church and the University of Cambridge. The catalogues of the Library cover the period between its foundation and the computerisation of the catalogue in the 1980s. Although there is little record of borrowings, the different patterns of storage and use can be inferred from the systems of cataloguing and subsequent annotations. The book collections of subsequent bishops of Durham, Edward Chandler and Richard Trevor, as well as more minor additions to the Library, are also recorded.

Bishop Cosin's Library
This collection forms part of Bishop Cosin's Library, Durham, which was founded in 1669 by John Cosin, Bishop of Durham, as an endowed public library (and sometimes called the Episcopal Library). The library, still in its original building, now forms part of Durham University Library, and since 1937 the University of Durham has been its trustee.

Accession details
Material belonging to John Cosin, bishop of Durham and given by him to his library, or given to the library after its foundation by other donors. Information about specific volumes is given in their individual description.

Arrangement
The class-letter B indicates the press in which the volumes were previously shelved; those with V are additions to the shelves on which the medieval manuscripts were stored. Some material has been re-arranged in the past, and this is recorded in the description of those items. Some collections which were kept in Bishop Cosin's Library (notably the Mickleton & Spearman, and Hogg manuscripts) may be referred to in older works as being part of the Library but are now separate collections.

Conditions of access
Open for consultation.
Copyright and copying
Permission to make any published use of material from the collection must be sought in advance from the Sub-Librarian, Special Collections (e-mail PG.Library@durham.ac.uk) and, where appropriate, from the copyright owner. The Library will assist where possible with identifying copyright owners, but responsibility for ensuring copyright clearance rests with the user of the material.

Finding aids
The old catalogue of the manuscripts of the Episcopal (Cosin’s) Library as printed in Catalogi Veteres Ecclesiae Cathedralis Dunelmensis ..., p.136-191, does not include all of those listed below, nor give the same details.

Among the catalogues of the collection included in this collection, Cosin MS B.I.23, f.94 is a catalogue of the manuscripts, including information on items no longer in the collection.

Form of citation
The form of citation should be Cosin MS. reference number. It is important to include the MS. as Bishop Cosin's Library contains printed books using the same system of shelfmarks (i.e. Cosin B.i.10 is a printed book, Cosin MS. B.i.10 a manuscript.

Cosin MS. B.i.5 1580s

D. Tileni Theses Theologicae [title by Cosin].

Theses proposed at the Geneva Academy in the 1580s. The volume contains a mix of printed and manuscript items which list propositions but do not give any of the arguments supporting them. These would appear to be announcements of forthcoming events rather than reports of them. The first thesis, “De Deo”, ends “14 Julii 1581, mod. D.B[ezza?]. Assert. Samuele Auieno Bernensi”; These theses are copied mainly in order of date, normally giving the defendant's name only. Printed items are catalogued more fully in the main library catalogue http://library.dur.ac.uk/search/c?SEARCH=cosin+ms+B.I.5&SUBMIT=Search
All the individuals named can be found on the register of the Academy (Le livre du recteur de l'Academie de Geneve ...: the number given in square brackets after the name in the following descriptions is that assigned in the Stelling-Michauds' edition), and most theses are cited in section II of Catalogue des thèses de théologie soutenues à l'Académie de Genève .... The printed notices of Doolegianus and Valetonus have head-piece ornaments used by E.Vignon of Geneva in volume I of Beza's Theological Treatises, 1582.

In a very current French hand, with few sub-headings or side-notes (Raine, Catalogi Veteres Ecclesiae Cathedralis Dunelmensis ..., p.185, suggests these are notes taken at the lectures; there are many gaps but few corrections). “De Missa” (f.57-65) in the same hand is dated 30 May 1616, with subsequent marginal dates in June, and much later (“Hactenus prolegomena”, f.126v, is dated 31 October 1616). f.102-115, a section starting on transubstantiation, is on smaller paper, dated (f.109) 15 April 1616 and (f.110r) 18 April 1616.
Some pages written in two equal columns (the paper has been folded down the centre), but most are in a single text block. Sections usually start on the verso, after a blank recto. The following are entirely blank: f.9, 10, 29, 49, 66, 71-78, 100 [stub], 101 and 130.

