Introduction

Collection title: Fragments, manuscript and printed, amongst Durham University Library Archives and Special Collections

Reference code: GB 0033 ADD

Dates of creation: medieval-17th century

Extent: 2 metres

Repository: Durham University Library, Archives and Special Collections

Creator: Durham University Library

Language of material: various

Conditions of access

Open for consultation unless material is too fragile, but preferably to be consulted in digital form.

Copyright and copying

Permission to make any published use of material from the collection must be sought in advance from the Sub-Librarian, Special Collections (e-mail PG.Library@durham.ac.uk) and, where appropriate, from the copyright owner. The Library will assist where possible with identifying copyright owners, but responsibility for ensuring copyright clearance rests with the user of the material

Finding aids

Medieval manuscript fragments are catalogued separately with a link given from this catalogue.

Form of citation

The form of citation should use the code, or the collection name, followed by the reference number

To order items in the searchroom, use the collection reference code(s), derived by removing the repository code (GB-0033-), followed by the reference number. Citing the section of the finding aid is useful.

Manuscript fragments still in bindings of books

Add.MS. 1950/Z

This section describes manuscript fragments still to be found in books. These can take the form of identifiable manuscript pieces re-used as wrappers, binding supports etc. which have not been removed from those books. The Add.MS. 1950/Z number is a virtual reference for the fragment only; the shelfmark of the book will need to be given to find or retrieve the fragment and its containing volume. In some cases, further fragments of the same manuscript may have previously been physically separated from the volume and will now be stored under a different reference number.
