Introduction

Collection title: Durham Cathedral Library Additional Manuscripts
Reference code: GB-0033-CADD
Dates of creation: c.1400 - 2002
Extent: 16 metres
Durham University Library, Archives and Special Collections (5 The College)
Creator: A variety of individual items and small groups of material about, concerning or produced by Durham cathedral and people associated with it.
Language of material: English with some Latin and occasional French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Danish, Chinese and Russian.

Contents
Much of the material concerns, directly or indirectly, the running of Durham cathedral and its environs, and the people responsible. Some of the material reflects other aspects of the lives of people linked with the cathedral, such as sermons delivered elsewhere or correspondence unrelated to the cathedral. Yet more material is unrelated to the cathedral and has perhaps been acquired through an antiquarian interest or given to the cathedral by local persons.
Much of the material is personal writings in the form of correspondence, journals, sermons or lectures. There are quantities of photographs and some collections of newspaper cuttings, and even cassettes and gramophone records.

Accession details
Individual items and groups of material presented to Durham Cathedral Library as indicated; some have no provenance details and are recorded as and where found. The series seems to have been begun in the early 20th century but most of the material has come in since c.1960. Most of the material has been "presented".

From December 1959, some of the material then present in the Cathedral Library was assigned accession numbers (recorded in LIB 5/6). Material received thenceforward was accessioned in the accession register LIB 5/4, but almost no additional manuscript material appears in this register after the end of 1963 and such accessioning details as there are come from the items themselves.

Owned by Durham Cathedral, transferred into custody of Durham University Library at 5 The College, July 2016 (accession Misc.2013/14:66)

Previous custodial history
As individually indicated, mostly reflecting duplicate and subsequent renumbering of items.

Arrangement
In 2003, there appeared to be more than one sequence of additional manuscripts numbers. Occasionally different items had the same "Add Ms" number, a few had a "U Add Ms" number, and a few more had a pencilled number within a circle. Efforts to discern the logic or establish the history of these different sequences having been unsuccessful, it was decided to have just one continuous sequence, preserving original numbers wherever possible but renumbering where necessitated by duplication. Occasional items which fitted in with another sequence within the Cathedral Library were removed and some groups of material were brought together (such as the Rowlandson collection at Add Ms 74). The sequence is very roughly, but only very roughly, in chronological accession order, which should more consistently be the case henceforth (from 2005). From 2018, the collection is referenced “CADD” to distinguish it more clearly from the Durham University Library Additional Manuscripts (“Add.MS.”).

Conditions of access
Open for consultation.

Copyright and copying
Permission to make any published use of material from the collection must be sought in advance from the Reprographics Officer at Durham Cathedral Library (library@durhamcathedral.co.uk). The Library will assist where possible with identifying copyright owners, but responsibility for ensuring copyright clearance rests with the user of the material.

Technical requirements
The cassette tapes at CADD 356-358 and the gramophone records at CADD 359-360 require specialist equipment to access them; a cassette player may be found in the searchroom at the Durham University Palace Green Library.

Accruals
Accruals at the end of the sequence are expected.

Form of citation
The form of citation should use the code GB-0033-CADD, or the collection name Durham Cathedral Library Additional Manuscripts, followed by the reference number.
To order items in the searchroom, use the collection reference code(s), derived by removing the repository code (GB-0033-), followed by the reference number. Citing the section of the finding aid is useful.

DCL CADD 43  mid to late 18th century
Prayers and intercessions, mid to late 18th century, mostly but not entirely in the same hand. "C.T." is mentioned on some as the author, and all were ascribed to Catherine Talbot by Canon Couratin at the time of the gift, presumably on the information of the donor. Mrs Rowe or Row is mentioned at the head of ff.34, 39 and 42, possibly as author of those texts.
Includes:
1. “Public prayers for his Majesty's recovery, from Ireland November 1788”
6. “Johns Prayers on his Birthday”
20-21. “Copy of a Prayer given by C.T. to a Servant who was going to the Blessed Sacrament for the first time”

Letters from Robert Boothe (1666-1730), archdeacon of Durham (collated 15 May 1691) and dean of Bristol (from 1708), to his official, Posthumus Smith (1676-1725, commissary-general and official of the archdeacon of Durham and registrar to the dean and chapter of Durham), with several enclosures and other letters to Smith. The letters largely concern the administration of Boothe's estates at Easington in particular and also Archdeacon Newton covering exacting rents, renewing and adding lives to leases, repairs to buildings and selling off Boothe's effects at Easington. Other topics include: Boothe's reluctance to travel north from Bristol; the holding of his visitations, frequently by Smith, and occasional other business of his archdeaconry; work on Bristol deanery and occasional other comments on life in Bristol; the weather; Boothe's health, especially his gout; occasional comments on the royal Court, elections and national affairs such as the Treaty of Utrecht and the 1715 Jacobite rebellion; the receipt and encashing of Smith's bills; Boothe's curates at Easington, the unsatisfactory Mr Richardson and the rather better Mr Dunn; occasional comments on the bishops of Durham; and the procurement of wigs and books for Boothe. Until March 1709 the letters are mostly written from Chester, and thereafter from Bristol. Letters other than Boothe to Smith include:

31. William Hales to Posthumus Smith, 27 April 1708 about accounts.
68. Note of the yearly value of Mr. Marshall's estate at Archdeacon Newton, Co. Durham.
111. “Copyes of Billes sent to Mr Archd[eacon]n Boothe for my Fyns of Thompsons Farm being 330”
132A. (Enclosed in a letter dated 21 October 1719) part of a petition from the inhabitants of Easington on behalf of Philip Richardson, schoolmaster there, with an annotation by Boothe that he believes some of the names to be forged; in the letter he instructs Smith to discharge Richardson as idle and unfit.
148. T. Conyers to Posthumus Smith, 30 December 1720 about a lease of tithes.
158. George Allan to Posthumus Smith, 11 January 1722 about the condition of Newton Hall.
175. Copy letter from Posthumus Smith about the rent of Dobson's farm, dated Saturday.
176. Isaac Gatton to Posthumus Smith, from Cambridge, 14 April 1724, informing him of the death from an apoplectic fit of his master, Chancellor [John] Brookbank, (official to the archdeacon of Ely and spiritual chancellor of Durham from 1 September 1691, fellow of Trinity Hall Cambridge 1679-1724, died at Cambridge and buried at St Edward's Church 1724).

Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bills, arrangements for their payment, seek a preferment from [the dean and chapter] for Richardson and in return he will entertain “any person of character” as his curate at Easington, asks to be informed if he sees “any alteration in either of your two great men (for neither of them merit by their goods deeds to be immortal)”.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/94  13 December 1714
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bills, send his account when he has the rent arrears.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/95  17 November 1714
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, glad to hear that Whorlton chapel is to be taken care of “the only scandal of my whole jurisdiction” despite his representations to the master of Trinity, wishes he had made Richardson his apparitor rather than his curate as his lungs are better than his brains, will allow him 30s provided he makes fires in all the rooms weekly during winter, dismisses all his other claims for arrears, tell him not to journey to Durham on the pretence of doing his business as it will be only to get drunk and that if he does not reform his manners he will be apparitor rather than curate, keep the tenants to the usual payday.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/96  25 April 1715
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, hold his visitation when it suits as he has to be in Bristol to attend the bishop, but do not forewarn his clergy of his absence.
Paper  2f
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, his last letter was delayed by having London put on it, please direct post just to Bristol, the bills were not signed so he had to forge his name on them, returning one as only endorsed by Middleton, not Paxton, “Dr [William] Lupton (1676-1726) is removed to the Bath where I fear he will end his days”, would like to know if any papists in the bishoprick [of Durham] joined the Northumberland rebels.

Letter from Ro Boothe of Bristol to Mr Official, received Paxton's bill, needs the arrears and last year's account, “cannot imagine what new scruples can be raised against takeing the abjuration oath” under the new king by those who took it under Queen Anne, are any Northumberland clergy mentioned in the Articles of Impeachment as joining the rebels, commend Richardson for his letter of loyalty to King George [I].

Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received Paxton's bill, his father Wheeler has been too hard on him as he has sent horse and man to the milita for many years, the roof over his bedroom at Easington needs repairing, cannot visit the north before mid May “the times being so unsettled”, distribute money in Easington, has not services to present to anyone in Durham now his brother is dead, when in London he enquired unsuccessfully after the two Thompsons (Essex clergymen) in Garthorns farm lease, Smith is to enquire at the House of Commons about them when next he writes there.

Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, make the repairs at Easington though he already has to bear the costs of having “two boys to put out into the world” this year, the money can come from the Pentecost rents, intends to make his visitation in person in May, Dr Lupton still at Bath though he fears “his constitution is too much shattered to be repaired by the influence of those waters” but he is cheerful, needs an account of the 3 lives in Thompson's estate as he believes “some of them are drop't”.

Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bills, next Spring he intends to repair and adorn his chancel.

Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, sorry to hear of the condition of his chancel at Easington, patch it up immediately, the great storm in Cheshire in February has put him to much expense, intends to repair and beautify his chancel next Spring.
DCL CADD 79/103  29 September 1715
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received the bills, “much concerned at the storme in the north” and prays it never reaches England. Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/104  15 August 1715
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr Official, commiserates over his brother's death, “an honour and ornament to the Church of Durham”, though “Morton may now governe without controle and swear without restraint”, recently lost his sister Katherine Hales to small pox, allowed Richmond to plough part of Parson's meadows as presently only produces moss, better drainage needed, please survey, taking with him an “understanding farmer” not of the parish, failed to find out about the Thomspsons when he was in London, Smith to enquire of them amongst his friends at the Commons. Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/105  21 May 1716
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, hopes his carpenter can reuse timber in his hall roof, tell the steward of his courts he is happy to entertain him and the jury but anyone else enters his house at their peril, so tell Mr Richardson he wants to know of all such intruders, grateful for his good entertainment when he was last in Durham. Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/106  5 November 1716
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, arrangements for paying his workmen at Easington on the security of his Pentecost rents, a recent violent storm has also shattered the roof of the deanery so he is having the expense of repairing that as well. Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/107  27 August 1716
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, Richardson is “a bear”, take him to Bridewell and “order the keeper to give him a good slashing”, can afford no more expenses for next year, but will repair his chancel and build a barn on the glebe the year after so secure all old timber. Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/108  15 December 1716
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bills, will sign an assignment for him on his Pentecost rents. Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/109  16 April 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, has been “a very considerable looser” in the lease he has lately sent him, will be in Durham on 13 May for his visitation on 16 May, Dr Harcourt will also need lodging, needs his money. Paper  2f
DCL CADD 79/110  30 April 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received the rest of the fine for Thompson's farm, grateful for his efforts on that, cannot come to hold his visitation without "a confiding servant" to attend him on the long journey, Mr Bowes's lease and his disappointment at Thompson's farm, presumes the Spearmans have recovered, can find no counterpart lease for Easington or Shotton tithes amongst his papers, leases of Mr Conyers and the two Haswells, Richardson probably not dying but will give Mr Dunn £5 p.a. when he does, Kit Hendry borrowed the Easington decree from the church chest.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/111  [23 April 1720]
Posthumus Smith's copies of 4 bills sent to Archdeacon Boothe for the fines for Thompson's Farm 23 March 1720 (1) and 23 April 1720 (3).
Paper   1f

DCL CADD 79/112  18 April 1720

Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/113  19 June 1717
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr Official, needs money from his rents as he has to set up his second son at Christ Church Oxford, having been elected there from Westminster, do nothing if Gilbert Spearman asks about changing his three lives until he comes to the north, ask if the people of Eden pay their Easter dues to Mr Richardson.
Paper   1f

DCL CADD 79/114  8 April 1717
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, cannot contemplate travelling north to hold his visitation in person as long as the north is “oppressed with the army”, just returned from London where neither whig nor tory were “in any great pain for the King of Sweden”, so the north “will suffer more by guarding our own Army, than from any foreign invasion”, presumes the lives [in his leases] at Archdeacon Newton “continue sturdy”, has not answered his query about renewing for lives as well as years, (in a PS) will come north is he hears that the troops are to be gone by the middle of next month, keen to see the roof of his magnificent hall at Easington.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/115  6 July 1717
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill, ask Mrs Wharton to ask her correspondent to pay it punctually as his creditor has to pay off a foreign bill.
Paper   2f
DCL CADD 79/116  31 August 1717
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr Official, received his bill, the bishop of Durham stayed at Lincoln College Oxford and attended chapel more assiduously than when he was head of house, one of Boothe’s prebendaries (the vice-chancellor of Oxford) reports also that he is in good health and intends to keep to the country and never see London again, report to him on his Michaelmas visitation.

Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/117  21 November 1717
Letter from Ro Boothe at Westminster to Mr Official, attending his sister’s funeral in “towne”, she has made her family “easie”, but he has to pay out legacies at present and so needs his rents, wishes he could “spirit up” Mr Wright and the rest of the Corporation of Hartlepool to petition the bishop of Durham to consider the ruinous state of their church.

Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/118  16 December 1717

Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/120  12 April 1718
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr Official, glad he is recovering, plans for holding his visitaiton in Durham, grateful for his hospitality but needs him to find a bed for a colleague at the inn where he puts his horses.

Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/121  12 May 1718
Receipt of Ro Boothe for £50 from Posthumus Smith out of his Easington rents, witnessed by Samuel Slaughter.

Paper  1f
DCL CADD 79/122  4 June 1718
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, he and Mr Waterman grateful for the good entertainment at Durham, has sent the Hotwell water to Sir George [Wheeler] as he directed and hopes it does Mrs Smith good, the late Act of pardon indemnifies Wilkinson from his riot at Hurworth, but he later, with the schoolmaster at Winston, pick-pocketed a country man, Dr Eden has a better account of this, he needs a curate, ask his tenant Jurdison for a truthful opinion of Richardson, he is about to write to Richardson “to signifie his will and pleasure to him which will make him roar to that degree, that youll hear him to Durham” and he is sure he will then immediately come to Durham “to discharge his indignation and Jury upon you”, needs a person of good character to assist Richardson at Easington, keep his Easington tenants to their payday, keep healthy, ride as exercise is good for him and the horse.

Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/123  28 June 1718
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill on Ambrose Cox, sorry the Hotwell water has not arrived, glad he and she are recovered.

Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/124  20 September 1718
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill to William Best, impossible for him to find a person in his part of the world to quit the warm sun for a northern curacy, needs someone as fears winter will confine Richardson, asked by Mr Browne, the minister of Cockfield, for help in removing his curate Wilkinson, “make an example of this impudent villain”, be careful of catching cold in the winter, the bishop of Durham “is resolved to outlive some of his successors”.

Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/125  13 December 1718
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill on Ambrose Cox, hopes Mr Dunn “will make both the Parish and me very easie by his prudent conduct”, hears the bull of Basan has been roaring against him but warn [Richardson] not to say anything against Mr Dunn, tell him of Dr Ellison's health, hopes his dean “may have interest at Court to succeed his uncle when he dropps”, be sharp on Richardson's accounts.

Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/126  7 February 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr Official, received his bill on Ambrose Cox, Mr Dunn should do well, “after having entertained such a bear as Richardson for so many years”, encloses a letter of Richardson's which shows he ought to go to Bedlam or Bridewell, ask Gilbert Spearman to “ease” his taxes at Easington, find out about the repairs at Archdeacon Newton as he hears “the house is ready to tumble”, pay his clerk.

Paper  2f
DCL CADD 79/127  7 March 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, find out about the schoolmaster situation at Easington as Mr Dunn writes that he has allowed a Quaker, John Clerk, to set up a school on condition he conforms to the Church of England as he says “the present master behaves himself like a Richardson”, of which breed he would gladly be rid, endeavour to ease his taxes at Easington, enquire after the condition of the buildings at Archdeacon Newton.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/128  25 January 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, will observe the hints he has given him about Mr Thompson that the Church does not have less than 6 years' value for 2 lives, would have thought his mortgage should make him resolve the issue, keep him informed of developments.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/129  25 July 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr [Official], received his bill on Daniel Oley, keen to know how the bishop of Durham will fill his present vacancies.
Paper 1f

DCL CADD 79/130  26 September 1719
Letter from Ro Booth at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, will be pleased to hear of Richardson's departure, hopeful of Richmond's arrears, would get him a small place at Sunderland or Newcastle if he had any interest at Court, he was no great friend of George Paxton when he was at Easington, but will keep up a fair understanding for Mr Dunn's sake, on second thoughts, let Richardson stay at Easington until Lady Day but he wants satisfaction for his embezzlements.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/131  24 October 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, happy with the agreements he has made with his tenants, who are often backward in renewing leases, Richmond must pay his arrears off or he will “be blown up”, glad Richardson has left his house if not the parish, prepared to let him have the sheets, napkins and kettle which Richardson pretends he bought of him, has found the Haswell leases of 16 December 1700, will make better bargains next time, needs to know the names and ages of the lives in his leases.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/132&132A  21 November 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, happy for him to agree with his tenants on the best terms he can, keep his tenants punctual at payday but Richmond may have to be allowed more time, received a petition from Christopher Robinson and others of Easington to continue with Philip Richardson as schoolmaster, thinks he is idle and happy to have another, transcribes the petitioners' names from the enclosed petition on which he notes that some of the hands are forged.
Paper The enclosed petition is now in 3 parts 3f
DCL CADD 79/133  12 December 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill on Mr Henry and Ben Hoare, needs his rents as the deanery has produced no more than the annual pension as tenants are fearful of paying with all the invasion alarms, pardon Mr Dunn, he has augmented his salary, dispatch Thompson's lease, he will deal with the Spearmans in person when he is in the north, probably next May, needs the names of his clergy and the characters of those not known to him, keen to keep the Spearmans under his thumb, needs him to value the Easington farms.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/134  23 January 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr [Official], received his bill, the mortgage on Mr Thomson's estate should pay for the lease.
Paper 1f

DCL CADD 79/135  30 January 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, sorry Mr Tomson's estate at Archdeacon Newton will fall to Mr Bowes "as he hates all clergymen", may ask six years' value of Mr Tomson as he is currently treating over putting two lives into an estate [at Bristol], hopes he can make a bargain with Thomson.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/136  15 February 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, discusses a letter from Robin Bowes about Mr Tomson's lease at Archdeacon Newton, changing the lives of the two Beaumonts, warns Smith to keep his temper when Bowes comes to discuss it with him as he is "a very provoking passion", hopes he can finish this affair, needs money to treat with his first wife's sister's husband, who is soon taking up a command in the army in Ireland, over a moiety of property in Kensington, putting two lives into Durham dean and chapter leases costs twenty years' purchase, impatient for the news out of Yorkshire, reiterates his warning about Mr Bowes.
Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/137  1 March 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus at Durham, sorry he has had "such ungrateful treatment from young Tomson", amazed at his valuation of the estate, Bristol leases sell for no more than 14 years' value, should trouble no more with it as Thompson has sold his interest to Bowes and his money would be better spent on a freehold estate, and Bowes would be as bad a neighbour as Christopher Hendry is at Easington, going to London; PS has now had a better offer of £350 which he is to give Mr Thompson and Mr Taylerson notice of.
Paper 3f