Cosin MS. B.i.12  [ca. 1600?]
“An Answear to a Booke published by the Lord Bishop of Eureux, vpon the Conference held att Fontaine-bleau the 4 of May 1600. By Philip of Mornay, Lord of Plessis-Marly. Wherein are handled incidently and by the way, the principall matters of controversy in these times”. A fair copy with many interlinear verbal alterations by the same or a similar hand, striking through and replacing text. With a list of the principal matters handled in the book (f.216). A lengthy response by Mornay to Jacques Davy Du Perron, bishop of Evreux, on the nine points that had been made during their interrupted disputation held at Fontainebleau 4 May 1600 (the illness of Mornay brought the proceedings to a premature close and the contest was adjudged to Perron). Several books were printed, especially by Robert Parsons and Matthew Sutcliffe, attacking each other on this controversy. At the foot of the title-page an added note “I do allowe this booke to be imprinted Janu.28 1606[?7?] Owen Gwyn”, i.e. the Bishop of London's/Archbishop of Canterbury's licenser (this instance not mentioned by Greg); but there is no evidence of it having been printed. In the Stationers' Register (ed. Arber, III, 306) there is an order from the Bishop of London, 2 Dec. 1605, that no other translation should be printed until Master Moole's is ready. J. Molle translated Mornay, Philippe de, seigneur du Plessis-Marly, (1549-1623), A treatise of the church. Wherein are handled the principall questions moued in our time concerning that matter. By Philip of Mornai, Lord of Plessis-Marli, counsaylor to the King in his counsell of estate, captaine of fiftie men at armes of his ordinances, gouernour for his Maiestie in the citie and iursidiction of Saumur, and superintendent of his house and crowne of Nauarre. Reuiewed and enlarged by the author, and the authorities of the Fathers quoted in the margent, against the common slaunders of this age. Faithfully translated according to the last French copie (London, 1606) ESTC S113012.

An added pencil note before class F: “For the books in the Press on the left of the fire place see U”; that press must have been destroyed when the fireplace was enlarged in 1845 (Lord Harley saw the manuscripts on the north side in the 1740s). Cosin MS. B.i.7

Ownership history: Missing from Cosin's Library by July 1881. Later given to Ushaw College Library in 1946 by J.D. Cowen as from his aunt Mrs A.H. Thompson of Whickham, having been printed by C.E. Whiting, who did not identify the author or recognise the earliest source of the copy. He said that it came from the library of Canon Whitley of Bedlington, i.e. C.T. Whitley, University and Cosin's Librarian 1835-55.

Ownership history: Not found at Ushaw in 1990s; my recollection and notes are that it is inscribed by Cosin's hand: for his interest see his Correspondence II, 217 etc. On the author see “An English Gallican: Henry Holden (1596/7-1662). Part I (to 1648)”, Recusant history 22 (1995), 323-99. Only this part was published, without knowledge of this manuscript, before the author's death.

“The History of the Church of Durham written by Stephen Hegge” (title in Cosin's hand). Stephen Hegge senior was Robert's father (d.1627); M. H. Dodds attributed the copying of the son's work and the following copy of the Rites of Durham to him, but as the last bishop of Durham listed by it is Morton (1632-59) it might rather be that of Stephen Hegge junior, Robert's brother.

“The Summe of Blondels Apologie for S. Hierom's opinion concerning Bishops & Presbyteres”. Written by Cosin in two columns, with a note in the last column by another 17th/18th century hand, in English. This refers to the Apologia pro sententia Hieronymi de Episcopis et Presbyteris (Amsterdam 1646), dedicated to the rulers of the churches, especially in Britain, by David Blondel, (copy at Cosin K.iv.36, in which this sheet could possibly have been found loose). In the register of borrowings from Cosin's Library, 15 September 1843, Joseph Stevenson is recorded for “Cosin MS. on English Orders”, which, unlike many other items against his name, was never cancelled, and is not obviously identifiable with any other known manuscript, if only indirectly on that topic.

Size: 25 x 20 cm

Binding: half green sheep, gold tooled.

1 vol. 309 p. (many blank for additions)

Provenance: Presentation inscription “To be deposited in the Library, founded by Bishop Cosin at the Castle of Durham, and to be there perpetually preserved. May 1817”. A commentary on James Bicheno's The signs of the times: or the overthrow of the papal tyranny in France, the prelude of destruction to popery and despotism; but of peace to mankind, mainly a series of refutations of this originally made in his copy of the book, December 1796, (parts 1 and 2) and copied out here by Granville Sharp. Also the same, regarding the two parts of Joseph Towers' Illustrations of prophecy: in the course of which are elucidated many predictions, which occur in Isaiah, or Daniel, in the writings of the evangelists, or the book of Revelation; and which are thought to foretell, among other great events, a revolution in France, favourable to the interests of mankind, the overthrow of the Papal power, and of ecclesiastical tyranny, the downfall of civil despotism, and the subsequent melioration of the state of the world: together with a large collection of extracts, interspersed through the work, and taken from numerous commentators (London, 1796).