DCL CADD 79/138  7 March 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol at Posthumus Smith at Durham, glad he has settled "Thompson's troublesome affair" and prevented Bowes from being the purchaser, expects to hear of his health, going to London.
Paper 2f
DCL CADD 79/139  5 December 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr [Official], received his bills, accept Jurdison's offer of £160 for the Hall field, with deductions for erecting a barn and stubbing the whins, prepared to give Richmond more time to pay.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/140  29 October 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr [Official], commiserates on the loss of his wife, knows the value of a good wife, hopes he never has “the plague of a bad one”, needs money to purchase chambers for his son in the Temple, so needs Richmond's and Jurdison's rents and the Haswell tithes, the counterpart of the Easington tithes was lost when the Bristol mail was robbed.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/141  7 November 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, grateful for the care he takes of his concerns, arrangements for erecting a barn in the Hall field, poor Richmond needs a small farm as he has no stock or credit to increase, cannot find the High Haswell counterpart but sends that of Mr Conyers, in good health apart from an old swelling in the legs, John Proud says Robin Bowes is fading, Mr Dunn says that “as Richardson has lived like a beast, so he is likely to die like one, in his own dung”, Haswell tenants have neglected to bring their coals.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/142  12 November 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Mr [Official], a tenant for the Hall field, a tenant in the house should not disturb Mr Dunn, would help Richmond but cannot afford a barn on the Lee Glebe as well as hall field this year, so dispose of the Lee Glebe as he can, would like to know the cost of building a house and barn on the Lee Glebe.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/143  9 January 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill, land values dropping so dispose of the Hall Field as soon as he can, one bill in ten sent to London is returned “protested”.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/144  16 January 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, pleased he has let the Hall Field to Hubbathorne, Richmond's brother Thompson must be security for his rent, Conyers has written but he will talk when he is in the north, searching for the Easington tithes counterpart at the General Post Office, no money here as all sunk in the South Sea, expects only one fine at his [Cathedral] audit, is Lady Sandford, a life in Mrs Bowes's farm, living?
Paper  2f
DCL CADD 79/145  28 January 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, apologises for not acknowledging receipt before of his bill on James Wroughton, wants his last penny out of Conyers for his tithes despite his huffing and puffing, expects to be waylaid by Robin Bowes at Darlington when he comes north with his own prepared lease but he will only look at one from Smith's office, Robin Bowes and Lady Sandford both declining, needs money.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/146  9 July 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bills, extract his rents from Easington “for a worse sort of people do not live upon the face of the earth”, “advance” the Haswell tithes, needs “an honest substantial tenant” for Easington glebe-land, will make Bowes pay for his lease, repair Archdeacon Newton manor house.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/147  16 July 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, discusses two endorsements on the Easington tithes lease about his paying the taxes and assessments, also found George Paxton’s survey of Easington glebe, Mr Conyers and High Haswell have not sent coals, survey Haswell to evaluate the tithes, hopes his purchase of land at Archdeacon Newton will appreciate as land is doing in the south, will give nothing to his Easington tenants, will forward the lease if requested.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/148  30 December 1720
Letter from T. Conyers at Abinger to Mr Smith, does not know what John Clayton has done with the lease, but explains and discusses Dean [Boothe]’s lease of Haswell tithes to him, improvements to the land, his terms, and his fears for the effects of raising the tithes. Endorsed with a draft of [Smith's] reply about valuing the tithes and the length of his lease.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/149  7 May 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Lichfield to Posthumus Smith at Durham, cannot move from Lichfield because of the rain so cannot hold his visitation in person.
Paper   2f

DCL CADD 79/150  3 June 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, glad to be safely back in Bristol, value [the Haswell] tithes as Mr Conyers offers £10 for them, send the leases and seals as the journey to Chester was expensive.
Paper   2f
DCL CADD 79/151  29 July 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], happy with Mr Dunn’s conduct [at Easington], will only advance his salary to £50 as the parish is large but not greatly populated and the people are healthy so he does not have much visiting of the sick to do and he should air the rooms as he gets coals, Mr Richardson’s daughters should cope on his £160 legacy, happy enough with his report on the Easington tithes so will not insist on a new counterpart, fears “poor Richmond” will starve on Lees farm, hopes his brother Thompson is security for his rent.

Paper 1f

DCL CADD 79/152  9 December 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], received his bills, his doctor allows him out after his gout but the weather is not good, would like to know of any benefactions from the late bishop [of Durham] to his diocese, and of any changes by the new bishop apart from removing Shafto as high sheriff, will receive a longer letter when he is settled in his study.

Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/153  4 November 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, Conyers has been lying over his Haswell tithes and falsely accuses Smith, sorry to have lost “our old Bishop”, the new one will prefer “a very vile sort of people, worse even than whiggs”, trade flourishing [in Bristol] despite it being prohibited with France but there is no money about because of the South Sea, send his rents, precautions for his bills as post is stolen by highwaymen, raised Mr Dunn’s salary to £50 and told him to air the rooms, has gout in his feet.

Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/154  15 April 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, his old acquaintance the Chief Justice of Ireland has advised him how to get a new counterpart in the Palatinate using the threat of a bill in Chancery, plans for his Durham visitation, Dr Harcourt will require Mr Waterman’s lodgings, hopes Mr Dunn will provide good food and drink for the vestry [meeting], will then have to be at Lord Warrington’s.

Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/155  11 March 1721
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, satisfied Richmond “will break upon my hands” despite his bond with with his brother Thompson, clause in his leases about due days for rent, a friend will look in the London General Post Office for his counterpart lease, Mr Dunn should not be incurring bills for house alterations without his permission, plans for his Durham visitation, the bishop of Durham permitting.

Paper 2f

DCL CADD 79/156  16 December 1719
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], his Cheshire agent has no rents, so needs the money from Thomson’s lease and Easington arrears as 25 January is the day for clearing all debts at the fair [in Bristol].

Paper 1f
2 January 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, insert two lives in Thompson's lease for a very moderate £280, must raise his fine for the late Sheriff Spearman's house, will settle the houses when he comes to Durham in May, find out the value of the Easington farms, perhaps from the postmaster or Kitt Hendrey, for raising more money threaten his tenants with taking tithe in kind rather than money, as the corn is worth more than the tithe payment.
Paper 2f

11 January 1723
Letter from George Allan to Posthumous Smith at Durham, Newton Hall is in good repair, tell Archdeacon [Boothe] that he has even erected a new tenant's house.
Paper 1f

10 March 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, will renew Mr Spearman's lease with a fine of £24, do not dispose of the old wood until the barns are finished, Rundle will do more mischief, the new comers “are dangerous persons”, wishes Tom Conyers success as “he has always voted for the true interest of his Country”, the new candidates “will be enemies both to church and state”, let him know about the city and county elections.
Paper 2f

16 March 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe to Posthumus Smith at Durham, returned his accounts but fears the Bristol post bag has been stolen, wrote to the archbishop of Canterbury about his fears of the mines Bill, he responded that it had the bishops' support.
Paper 2f

21 April 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], his last being stolen, reiterates to close with Spearman, the local tenants do not make leases as they plead poverty, if he can get some money he will come north before the [bishop of Durham] “now his good friend Sunderland is dead, I believe, some of the sticklers for his son at the late election, may be balked in their expectations, of getting places; for I'm satisfied his interest expired with his Patron”.
Paper 1f

12 May 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], has not been able to seal Mr Spearman's lease although he pretends to be a £30,000 man, money scarce in the west and has a tenant offering a note for part of his fine so needs his northern rents, split his buildings expenses between his two half year's rents, will not be in Durham this summer because of the expense and “the news of terrible plot”, in good health, able “to journey in a leathern convenience”, and rides.
Paper 1f
DCL CADD 79/163  9 June 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], received his £100 bill, hopes “the trade of robbing the Bristol mail” is ended, supposes Robin Bowes “has taken the sturdy”, supposes Gilbert Spearman will take up his lease when he returns from London where “things have gon very bad with him”, expects to hear “of the publick entry of your Bishop”.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/164  14 July 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill for £40, beware of Richmond taking flight as Mr Dunn reports he has few means, hopes Robin Bowes’s “sturdyness will in the end prove a bite upon himselfe” though he is very much in line with the bishop's principles, hears Sir George[Wheler]'s living is disposed of, he would have told some stories of Bishop Talbot if he did not have a preferment, his successor at Sarum “preaches warm sermons against the Arians”.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/165  22 September 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], sorry about his eldest son's death, wants £70 for the third life in Thompson's lease, Mr Spearman's lease, the settling of his bill, does not expect an answer from the bishop of Durham.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/166  15 October 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], mutual consolation on the loss of their wives, the bishop of Durham thought his account of his clergy and buildings “in the main very just”, hopes Gilbert Spearman will renew [his lease], hopes Robin Bowes can be similarly encouraged and that the archdeacon [?Sharp] will follow the bishop's example in his demands on his tenants, watch Richmond otherwise he will abscond with his rent, he is often asked how all the money brought into Newcastle and Sunderland by shipping is disposed of, hopes Smith will become the next bishop's chancellor.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/167  15 December 1722
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill for £44 8s, values Archdeacon Newton manor, his health is better than when he was in the north, he walks on College Green after morning prayer, hopes he will “bury as many successors as Bishop Crew did”, “that miserable wretch Morton ... lived like a beast and died like a brute” as Boothe twice wrote asking for an apology for his accusation that Boothe was a “common swearer and curser” but received no reply, watch Richmond as he has insufficient stock to survive, no money here as the recent storm in Jamaica has cost £40,000.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/168  5 January 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, recived his bill on Ambrose Cox for £80, hopes he will verify his valuation of Archdeacon Newton manor.
Paper  2f
DCL CADD 79/169  20 May 1723
Receipt of Ro Boothe for a loan of £105 from Posthumus Smith to be repaid from Easington rents and tithes, witnessed by Samuel Slaughter and Braems Wheler.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/170  1 July 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], Mr Dunn's reports on collecting his rents, Richmond claims longer to pay which needs checking, no tenants appeared to renew at Midsummer so Boothe needs his northern rents, gout in his right hand makes writing painful though everyone laughs at him and his physician says he “ought to be thankfull for it”.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/171  16 September 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill for £50 on Mr Crisp Gascoune, will let Richmond off £10 of his rent if he pays up, hopes he will not lose out by the obstinacy of Robin Bowes or Gilbert Spearman, a day trip to Bath has brought on the gout in his right hand which struggles to write.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/172  21 December 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill for £100 on Henry Hoar, needs news of Richmond, a great 2 day storm in Cheshire has wrecked his parsonage house, barns and outbuildings there which will be costly to repair.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/173  23 November 1723
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol [to Smith], Richmond has “sliped thro our fingers”, watch Hubbothorne who is behind with his rent, “this part of the World says that North Country men are only honest with well looking to”, supposes neither Bowes nor Spearman are disposed to renew, regards to the dean of Durham.
Paper  1f

DCL CADD 79/174  29 May 1720
Letter from Ro Boothe at Bristol to Posthumus Smith at Durham, received his bill for £30, sorry he missed his visitation but glad all is in order which is a credit to Smith, his “mans sickness” meant his gout has struck him at home rather than on the journey, it afflicts his legs, his friends say it aids longevity, Mr Conyers proposes renewing the lease of his tithes on the old terms but he needs a valuation as he was tricked last time, likewise for Haswell as he is sure they can be raised, sorry his Archdeacon Newton farm is not meeting expectations, floods have washed away some houses and damaged merchants’ goods in cellars, not likely to hear from Bowes, “Molley Beaumont lays deeply to heart the usage she received from our Bishop at his wife’s death”.
Paper  2f

DCL CADD 79/175  [c.1720]

Paper    2f

DCL CADD 80  1721 x 1755
“Notitia Dunelmensis”, notes on the early history of the church in Northumbria and Durham in the hand of Thomas Mangey (canon of Durham 1721-1755) with his ownership inscription dated 6 September 1723 at the head of the contents leaf on folio i.; many folios blank.
The notes are arranged in three sections entitled “Scriptores Dunelmenses” (ff.1-10), “Annales Dunelm. Lindisfarn.” (ff.11-39), and “Notitia locorum” (begins on f.40). On ff.62-90 there is a collation of the York manuscript of Symeon of Durham's History of the church of Durham with the edition of Sir Roger Twysden (published in his Historiæ Anglicanæ Scriptores X, 1652)
An inscription on the front pastedown by Granville Sharp, 20 December 1782, confirms that the volume is in the hand of Thomas Mangey, since it matches the hand of Mangey's commonplace books and other manuscripts, which are in his [Sharp's] own possession, having been given to him by Mangey's son, the Revd. John Mangey, Vicar of Dunmow

DCL CADD 82-85  1825 - 1843
Plans and drawings of churches in the archdeaconry of Durham, drawn by John Burlison (father of the artist Clement Burlison) and countersigned by Charles Thorp (1783-1862) archdeacon of Durham 1831-1862.
There is a plan for each church, in some cases accompanied by an elevation and occasionally a drawing of the interior. Most of the plans are signed “Cha. Thorp Official 182[5]” but some have later additions and corrections dated 1828-1829. Thorp was official to the archdeacon of Durham and continued to use the set when he himself became archdeacon of Durham in 1831. Most of the plans have notes on the number of seats, frequently with the division into free and appropriated. Information on the erection of galleries is often given, and occasionally also information on effigies and other features of the church.

DCL CADD 86  1838 - 1878
Album of letters mainly addressed to John Arthur Douglas Bloomfield, 2nd Baron Bloomfield (1802-1879, diplomatist, attaché at Vienna from 1818, and thence served in Lisbon (1824), Stuttgart (1825), Stockholm (1826), St Petersburg (1839), Berlin (1851) and Vienna (1860), retiring in 1871 as ambassador there, 2nd Baron Bloomfield in the peerage of Ireland from 1846 and created Baron Bloomfield in the peerage of the United Kingdom in 1871), with a smaller quantity addressed to Arthur Penrhyn Stanley (1815-1881), Dean of Westminster.
The album was probably assembled by Lord Bloomfield's wife Georgiana (1822-1905, née Liddell, 16th daughter of Thomas Henry Liddell, 1st Baron Ravensworth, maid of honour to Queen Victoria 1841 till, on her marriage in 1845, she moved to Russia). Although arranged in the form of an autograph album, the letters are of considerable interest for their content as well as their signatures. Many of those to Lord Bloomfield touch on matters of diplomacy, while those to Dean Stanley shed light on late 19th century church affairs.
Size: 315 x 276mm
Paper book, in black half morocco binding many of the letters are now stained from the acidity in the mounting card of the volume they are stuck into 112 items stuck in with stamp edging, some now loose
Provenance: Chapter Library Acc No 205.
Ownership history: Formerly in a desk in the Hunter MS closet. Formerly numbered Add Ms 28.
The letters were possibly originally numbered on the pages of the volume with the correspondents identified also on the pages by Lady Bloomfield. The letters have subsequently been renumbered, on the letters, and dates and correspondents listed [by Roger Norris c.1990]. The list was checked and expanded to include contents by Michael Stansfield, August 2005.

Paper   2f
Provenance: This letter was presented to Durham Cathedral Library by Mrs. Rogers of Canterbury, granddaughter of Bishop Edward Maltby, in 8 April 1920, and inserted in CADD 86, with which it has no connection.
DCL CADD 87 1801 - 1902
Album of letters, signatures, envelopes, concert programmes, menus, invites etc. (some only loosely inserted) assembled by Georgiana, Baroness Bloomfield (1822-1905, née Liddell, daughter of 1st Baron Ravensworth and wife of the diplomat, John Arthur Douglas Bloomfield, 2nd Baron Bloomfield).

Although assembled in the form of an autograph album, many of the letters hold significant interest for their contents as well as their signatures (e.g. no.137, a letter from Charles Dickens commenting on the way in which Edward Bulwer Lytton, 1st Earl of Lytton, had influenced the ending of Great Expectations, or no.194, a letter from Liszt with a short autograph piece of music, or no.201A, a sketch plan of the battle of Balaclava by Lord Cardigan). Family connections as well as her husbands's diplomatic career gave Lady Bloomfield a wide acquaintance among the most eminent people of the day, both in Britain and abroad and much of the material is correspondence generated in the course of that career. Internal evidence in the album reveals that she also actively solicited contributions to her collection of autographs, both autographs and letters, from appropriately distinguished people. Item 1, and some indications in other letters, suggest that some of the material was supplied by her niece, Edith, Lady Lytton, wife of 1st Earl of Lytton. The material comes generally from Lady Bloomfield's time as maid of honour to Queen Victoria (December 1841 to July 1845), as a diplomat's wife in St Petersburg (1845-1851), Berlin (1851-1860) and Vienna (1860-1871). Her husband retired in 1871 and died in 1879 but Lady Bloomfield continued to collect material up to her own death in 1905. Dating of undated material has often been attempted on the basis of when a certain person may thus have come within Lady Bloomfield's milieu.

The material is generally grouped by category of author [in Lady Bloomfield's arrangement]; the authors include the following (a far from complete list):

Scholars: Karl Wilhelm von Humboldt, William Lecky.

Foreign politicians, statesmen and diplomats: Mehemed Fuad, Duc de Gramont, Abraham Lincoln, Baron Manteuffel, Metternich, John Lothrop Motley, Baron Stockmar, Talleyrand, Thiers.

Royalty, British: Queen Adelaide, Queen Victoria, Albert Prince Consort, Princess Alice, Princess Charlotte, Queen Charlotte, Frederick Duke of York, Princess Helena, William IV.

Royalty, foreign: Ernest King of Hanover, George King of Hanover, Leopold King of the Belgians, Louis Philippe King of the French, Louis Napoleon French Emperor, and Empress Eugénie.

James Raine's annotated, interleaved copy of his book Saint Cuthbert: with an account of the state in which his remains were found upon the opening of his tomb in Durham Cathedral in ... MDCCCXXVII (Durham and London, 1828).
The interleaved material includes original drawings and engravings for the illustrations, as well as numerous extra illustrations. Drawings signed M.T. are by Matthew Thompson of Durham. The annotations include a detailed account of Raine's payments to the printer Francis Humble, and to Mark Lambert of Newcastle-upon-Tyne for engravings and to Isaac Richardson of Newcastle-upon-Tyne for woodcut illustrations for the book. The interleaved material also includes letters from W.N. Darnell to Raine, in one of which (facing p.214), commenting on his lack of success in enlarging a drawing of St. Cuthbert's skull, he writes "perhaps there is a spell upon me. I wish no evil may befall you for having been engaged in that wicked spoliation of the dead." Some of the illustrations are hand coloured.

Disbound copy of James Raine's Saint Cuthbert: with an account of ... the opening of his tomb in ... MDCCCXXVII (Durham and London, 1828) with the 8 plates and many of the illustrations finely hand-coloured and gilded in imitation of the manuscripts and artefacts from which they were copied; together with:
(a-b) Two pencil drawings by Joseph Bouet (one the original for the figure of a monk on plate 3, the other a drawing of a grave cover revealed during excavations in the Galilee Chapel of Durham Cathedral, dated 17 February 1830, and having on the back a pencil note ‘Mr Surtees with Mr Bouet's compliments’.)
(c) Two pages (a bifolium) of unpublished drawings connected with the opening of St. Cuthbert’s tomb, showing the outer coffin, the positions of the remains found within, and the profile of the three coffins, showing the thickness of each.
(d) Newspaper cutting from The Times of 1939 about St Cuthbert's cross.
Different traditions among Raine’s descendants ascribe the fine colouring of the plates and illustrations to Raine himself, or possibly to his daughter Annie Raine Ellis, author of Sylvestra (1881).

R.S. Boumphrey heraldry papers
3 files

Biographical information: Robert Staveley Boumphrey (1916-1987) worked in the Colonial Audit Service from 1939 after education at Liverpool College and Pembroke College, Oxford. He served in Nigeria, London, the Falkland Islands, Malaya and Singapore up until 1959. He then began a new career in education, acting as bursar to the Godolphin School, Salisbury, and then finance officer to first Durham and then Lancaster universities. Meantime, he had a great interest in genealogy and heraldry. He designed Lancaster university's arms and wrote a number of books on heraldry in the north. His retirement years were spent in Winchester, working for a planned book on the history of Hampshire churches and guiding in the cathedral.

"Durham Families and Heraldry: Index of Place-Names" compiled by Boumphrey, an index to his 1982 work on "Durham Families and Heraldry" with C.R. Hudleston, at Reference 929.2 in DCL, though the page numbers in the index are to Boumphrey's typewritten copy rather than the Library's manuscript copy, so the page numbers in the index need to be multiplied by 2431 and divided by 828 to get the approximate correct page in the Library copy!

John Mitchinson’s “Durham Churches”. Notes and descriptions of the older churches in Durham diocese, embellished with some pencil and occasionally watercolour sketches of features and a few of W. Davison of Alnwick's 1824/6 engravings of churches. Originally compiled by Mitchinson (1833-1918) when at Durham School and during vacations from Oxford 1845-1856, and subsequently revised up to c.1900. There are also 2 sections, each ordered alphabetically, of photographs of the churches, almost all undated but probably of the late 1800s and up to c.1910. The descriptions have been cross-referenced to both sets of photographs.

Letters to William Thorpe Jones (1864-1932) FRIBA, architect to the University of Durham from 1892, who carried out work especially on Durham Castle in the 1920s and also Durham Observatory. Outside Durham, he worked on Ripon Cathedral. The letters concern mostly his work on the Castle, meetings and appointments, and also Ripon Cathedral, the [Durham County Hospital Ball], the Prisoners of War Fund, and a proposed “Durham Society”.
There are also a number of letters to mostly Col. Rowlandson and also C.D. Shafto esq about the Durham County Hospital Ball 1894-1901 from local dignitaries about their attendance and willingness to be patrons.
Language: English
Paper  File of 60 items
Biographical information: William Jones was an architectural pupil of C. Hodgson Fowler. He resided in Durham at 43 North Bailey. He produced various reports on the city’s architecture including “Durham and its Future” and “The Walls and Towers of Durham”. He wrote on Durham Castle in the Victoria County History and published a report on it with F. Fox in 1925. He served as president of the Northern Architectural Association, vice-president of the Northumberland and Durham Architectural and Archaeological Society and as a member of the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects.
Provenance: In an envelope addressed to Dr C. Adamson of 10 S. Bailey, Durham, postmarked 2 August 1965
Some sorting into alphabetical order of correspondent by ?R.C. Norris had been carried out, with the correspondent identified, a few details about the correspondent and a single running number added. 1 item was numbered as “Add Ms 211/8”, but another item was already 211, so the collection has been numbered as 237 and re-sorted wholly into chronological order (June 2004).
Related material in other DUL collections: Durham University Library ASC, Durham Castle building archive has many plans of William Jones for his work at Durham Castle. There is also a collection of 125 slides of his work on the castle (Durham University Library ASC, W.T. Jones lantern slide collection).

Newspaper cuttings scrapbooks recording the career of Canon Dawson Dawson-Walker, his academic achievements and various roles at Durham University, along with printed sermons, addresses, lectures, reviews, and correspondence of his, with some notice of his contemporaries in the Church (F.J. Chavasse bishop of Liverpool, John Charles Wright archbishop of Sydney), at Durham (Thomas Jones, Harry Butler Smith, Henry Ellershaw), and in Bradford (Sidney Singleton, Dr W.H. Keeling, Augustus Bell Sewell, Arthur Emile Yeadon). There is also some notice of local events in and around Durham and, in the later years, of the activities, athletic and academic achievements and early careers of his sons (Edwin Felvus (physician), Richard Harvey (clergyman), Eric Dawson (clergyman)) and the work of his wife as president of the Durham Diocese Mothers' Union. Most of the cuttings are from Durham papers - The Durham County Advertiser, Durham Chronicle and the Durham University Journal - with some Bradford, Yorkshire and national papers also included, and the Church Family News and The Record. Occasional letters, telegrams, service papers, invites and programmes are inserted. The paper, date and occasional comments are recorded by [Dawson Dawson-Walker].

Biographical information: Canon Dawson Dawson-Walker (1868-1934) was born in Bradford as Dawson Walker, the son of Richard Felvus Walker. He was educated at the grammar school there and won an open classical scholarship to Corpus Christi College, Oxford, taking his B.A. in 1891. He went on to gain the degrees of M.A. (1894), B.D. (1901) and D.D. (1905) from Oxford and (ad eundem) Durham. He was ordained deacon in 1892 and priest in 1893 in Ripon diocese and served as a curate in Bradford from 1892. He began his career at Durham University in 1893, becoming a lecturer in classics then, followed by posts as chaplain to University College in 1895, theological tutor in 1898, and censor of the unattached students in 1901. He was appointed Professor of Biblical Exegesis and chaplain to St Hild's College in 1910 and served as Principal of St John's College from 1912 until 1919 when he was appointed Professor of Divinity and Ecclesiastical History and a canon of Durham Cathedral. He wrote The Gift of Tongues (1906), St Paul's Letters to Corinth (1909), The Epistle to the Colossians and the Epistle to Titus (1926) and was co-editor of English Church Manuals and The Churchman from 1910 to 1914. He also served as examining chaplain to the bishop of Durham from 1909 and the bishop of Sodor and Man 1912-1925, commissary to the archbishop of Sydney (1910) and in Durham served as chaplain to the Durham County Hospital (1901) and the Durham Corporation (1918). He married in 1899 Mary Maud Jane, daughter of E.H. Featherston. He was known for an evangelical outlook and was popular amongst sections of the non-conformist community, having taught in his pre-Oxford days in the Eastbrook Wesleyan Sunday Schools in Bradford. He changed his name from Dawson Walker to Dawson Dawson-Walker by deed poll on 16 January 1925.

Provenance: Probably acquired after 1976 and possibly not long after as their previous Add Ms labels would seem to be at least 20+ years old in 2004

Ownership history: Some of the pages in 1-3 are now loose as they were pages with items about Durham Cathedral which Eric Dawson-Walker permitted [the Chapter Clerk] to cut out in April 1976. These were transferred to Canon R.L. Coppin for the Cathedral Library 28 April 1976. They have been replaced in their original location 2 September 2004.

f.319-330 Index to the Admiralty Court cases by document type.

Language: Latin with occasional passages of English
Size: 205 x 315mm
Paper book, in vellum covered pasteboards 331f., foliated [possibly by Mickleton]
Ownership history: The volume may have been put together by [James Mickleton the elder]. It comprises in the main the Admiralty Court papers, which were originally folded, and have subsequently been flattened and inserted in a volume between 2 quires, the quire at the front containing the legal formulary material and the one at the back largely blank, but with an index to the Admiralty Court material by [Mickleton]. The volume is titled "Miscellaneous", possibly before the Admiralty Court material was added.
Related material elsewhere: The admiralty court material may have once been part of the series now TNA HCA24 (High Court of Admiralty: Instance and Prize Courts: Interrogatories Files 1541-1733).

Cradock manuscripts, a collection of documents relating to the will of Thomas Cradock (1633-1689), commissary of Richmond and attorney general of the bishopric of Durham, and the subsequent history of his estate.

Language: English, with occasional Latin
Size: 310 x 490mm

Paper book, half-leather binding  146p., with 232 items inserted, mostly stuck in Biographical information: Thomas Cradock was the grandson of John Cradock (d.1627), vicar of Gainford, Woodhorn and Northallerton, canon of Durham, spiritual chancellor of Durham and archdeacon of Northumberland. His father was Sir Joseph Cradock of Harperley (d.1686), lawyer and commissary of Richmond. Thomas was his only surviving son. He was also a lawyer, a fellow of Trinity Hall Cambridge and had become attorney general of the diocese of Durham in 1664 and commissary of Richmond archdeaconry in 1680. In addition to his father's inheritance, he received Woodhouses colliery, subject to a small annuity to John Cradock, and the butlerage or pipage on all wines imported by sea into Cumberland, Westmorland, Northumberland, Durham and Yorkshire (bought by his father for the lifetime of his then two sons). Thomas also did well out of his marriages to first Sibella Clarke (d.1669), coheiress of Dr Gabriel Clarke archdeacon of Durham and master of Greatham, and then Dorothy Heath (d.1709), daughter of Nicholas Heath of Little Eden. His children, Betty and Joseph, predeceased him. He was buried in Durham Cathedral on 28 February 1689.

With no direct descendants, he drew up his will to benefit a variety of relatives and associates, creating complications which his executors struggled to cope with. The beneficiaries of his will were:

1. His widow, Dorothy, who had his estates at Bradley, Gainford and Quarry Hill in Brancepeth with £500 for herself and her relations.
2. Relatives of his eldest sister Elizabeth (d.1678), wife to Ralph Hutton of Mainsforth (d.1680): £50 to William Boutflower, widower of their eldest daughter Elizabeth; £50 to his daughter Elizabeth; £100 each to Frances and Anne Hutton.
3. His next sister Margaret (died after 1693) wife of Ralph Bowes of Bradley; £50 to George, their eldest son; £100 each to his daughters Margaret and Mary.
4. A small legacy to the stepdaughter of his youngest sister Anne, second wife to Thomas Musgrave, dean of Carlisle (both dead by 1689), later wife to Ralph Shippersdon of Hallgarth.
5. His elder half-sister Jane, wife to first Thomas Thweng of Kilton Castle (daughters Ann and Jane) and then Tocketts of Tocketts, received a small legacy.
6. His younger half-sister Peregrina, wife to Sir William Chaytor of Croft, £100; their children Thomas and Ann small bequests.
7. Described as cousins were: the Whittinghams of Holmside; the Wrens of Binchester; the “four cousins Cradock of Bishop Auckland”; other Cradock cousins of Gainford and Hornsey and Dr Zachary Cradock, provost of Eton College; cousin Henry Saville and his 3 sisters; cousin John Harrison and aunt Ann Bowes; and other more obscure cousins, William Killinghall, Bailes, Dolemas, Banners of Sergeant's Hall, Vane, Sidgwick and Atrix (Ettrick).
8. Trinity Hall (Cambridge), Gray's Inn (London), Bow church (Durham), widows of the clergy, the binding of their sons as apprentices, the poor of the North Bailey (Durham), Richmond and Witton-le-Wear, Mr Nelson to teach navigation and, especially, the founding of a Durham workhouse or factory.
9. His lands at Gainford, Quarryhill and Bradley were to go after his wife's decease to his cousin Richard Cradock, his nephew Thomas Bowes, and his great-nephew Thomas Bowes, son of George Bowes.

10. The rest of his estate was to go to his nephews Ralph Hutton and Thomas Bowes who, with his widow, were to execute the will whose legacies amounted to £2606, with the annuities totalling £212, along with some small gifts. The will engendered a number of disputes. The widow was dissatisfied. The corporation of Durham obtained a commission to investigate various unpaid legacies and battled to get the workhouse built. Isaac Basire claimed an unpaid loan which was dismissed. The death of the widow, Dorothy Cradock, in 1709 brought the Quarryhill estate to Thomas Bowes who also gained property, including Woodhouses, on the death of his uncle Cuthbert Bowes in 1714.

The deaths of the nephews and executors Thomas Bowes in 1718 and Ralph Hutton in 1719 brought the Cradock trust estate into the hands of Thomas Bowes's eldest son, Thomas. His litigious nature has generated the bulk of the material that this collection comprises, principally correspondence with lawyers. Much of this revolved around the title to the estate and colliery of Woodhouses involving George Nixon, the lessee, and bringing in the heirs at law of Sir Joseph Cradock, and one Thomas Cradock of London, a cordwainer, and a debt of £1800 due to Bowes's neighbour William Belasyse of Brancepeth who claimed security for the proposed sale of Woodhouses from Bowes's estate of Quarryhill. The case landed Bowes in prison and finally a commission in 1752 decided on the shares of those entitled to the freehold and copyhold partition of Woodhouses, shortly after Bowes's own death.

Provenance: Presented to the Cathedral Library by D.S. Boutflower [1928] (a note of 18 September 1928 from “D.S.B.” presents the notebook and “formal letter”).

Ownership history: Probably in the library of Sir Henry Clavering, 10th and last baronet. Originally belonged to Joshua Douglas, town clerk of Newcastle, whose daughter married Sir Thomas Clavering, dying without issue. It was bought at auction in London by Thomas Randell of Ryton rectory, Co Durham, for 3 guineas (“many years ago” (in 1912)) who then sold it on to Revd D.S. Boutflower again for 3 guineas on 16 August 1912. (From notes and a receipt on the inside front cover.) Formerly numbered “24” within a circle. Originally sorted into rough category of document and then chronological, numbered thus in pencil and stuck into a volume. Then renumbered into the present chronological order in blue crayon (so that the volume is now not in number order), when a manuscript list and index was also made which identifies the page number in the volume of each item.

Play about Latin grammar, in 5 acts.
The name of Thomas Rud (?owner) appears at the top of f2. (Rud was a Newcastle and Durham grammar master and author of Syntaxis latine, & anglice, et prosodia, (Cambridge 1700).) Rud may well even have been the author, probably when he was headmaster of the cathedral grammar school (1691-1699 and 1709-1711), composed for performance by boys at the school.
Bound in a folio from a 15th century service book, see the next entry.
Payments occur in DCD/L/AA/4 under In Decretis of £2.13s.9d. in 1715-16 (admittedly after Rud’s time) for the Oration and Acting a Play.

Biographical information: Shute Barrington's early career had all the manifestations of the selfish pluralism which demoralised the church in the 18th century. Honour was heaped upon honour; he exchanged one cathedral stall for another richer one, was promoted from the see of Llandaff which was plagued by non-resident bishops, to Salisbury and then to Durham where he sat tight from 1791 to 1826. His career differs from the norm somewhat in his great generosity to all sorts of charities and in his active interest in educational matters, as evidenced in the Barrington School at Bishop Auckland. In his will he provided for the establishment of the “Barrington Society for promoting Religion and Christian piety in the diocese of Durham”. Whilst at Auckland Castle he was energetic in carrying out repairs, as he had been at Salisbury. He was of the opinion that the corruptions of the Church of Rome were the main causes of the French Revolution. A great advocate of the Establishment, he proclaimed himself willing to grant to Roman Catholics “every degree of toleration short of political power”.

Paper 55 booklets
Biographical information: Charles Henry Waller (1840-1910), Church of England clergyman and college head, was born at Ettingshall, Staffordshire, on 23 November 1840. He was the eldest son of the Revd Stephen Richard Waller and his wife, Lucy, eldest daughter of the Revd Charles Richard Cameron and his wife, Lucy Lyttelton Cameron (1781–1858), children's author. Waller was educated at Bromsgrove School and at University College, Oxford, where he graduated BA in 1863 and MA in 1867; in 1891 he became BD and DD. He was ordained deacon in 1864 and priest in 1865.

Waller settled in London. He was briefly curate to the Revd W. Pennefather (1816–1873), vicar of St Jude's, Mildmay Park, Islington, but resigned owing to ill health. Although the Revd A.M.W. Christopher (1820–1913) considered him to be a shy person, he recommended him as a tutor to the Revd T.P. Boulbee (1818–1884), principal of the London College of Divinity. Waller was appointed tutor in 1865 when the college was situated at Kilburn, and he remained on the staff after it moved in the following year to Highbury. From 1882 to 1899 he was the first McNeile professor of biblical exegesis at the college, a post founded by Dean Francis Close (1797–1882) in memory of Dean Hugh McNeile (1795–1879) “for the duty of preaching and expounding to the people the true meaning and application of Holy Scripture” (McNeile professorship, 24 Jan 1882, University of Birmingham, Special Collections, St John's archive). Waller succeeded Boulbee as principal in 1884 and remained in office until 1899. During his time as tutor and principal more than 700 men were trained at LCD. In 1957 a window was erected in his memory in the college chapel at Northwood, Middlesex (later the library of the London Bible College).

Alongside his college commitments, Waller was the Sunday curate of Christ Church, Mayfair, from 1865 to 1869, reader at Curzon Chapel, Mayfair, in 1869, minister of St John's Chapel, Downshire Hill, Hampstead, from 1870 to 1874, and examining chaplain to Bishop J.C. Ryle of Liverpool (1816–1900) from 1880-1899. On 22 July 1865 he married Arabella Maria Stubbs (1832–1914) and they had a family of four sons (three were ordained and two were briefly tutors at his college) and three daughters (one of whom became a missionary with the Church Missionary Society).

Waller was an evangelical whose faith had been enriched while he was an undergraduate at Oxford. He had heard the Revd J.W. Burgon (1813–1888) preach a series of seven sermons on the inspiration and interpretation of scripture, which profoundly influenced his attitude to the Bible. The first sermon was particularly significant: “I can never forget what I heard that afternoon. … To his teaching, under God, I owe all I know of divinity” (The Record, 17 August 1888). Waller's publications included a number of biblical commentaries and sermons, and in 1887 he published The authoritative inspiration of Holy Scripture as distinct from the inspiration of its human authors. It was his conviction that biblical criticism was responsible for unsettling Christian faith, and that “the one shortcoming of the church at the present day was its neglect of the study of dogmatic Christianity” (Church Association Monthly Intelligencer, 171).

In his last year as principal Waller was in poor health and took a six month sea cruise to Australia. He retired in 1899 on a pension of £400 a year to Little Coxwell, Faringdon, Berkshire, where he died on 9 May 1910 and was buried, survived by his wife. A. F. Munden, ‘Waller, Charles Henry (1840-1910)’, Oxford Dictionary of National Biography, (Oxford, 2004) [accessed 16 Dec 2004: http://www.oxforddnb.com/view/article/36707] Ownership history: Sermons previously numbered Waller 1 etc.

Duncombe Shafto family scrapbook, comprising newspaper cuttings, service papers and some telegrams relating to the military, educational, ecclesiatical and political activities of the family and some of their relatives in Co. Durham and abroad, featuring especially their deaths and subsequent memorials. The 1878 Afghan War, the Boer War, reaction to it in Durham, the Durham Light Infantry, socks for it in South Africa, the laying up of colours, the First World War, royal deaths of the time and the deaths of Bishops J.R.A. Chinnery-Haldane of Argyll and the Isles and T.W. Wilkinson of Hexham, and the 1877 Boat Race dead heat all also feature.
The material is generally entered chronologically and most of it is local to Co. Durham, but there are cuttings from further afield such as from "The Wykehamist". Members of the family featured include:
Arthur Duncombe Shafto (1814-1900), vicar of Byers Green, Whitworth and then Buckworth and Morborne (Hants) from 1845 before being appointed rector of Brancepeth in 1854. He was an eminent local public figure serving as chairman or president of various local organisations, including Durham County Hospital, Durham Rural District Council, and Durham Board of Guardians. He married Dorothea Wilkinson of Harperley Park in 1842.
Arthur Duncombe Shafto, d.1878, son of the above Arthur, captain in the Royal Artillery, was killed in an explosion at the magazine at Kabul.
Charles Ottiwell Duncombe Shafto, (1853-1915) youngest son of the first above Arthur, was educated at Durham School and Jesus College Cambridge where he was a rowing blue. He was subsequently a barrister, then a J.P. and town councillor in Durham. He married Helena Rosa Wilkinson of Harperley Park. His annotations appear in parts of the scrapbook.
Charles Duncombe Shafto (1878-1900), eldest son of Charles Ottiwell above, was educated at Winchester College, and killed as a 2nd lieutenant in the 1st Durham Light Infantry at Potgieter's Drift, South Africa.
Arthur Duncombe Shafto (1880-1914), 2nd son of Charles Ottiwell above, was educated at Durham School. He served in the Boer War in the 5th Northumberland Fusiliers, gaining a D.S.O., and, as a Captain in the Royal Scots, was killed at Mons in the First War. He married Marguerita Stapleton on 6 April 1904.

James Raine's scrapbook of documents about the restoration of the church of St Mary the Less, South Bailey, Durham in the later 1840s.

The book describes the features, the repairs and alterations to them, and the raising of funds for the work. It was compiled by the rector, James Raine senior (1791-1858), being mostly material sent to him, and also his churchwarden William Henderson, being designs, letters, estimates, bills and receipts, some endorsed by Raine, and then stuck into the volume, with notes added by Raine on the volume's pages.

The book was formerly a ledger, titled “Ledger No1”, from which the first 34 pages have been cut out; not all pages have been used.

Contents:

p.5 2 notes inserted of works by Mr Baker when he was rector; on the dorso of 5b is a cancelled description by Raine of the state of the church when he became rector in 1828, with a bill of George Burnet, mason, for “altering palasaiding” for James Baker, 27 July 1827 (loose), 3 items.

p.6 Drawing with [Raine's] note “Finials given to the uprights of the old Altar Rails by me J.R.”; 2 estimates for a font from John Forster and T.S. Jackson, 1839, 3 items.

Biographical information: James William Fawcett, (1859-1942), was born in Brancepeth and grew up in Stanley and Durham. He had a considerable linguistic ability which he used in a wide-ranging career in the Imperial Service from 1878 to 1895 including being Spanish interpreter in Malta, serving with Lord Kitchener in Egypt for 7 years as interpreter to the Arabic forces, and also acting in Gibraltar and Hong Kong. He then had a spell in public life in Australia, being M.P. for Kennedy, New South Wales from 1897, and later was chief stipendiary magistrate there. Returning home to Satley in 1902, he became absorbed in local and natural history, researching, lecturing, forming naturalist field clubs and acting as secretary of the Durham Historical Society. He was renowned as the authority on the history of his native north-west Co Durham. Besides his many and varied contributions to the Durham County Advertiser, he published a variety of works, including The Birds of Durham (Consett 1890), A brief life of the Reverend John Cross : forty years a chaplain in the colony of New South Wales (Brisbane 1898), Historic places in the Derwent valley (Satley 1901), Memorials of Early Primitive Methodism in the County of Durham 1820-1829 (1908), and A History of the Parish of Dipton (Durham 1911), along with transcriptions of the parish registers of Muggleswick (1906), Lanchester (1909) and Satley (1914).

C.C. Hodges correspondence.
The earliest 4 letters are from J.F. Hodgson to Canon William Greenwell discussing various features of Durham's ecclesiastical architecture, particularly in the cathedral. Thence most of the letters concern Charles Hodges's investigation of the history of Durham Castle and his proposed publication on it, including translations of texts and photographs, and his efforts to solicit, unsuccessfully, the cooperation of Canon Greenwell in his proposed work. The volume did not reach publication, though it was evidently far enough advanced for correspondents to put in orders for it. Other aspects of Hodges's work also feature, such as negotiations for one of his memorials, to Bede, and further discoveries at Hexham abbey. As well as Greenwell, correspondents feature the Durham architects W.T. Jones and W.G. Footitt, the architectural historian John Bilson, and the archaeologist H. Gee.

Language: English
Paper 38 items

Biographical information: The majority of these 38 letters are to Charles Clement Hodges (1852-1932), an archaeologist, architect and antiquarian who had a wide knowledge of the Saxon and medieval ecclesiastical and military architecture of northern England. He was perhaps most renowned for his work and publications on Hexham abbey. His early career was in the drawing office of the Consett steel works before he moved to Hexham to realise his enthusiasm for antiquities and his ability as an architect, becoming associated with such as Canon William Greenwell. Hodges worked much on the restoration of Hexham abbey, in association with John Gibson, and also designed a number of memorial crosses, such as those at Whitby, Durham, Roker, Hexham and Rothbury, and recumbent slabs. He published on Blyth priory (Nottinghamshire), Selby abbey, and County Durham's sepulchral slabs, in addition to various works on Hexham, along with articles on other churches and archaeological and architectural features. He also planned a comprehensive account of Durham Castle.

Provenance: Transferred from Newcastle-upon-Tyne City reference library in c.1970s (found in an envelope addressed to Mr R. Norris at Durham University Library).

Ownership history: Arranged in chronological order and numbered A1 etc (with some errors on both counts) [at Newcastle City reference library], each item being stamped with the Newcastle stamp.

Related material in other DUL collections: 29 letters from J.T. Fowler to Hodges 1891-1905 are Add Ms 457 in Durham University Library

DCL CADD 376 1810 - 1832 & 1863
Drawings of church fonts in pencil and wash by John Buckler FSA (1770-1851) and his son John Chessell Buckler (1793-1894). ?Originally in drawing books, mostly two to a page, subsequently cut up, sorted into alphabetical order of county and then roughly alphabetical order of place. Most of the images are just of the font itself, with none of its surrounds depicted, except for sometimes an indication of the floor; very occasionally, as in 376/1 f.41 & 82, a wider architectural context is shown. Very occasionally a piscina or chest is depicted, as indicated.
3 paper books, bound by Andrews of Durham
Provenance: Presented by Mrs Bland, widow of George Bland, archdeacon of Northumberland (d.1880).

DCL CADD 380 1943 - 1998
Sermons of Douglas Jones from his early days as a priest at Windmill Hill Bristol, through his time at Oxford and Durham to his retirement in Edinburgh. Some are in volumes, with on occasion a list of the texts in the front, with a further quantity loose. A few are headed with the date and place [of preaching] at the head; rather more are noted with the date and place of subsequent [preaching (sometimes several, especially in retirement at Gullane)] at the foot. Some have annotations, amendments and corrections, perhaps from when they were subsequently reused. Most of the volumes have occasional insertions of further sermons, notes for sermons, lists of hymns etc for services, and some invites and notices of events.

Biographical information: Douglas Rawlinson Jones (1919-2005) was an Old Testament scholar and priest who was born in Bristol. He graduated in theology from St Edmund Hall, Oxford, in 1941, and then went on to Wycliffe Hall and ordination before a curacy at Windmill Hill, Bristol, in 1942. He returned to Oxford in 1945 as lecturer at Wycliffe Hall and chaplain at Wadham College. He moved to Durham University in 1951 as a lecturer in Theology. He was appointed to the university's Lightfoot Chair in Divinity in 1964, thereby also becoming a residentiary canon of the cathedral. In Durham he produced articles and essays, and developed the syllabus by introducing systematic theology as a core option, whilst doing away with the requirement for theology students to learn Hebrew. He also introduced an MA by examination (quite an innovation then) and dissertation in advanced Hebrew studies and Old Testament exegesis. Under his guidance, ecumenical relationships with Ushaw College grew, leading to it becoming affiliated to the university in 1968. He also moved the Theology department to Abbey House in 1978. Retirement to the outskirts of Edinburgh in 1985 allowed him to publish an impressive commentary on Jeremiah in 1992 but university and church involvement (he served on General Synod 1970-1985 and its Liturgical Commission 1981-1986) frustrated further major publications.

Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 381/2  26 October 1975
Finalising arrangements, including transport and his wife's attendance, for [dinner in Brasenose college] next Sunday.
Paper, 1f
Reports, estimates, correspondence and articles concerning the work by Harrison and Harrison, organ builders of Durham, on the cathedral organ from 1903 to 1935, assembled by Conrad Eden (cathedral organist 1936-1974, d.1994).

Provenance: Transferred from the Chapter Office by the chapter clerk Dick Walker to the Music Closet in the Cathedral Library in September 1974; assigned to Additional Manuscripts in October 2009.

DCL CADD 382/1 4 January 1883
Copy letter from Dr Armes, 17 North Bailey, to the dean and chapter, reporting on the condition and reuseability of the remaining pipes of the old organ, and giving his opinion of the surviving work of Smith and Jordan, Bishop and Postill and offering to show the pipes to chapter.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/2 20 November 1896
Report [by Canon Cooper, precentor] of a paper by Dean G.W. Kitchin at Great Chapter delivered before the full choir, criticising the music, its performance, and the organ.
Copy made 23 September 1971 by C.W. Eden from papers left to the Royal College of Organists by Sir Walter Parratt’s son.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/3 14 May 1903
Report on "the remains of the old organ" by G.W. Kitchin, dean, with the help of Dr Armes, summarising the history of the cathedral's organs and giving Dr Armes's 1873 specification of the old organ, and suggesting that chapter calls in Mr Harrison, the organ builder, to report if they could "create a good Father Smith Organ out of the ruins", to be costed with or without a case.
Paper, 3f

DCL CADD 382/4 18 June 1903
Report by Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham (with a depiction of their works in the heading), to the dean of Durham on their examination of the old organ in the nave south triforium and suggesting that 5/6 stops of Father Smith (1691) and 3 of Jordan (1748), detailed and discussed, might be restored to make a two-manual organ, with the rest being inferior quality of later date and worn out mechanism; they propose their latest tubular pneumatic system for the mechanism with mechanical power to blow it, including a full specification and particulars, costed at £765.
Paper, 6f
DCL CADD 382/5  3 November 1903
Copy letter from Dr Philip Armes to the dean and chapter reporting on the state of the organ and “the rate at which it is depreciating in value, and its powers of usefulness decreasing”, pointing out the lack of expenditure on it since March 1877, with the swell, three notes on the pedal organ and one on the choir organ now mal-functioning, suggesting Mr Henry Willis be asked to implement his renewal proposals, and that he hopes to be able to cope until Christmas but something ought to be done thereafter.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/6  21 November 1903
Letter from [Dean] G.W. Kitchin at the Deanery, Durham, to Mr Harrison reporting that chapter, in spite of a protest by Dr Armes, had agreed to ask his firm to overhaul the cathedral organ and provide an estimate for the work which he hopes will make up for his “great disappointment over the old organ”; he is looking forward to the choir having to cope without the organ, “it may perhaps wake them up a bit”.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/7  4 December 1903
Report by Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham (depiction of their works in the heading), on the condition of the cathedral organ, reporting that the main parts are sound but the condition of the mechanism and moving parts “is undoubtedly serious” and describing the mechanism as “old-fashioned” whose restoration would be a “waste of time and money”, and recommending its complete replacement, making five specific recommendations, costed at £1300-£1400.
Paper, 3f

DCL CADD 382/8  [December 1903]
Note by Philip Armes approving Messrs Harrison’s estimate of £1400 hoping it will allow the three additional stops he had originally specified for the great organ.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/9  23 December 1903
Letter from John Gibson, chapter clerk, to Messrs Harrison & Harrison, organ builders, Durham, reporting that chapter had agreed to accept their 4 December estimate for a new mechanism, and their 21 December suggestion of three stops for the great organ, with the total not to exceed £1400, and including a copy chapter minute of 21 November 1903.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/10  [c.1904]
Specification of the Willis organ of 1876, made by William Ellis, (appointed assistant organist 1904), with pencil annotations of Arthur Harrison 1904/5.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/11  1 January 1904
Letter from Philip Armes at Durham to D.W. Harrison enclosing (not now present) and discussing his stop combinations for the proposed new organ and apologising if “this is at all "off-side"”.
Paper, 2f
DCL CADD 382/12  25 January 1904
Letter from John Gibson, chapter clerk, to Messrs Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham, enclosing (no longer present) their part of the agreement for the repair of the organ.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/13  19 February 1904
Letter from Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham (works depicted in the letter heading), to Dr Kitchin, dean of Durham, offering assistance with locating the small temporary organ when the cathedral organ is dismantled, and suggesting, in the work on the cathedral organ, moving the solo organ from above the great organ, to improve the latter's sound, and putting it in a swell box, and suggesting also that improvements could be made to the pedal and choir organs at the same time as Dr Armes' proposed additions to the great organ, who approves of their suggestions.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/14  20 February 1904
Letter from [Dean] G.W. Kitchin, the Deanery, Durham, to Mr Harrison reporting that consideration of his letter by chapter had been put off until the 5 March meeting as Dr Kynaston was away, but that the mood seemed to be to accept his proposals for making the choir organ complete, even at an additional £100 cost; the small organ would be left to Dr Armes's judgement though he may well rather be without it.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/15  7 March 1904
Letter from John Gibson, chapter clerk, to Messrs Harrison & Harrison, organ builders, Durham, reporting that chapter had agreed on 5 March to accept their suggestions of 19 February, with the original £1400 estimate still to stand, and that the solo organ be moved to the adjoining arch on the west of the organ at a cost not to exceed £115, as in their letter on 2 March.
Paper, 2f

DCL CADD 382/16  1 April 1904
Note from [Canon] V.K. Cooper at 16 South Bailey, Duham, to Messrs Harrison and Harrison suggesting a correction to their specification about the Willis organ being in place on 17 October 1876 not 1877.
Card, 1f
DCL CADD 382/17  4 April 1904
Letter from R. Meyrick Roberts at 17 Hurlingham Court Mansions, London, to Mr Harrison, apologising for his last letter being written in a hurry, agreeing with him about certain changes not being made at present, he does not know Dr Armes but he has sung his “Give Ear” anthem which is magnificent, then discussing his proposals for organ stops - even if he admits to being unfamiliar with the Durham organ though he knows what a Willis of that type is like - especially a proposed violoncello stop and other proposals for the choir organ, the need for chorus reeds, otherwise he commends his design, the space problem can be overcome, five years' experience of magnificent organs has taught him what an ideal church organ is like and a complete choir is invaluable, looking forward to playing his Whitehaven organ, he would like to talk over the Durham specification thoroughly, also discusses the nomenclature of stops, he tries to imagine the last movement of Mendelssohn's 1st Sonata on his specification, he would like a copy of the specification and asks if he can cite it as an instrument “systematically” designed, he suggests that Westminster cathedral and Carlisle organs might soon need his attention, and then more thoughts on stops.
Paper, 8f

DCL CADD 382/18  15 April 1904
Newspaper cutting from The Durham County Advertiser describing the cathedral organ and the proposed work on it.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/19  16 April 1904
Letter from R. Meyrick Roberts at 17 Hurlingham Court Mansions to Mr Harrison enclosing (?a specification/article on the proposed organ, not now present) for Musical Opinion and suggesting that the specification does not appear in any other musical paper before the June number.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/20  21 November 1904
Letter from John Gibson, chapter clerk, to Messrs Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham, reporting chapter's disappointment at the delay with the organ work and urging that it be completed with as much speed as possible.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/21  9 May 1905
Letter from John Gibson, chapter clerk, to Messrs Harrison & Harrison, organ builders of Durham, reporting chapter's acceptance of 6 May of their offer of 4 May to tune and maintain the organ for £40 per annum, independent of Dr Armes' weekly tuning of the reeds.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 382/22  26 May 1905

Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/53-55 14 May 1937
Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Dean [Alington]: reports the views of Ferguson [of Quaritch] on likely sales, and whether now is a good time to publish such a volume, possible ways of reducing costs by reducing the number of colour plates, he needs to do his own marketing, based on Canterbury's experience, he could not make payment of his bill conditional on sales, a prospectus and collotype would help, encloses the following estimates.
Paper, 3f
Two estimates for the volume, for colour (10 and 15 respectively) and 45 monochrome photographs of various manuscripts, printing and binding.

Copy of Johnson's letter and estimates as in the next two above.

Letter from Dean Alington of The Deanery, Durham, to Roger [Mynors]: “Oh that Press”, outlines his position re costs and the price for the volume, concerned that there is no money for Mynors, discusses publishers and publishing.

Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Dean [Alington]: he has yet to talk to Ferguson but he will send the dummy to the dean and admits that the dean is right about 3 guineas looking like a remainder price.

Letter from Dean Alington of The Deanery, Durham, to Roger [Mynors]: reports that Johnson admits that the dean is right about 5 guineas as the price, keen for Mynors to do the work but discusses his possible remuneration.

Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Roger Mynors: discusses a colour plate for a prospectus, the dean will bring the manuscript.

Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Dean [Alington]: suggests monochrome for the prospectus as colour is too expensive.

Letter from Dean Alington of The Deanery, Durham, to Roger [Mynors]: asks his opinion on a suitable monochrome for the prospectus, suggests an estimate from Percy Lund Humphries who did The Canterbury Psalter might be useful “to wave in Johnson's face”.

DCL CADD 390/69 3 June 1957
Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Roger Mynors: the dean's talk of further expenses seems to rule out a colour image in the prospectus so can he suggest the best manuscript for a monochrome one so that the dean can bring it to Oxford.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/70 4 June [1937]
Letter from Dean Alington of The Deanery, Durham, to Roger [Mynors]: suggesting they have another colour image instead of the one from the psalter (A.II) as the colours were faded.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/71 5 June 1937
Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Dean [Alington]: a formal letter in response to their formal estimate will suffice as an agreement for them as printers, unlike the elaborate agreements of publishers.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/72 14 June [1937]
Letter from Dean Alington of The Deanery, Durham, to Roger [Mynors]: he has chosen St Nicholas in preference to the psalter or Cassiodorus, feeling very grandpaternal re his contacts with the warden of Radley and Master of Wellington.
Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/73 21 June 1937
Letter from John Johnson of Oxford University Press to Roger Mynors: the dean has cleared the way and they now need to collaborate over the prospectus. Endorsed with notes [by Mynors] of a meeting re the volume and especially the prospectus.
Paper, 1f

Copy letter from [John Johnson of Oxford University Press] to Christopher Hussey: happy for him to use any photographs from the Mynors book for his article on the cathedral library, sends a prospectus for him to select from. Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/92  23 November 1938
Copy letter from [John Johnson of Oxford University Press] to C.F. Battiscombe: encloses the next, getting uneasy about Country Life, suggests it might be better if Mynors wrote their article as more of a review so that no one stole “your particular thunder”. Paper, 1f

DCL CADD 390/93  22 November 1938
Copy letter from Christopher Hussey of Country Life to John Johnson: grateful for the prospectus, would like to see the other plates, perhaps he could see Mynors's chapter on the history of the library or Mynors could even write the article. Paper, 1f
Letter from C.F. Battiscombe of the Chapter Office, Durham, to [John] Johnson: he has suggested to Christopher Hussey that Mynors could perhaps write on the manuscripts with Hussey doing the library's history and architectural features, such an article would be a very good advertisement.

Paper, 1f

Letter from C.F. Battiscombe of the Chapter Office, Durham, to [John] Johnson: Hussey has suggested that Mynors could “write a note on some of the outstanding contents” for an article to come out in the spring.

Paper, 1f

Letter from C.F. Battiscombe of the Chapter Office, Durham, to Roger Mynors: [encloses the next], Christopher Hussey has taken architectural photographs for a Country Life article on the library, could Mynors contribute 1000 words on the outstanding contents, including the incunabula.

Paper, 1f

Copy letter from Christopher Hussey of Country Life to C.F. Battiscombe: could Mynors write a note on the library and some of its outstanding contents in 1000 words to incorporate in his article for publication in the spring.

Paper, 1f
